CONGRATULATING WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR., SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS

Messrs. CHAPMAN and STIEFEL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 11, 1941.

Whereas, The Department of Internal Affairs Bulletin, the official publication of the Department of Internal Affairs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, now rounding out its ninth volume and issued monthly in 15,000 exemplars, has recently been enlarged under the experienced administrative and editorial guidance of Honorable William S. Livengood, Jr., Secretary of Internal Affairs; and

Whereas, Said Bulletin contains, inter alia:

(a) Various informative articles on local government in the counties, cities, boroughs and townships, using the Department's statistics as a background for interpretation, illustration and comparison, whereby local government officials may be inspired to constantly improve methods and services;

(b) Educational articles from the Topographic and Geologic Survey, dealing with the geologic history of Pennsylvania, its natural wonders, mineral resources and development of the same from earliest times to the present;

(c) Articles dealing with the development of industry, especially stressing the part our democratic system of free enterprise and individual initiative has had in the building of the great center of civilization and prosperity which is our Pennsylvania of today;

(d) Articles of especial value to schools, colleges and libraries dealing with the historical background and present status of our industrial and local government system;

(e) Many items of news relating to local government development in Pennsylvania:

(f) Articles stressing the duties of the Bureau of Standard Weights and Measures, with the object of seeing to it that full weight and full measure are delivered to the consumers of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, By means of these articles said Bulletin spreads the Gospel of Pennsylvania, of its business, industry, history, and government in every state of the Union and many foreign countries; and

Whereas, The crystalline precision of the material appearing in the Bulletin constitutes said publication as a quarry of valuable primary sources for persons engaged in the research study of our state government; and

Whereas, The publication of the many-sided articles, as enumerated herein above, inures to the cultural progress of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, now, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania express its commendation to the Secretary of Internal Affairs, William S. Livengood, Jr. for the constant progress of the Bulletin, the high caliber of the material contained therein, and its constant expansion.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to address the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria will proceed.

Mr. HALUSKA. First, Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. GELTZ. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Now, Mr. President, that we are about to enter the seventh month of this session, and once again complete another week, I would like to ask the Republican Floor Leader whether or not he has any knowledge as to when we are going to adjourn sine die.

Mr. GELTZ. I have not, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, is it not a fact that in previous sessions—I have served in enough regular and special sessions to know—that we always had knowledge of a resolution being presented two or three weeks before the final date of adjournment was set.

Mr. GELTZ. I do not know about that, Mr. President, but this has been a very unusual session in many respects and it may be unusual in that respect also.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, as one member of this body, I would like to have some information if that is possible from some source, whether we are going to adjourn tomorrow, as has been rumored. I think we should know, to prepare ourselves. If we are coming back next week certainly it is useless to be here tonight, working until four or five o'clock in the morning, coming here in a fog, and we find new amendments being prepared on which none of us have any knowledge of what is going on. We are not physically fit, we are not mentally fit to pass upon important pieces of legislation in the wee hours of the morning, and I think somebody ought to know whether we are going to adjourn this week or whether we are going to come back next week. If we are going to come back next week we should adjourn this afternoon. Leave us go back home to take care of our interests and then come back here Monday and finish up in an orderly manner, but to work here until three or four o'clock in the morning with a handful of members does not make sense.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am wondering whether the gentleman from Somerset might have knowledge as to the date of adjournment sine die. Mr. Ealy, do you have any knowledge as to the date we will adjourn sine die.

Mr. EALY. I am hoping it will be possible to adjourn tomorrow.

Mr. HALUSKA. Is there any truth to the rumor I have heard, that it is intended to pass a resolution to adjourn tomorrow at noon, rest over Sunday and come back Monday, to continue.

Mr. EALY. No one has told me of such a resolution, Mr. President.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise on a question of what I can truthfully say is personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I want to explain first of all, Mr. President, and apologize for my absence yesterday. For the past six weeks I have been torn literally—and not figuratively—between life and duty, and it was because of a situation at home which called me yesterday rather hurriedly that I was obliged to leave, and because I anticipated that, I suggested that two bills in which I was interested as a Senator, and not personally, should not be passed, so that if there were any intentions of passing them I might have an opportunity to say a few words concerning them. Those two bills were Senate Bills Nos. 510 and 512. They were heard before the Banking Committee on two occasions, on both of which occasions we had the pleasure and the benefit of the advice of a man whom I respect in this state as an authority on building and loan associations, Mr. Horace Eshbach, who has charge of that department.

These bills concern insurance of building and loan associations and create a fund for the purpose of guaranteeing to the public that their money would be insured. We were told by Mr. Eshbach that he was not quite sure, in fact he felt the bill as drawn would not guarantee the safety of the fund, and while he believed that some measures should be adopted to eventually get insurance for state building and loan associations, he did not think this bill was surrounded by sufficient protection to warrant it being passed in its then form, and because of that advice the committee unanimously postponed action on the bills.

On another occasion some people had asked the Banking Department whether they would not reconsider the matter. We had another meeting after that and then after the Banking Department would express no further opinion on it, the bill was indefinitely postponed—as we term it defeated. I think the statements I make in that connection can be borne out.

About either Monday of this week or at the end of last week's session, the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Becker, suggested, for a reason which I considered sufficient at the time, that he would like to have these bills have one or two readings, but he assured me it was not intended to report these bills out for final passage, and that there was not time to call a meeting, he so told the committee, and he asked whether I would consent to that procedure, and he would assume responsibility that the bills would not pass, and I agreed to that.

Yesterday, before I left, I was afraid that Mr. Becker, the gentleman from Lebanon, might be engaged otherwise, and I called the facts to the attention of two persons, the Majority Floor Leader, and the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Cox, not because I did not want the bills to pass or objected to their passing, but because I wanted the understanding brought to Mr .Becker's attention, in case he were not here, because I was confident he would keep his word, if he did not forget it.

I had no personal interest in these bills, excepting as a Senator I would have liked to have had my position on the bills recorded, and I certainly felt I was entitled, under the circumstances I have just stated, not to have those bills passed in my absence. I have no feeling of resentment about it; I can understand in the last few days of a session anything like that is liable to happen.

Now, Mr. President, for my absence yesterday during what I consider a very important time in the Senate, I apologize and offer the explanation that it was beyond my control. For six weeks I have had a condition at home which has been rather trying, but I shall endeavor to continue without interruption my stay in the session for the balance of the week, which I hope will bring an end to this session.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, in view of the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and in view of the action last night, I feel some explanation is necessary. While I have been interested in building and loan associations for quite some years I really did not know these bills were on the Calendar until possibly yesterday. I am not a member of the Banking Committee, and that is possibly the only reason why the bills were not brought to my attention, but a number of my colleagues to the left last night pressed for action and after the debate I made it my business to inquire of an attorney representing possibly the largest building and loan association in the state as to what attitude, if any, he took as to whether or not these bills were favored by the building and loan associations of the state, and he told me that the bills were favored by the Pennsylvania State League of Building and Loan Associations; that there were however some few individual associations which were not in favor of the bills, but that the bills were approved.

The time being so late and the argument having been raised by several of my colleagues on the left, that unless action were taken last night there was the possibility that the bills would not pass. I personally considered it advisable to take action, but I certainly did not mean any affront to my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I remember back in 1896, William Jennings Bryan advocated insurance on deposits in banks, and I heard orators up and down this country reviling him and calling him an anarchist and all the vile names that he could be called, and yet after many years we now have insurance on federal bank deposits up to five thousand dollars, and I am not surprised that since the federal government has been so concerned about homes and home owners that they have determined in Washington to provide for federal home loan organizations and provide for the guaranteeing of share holders in those organizations up to five thousand dollars, so that leaves the building and loan associations of Pennsylvania working under a handicap.

If a man was going to borrow money from a building and loan association he would prefer to borrow from an organization where deposits are guaranteed up to five thousand dollars.

Of course, as I understand it, Mr. President, the Banking Department had some opposition to these bills at first, but when they investigated them they found out they were sound and approved them, and it then developed last night that these two bills were on our Calendar and unless they passed last night they certainly had not a chance, under the present understanding, of ever becoming law. They were delayed until the end of the Calendar and then passed, and we found then that the House had adjourned for the day, and while the bills are over there, as I understand it now, unless we have a session next week, these bills will only have two readings in the House. Therefore I feel under the circumstances, and because of the great importance of these bills to the home owners and people who are desirous of securing homes in this state, and the struggle they have gone through in the last ten years, many of them losing their homes and their life savings, that every encouragement possible should be given to any man who wants to secure a home in Pennsylvania, and therefore, Mr. President, I feel the very fact that they can not become law unless we have a session next week, that alone is important enough to have a session next week.

We also passed in this body several so-called insurance bills. Forty-five other states came to the rescue of insurance companies and the people who are holding policies with insurance companies; because of the change in industrial conditions and the loaning of money. These bills were passed here several weeks ago. They are now over in the House, and I say to you those bills ought to be brought out by the House and acted upon by the members of the House on the floor.

The reapportionment bill has not seen the light of day or at least enough light to give any indication that it is going to pass, and I feel that those three measures alone ought to warrant us staying here next week for another session.

I say to you, we should listen to the two hundred insurance companies of this state, and to the Banking Department and the Building and Loan Associations of this state, and to the press of this state which is demanding that we put through a reapportionment bill, those three alone should keep us here next week.

HOUSE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 67 CALLED UP FROM THE TABLE

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up from the table Senate Resolution, Serial No. 67, introduced by Mr. Edmonds on July 9, 1941, and laid on the table, and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

EXECUTIVE BOARD TO GIVE CAREFUL CONSIDERATION TO SALARIES AND CLASSIFICATION OF ADMINISTRATIVE EMPLOYES OF COMMONWEALTH

In the Senate, July 9, 1941.

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in its administrative departments, exclusive of the Auditor General and State Treasurer, gives employment to approxmately 20,118 men and women whose services are utilized by the Commonwealth, and whose loyalty and efficiency are great assets to the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The Administrative Code of 1929 created an Executive Board consisting of the Governor and six other heads of administrative departments to be designated from time to time by the Governor; and

Whereas, The said Code entrusts the following duties to the said Board as set forth in the language of the Code:

"Section 709. Executive Board.—Subject to the provisions of this act, the Executive Board shall have the power:

(a) To standardize the qualifications for employment, and all titles, salaries, and wages, of persons employed by the administrative departments, boards, and commissions, except the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department. In establishing such standards the board may:

(1) Take into consideration the location of the work and the conditions under which the service is rendered,

(2) Establishing different standards for different kinds, grades and classes of similar work or service, etc.;" and

Whereas, It is evident from economic and social statistics that a shift is occuring in the cost of living which will affect all of the employes of the State, and particularly those whose salaries are in the lowest brackets; and

Whereas, The revision of the said salaries in an administrative function to be performed by the Executive Board as set forth in the Act of Assembly above cited; now therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate of Pennsylvania, That the Executive Board of the Commonwealth be and it is hereby requested to give careful consideration to the salaries and classification of employes in the administrative departments with reference to changes in the cost of living in this Commonwealth, and that the said Executive Board be and it is hereby requested to provide at all times such salaries as will insure just compensation for the service performed, and the maintenance of the American standard of living.

On the Question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this resolution, the gentleman from Montgomery, Senator Edmonds.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to inquire of the sponsor of the resolution whether, if the Senate passes this resolution it will result in abandoning action on House Bill No. 909, which would increase the salaries of the employees of the Liquor Control Board?

Mr. EDMONDS. My answer to that, Mr. President, would be "no," although I am not a prophet.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have no objection to this resolution. I think it is innocuous, but I do not think it is an answer to the Liquor Control Board situation. I think there is an entirely different situation between that department, if we may call it such, and the rest of the departments of the state.

That department earns from fifteen to thirty million dollars a biennium; it is a business and for years that department has been employing people at what I consider a low rate of pay.

I realize the difficulty in passing a resolution such as this, because of the psychological effect upon the other departments, and I would not like the passage of this resolution to be the forerunner for the creation of organizations in other departments for the purpose of bringing about the same results. I think the only value of this resolution is that it would indicate to the other departments and to the people who have the duty of investigating salaries and trying to make them more reasonable under the situations which arise, it may attract their attention and put them both on notice that something will be done about that; but that is an entirely different situation, as I see it, from the situation presented by the Liquor Control Board.

When these people come here with their signs asking for only twenty-seven dollars a week, those of us who have had any occasion to go into liquor stores realize these people spend a full week of hard work, and they are getting less than twenty-seven dollars a week.

The Liquor Control Board could have attended to that matter themselves or brought it to the attention of the Legislature, if they could not have taken care of it.

I am going to vote for this resolution in the hope that those who have some power to change the situation throughout all the departments in the state will be put on notice we want them to do something about it, but I am going to protest against any failure to act and I hope when we do act, we will act favorably on the bill increasing salaries of employes of the Liquor Control Board. It seems to me although we can object to telling other people who have respnsibilities for departments or businesses what to do, if those departments or businesses do not do it we have no other alternative but to do it ourselves.

I think all of us ought to know that salaries paid by the Commonwealth to people who come here from other cities and counties to live are not conductive of good morals, and I say that without any intent to reflect upon anybody, but to put the Senate on notice that at least I have bumped into that condition and I think other members have. You can not bring people here from out of town on a nine hundred dollar a year salary and expect them to stay honest and decent, and I hope we will do something about it. They started out with nine hundred dollars and until we did something about it nothing was done by anybody else, and we eventually got it increased to $1,020 per annum as a minimum, which is about twenty dollars a week.

Now, Mr. President, we know how far twenty dollars a week will go in the City of Harrisburg, considering the hotel expenses and meals that these people who come from out of town have to pay, and it strikes me we ought to do both pass this resolution and pass the Liquor Control Bill.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, without referring exactly to the merits of the resolution, I want to express my admiration for the fine legal ability of the Democratic Floor Leader and say that nobody except as good a lawyer as he could find a way to draw the very fine distinction he has drawn between principles to believe in and the action he is going to take.

I want to enter my protest against anyone saying on this floor that in Pennsylvania honesty and decency and respectability are measured by the amount of money that anybody gets. That is not so. It is not so, either in Harrisburg or any other place, that respectability and decency and correct behavior are in any way measured by the amount of money that anybody receives.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, may I merely suggest that I did not say honesty and decency were dependent on salaries. I said low salaries are not conducive to good morals and clean living. I reiterate that statement, even though it be on the floor of this Senate. My experience has taught me that.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, this resolution was framed as the result of information that had come to me that there were certain other classes or groups of employes of the state that were organizing for the purpose of presenting their claims to the General Assembly.

As one of those who was in the General Assembly prior to the Administrative Code of 1923, I knew what that involved, and I knew it meant snap decisions without adequate testimony and without a sufficient study of the facts upon which that question of salary action could be justified. It seemed to me, therefore, it was worth while to direct attention to the orderly method that had been provided by the act of 1923, which sometimes may be forgotten in the lapse of time, an orderly method whereby cases of this kind might be considered and eventually justice be done, not only with regard to one particular group but with regard to all groups that were in the same general situation. It was from that point of view the resolution was framed, and I hope from that point of view it will appeal to my colleagues.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Yes, Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I believe in what the resolution starts out to be. I just want to ask the gentleman from Montgomery, does he believe, by voting for this resolution, it relieves him of the necessity, I might say of the responsibility, of voting for a bill directly increasing the salaries of the Liquor Control Board employes.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I have my own opinion about that bill and I will express it at the time the bill itself is before us. I do not believe in mixing legislation in this way, but at least this resolution is correct so far as it goes, and from that point of view, I do not see how anyone could vote against it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman for his answer. I might say it would be a trifle unfair to come before us with the fine sentiments expressed by the gentleman from Montgomery urging passage of this resolution, and then when a bill comes up which specifically does what he intends to do by the resolution and knows he can not do by resolution, then defeat the bill on the ground that they have passed a resolution. I should say the proper thing to do would be to postpone action upon this resolution until we decide what we want to do about the bill.

I TION THAT RESOLUTION BE LAID ON TABLE

Mr. DENT. Therefore, Mr. President, I move that the resolution be laid on the table temporarily.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. I second the motion, Mr. President.

Mr. COX. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, before a vote is taken on that motion, I would like to state that it was our intention to call the bill in question up for action immediately following the action on this resolution. However, Mr. President, if this motion is persisted in, then we will ask that the bill go over in order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that is the sort of tactics I do not like. What is the difference whether you act on this now or wait a few minutes and then act? Your point is one that is very finely drawn—if I persist in my motion to lay the resolution upon the table, then you are going to defeat the bill. What is the idea?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, the gentleman himself has answered the question. He says, what difference does it make which is done first? Therefore, we would like the motion to adopt the Edmonds resolution voted on now, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will tell the gentleman from Allegheny the difference, from my point of view. My point of view is this, that if the resolution is passed now, by a unanimous vote, which I assume it would be, because we all want to do what the resolution wants to do, if we do that now, then when it comes time to vote on the bill you do not have to do it, because you have passed the resolution. I am willing to vote on the bill and stand up and be counted on it, and then if the bill passes, we will discuss whether or not we will pass this resolution. I am not going to substitute the resolution for the bill by my vote.

Therefore I ask that we take first things first and the bill is first.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I would like to suggest to the Senator from Westmoreland that his fears are unjustified. We must have order here, and if the members on both sides will permit the majority party to proceed, I think that we will consider all of these bills and every man here will have afforded to him an opportunity to vote one way or another on all of the bills on the Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the motion to lay the resolution on the table.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WADE. I rise to a point of order, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cumberland will state his point of order.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, did not the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, call up the resolution and move its immediate adoption.

The PRESIDENT. Yes, but a motion to lay it on the table is always in order.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny moved to take the resolution from the table and moved its immediate adoption.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. WADE. Then, Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland moved that the resolution be laid on the table.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have been assured this is a matter which has received serious consideration on the other side and there is no plan to supplant the bill by the resolution, so we will wait a few minutes.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. DENT. Therefore, Mr. President, I will withdraw my motion to lay the resolution upon the table.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. I withdraw my seconding, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 230, entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 414), entitled "State Personal Property Tax Act," as previously reenacted and amended, by continuing the State personal property tax and the emergency rate of tax on script bonds, certificates and evidence of indebtedness, assumed or on which interest is paid by corporations, for a further limited period of time.

House Bill No. 234, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the fifteenth day of July, one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven (Pamphlet Laws, two hundred ninety-two), entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation," by increasing the rate of tax for a further limited period of time.

House Bill No. 663, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth to negotiate temporary emergency loans to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one evidenced by tax anticipation notes secured by and payable from current revenues levied assessed collectible and accruing during such two fiscal years defining the powers and duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto providing for the payment of interest on and the repayment of such loans and making an appropriation

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

SENATE BILL No. 1121, (HOUSE BILL No. 909), ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE CALLED UP

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 1121, (House Bill No. 909), on third reading and final passage on page 11 of the Calendar.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1121, (House Bill No. 909), as follows:

An Act to further amend section three hundred three of and to add section three hundred seven of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 15 1933-34) entitled as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale manufacture possession transportation importation traffic in and use of alcohol and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents the Department of Public Instruction other officers of the State government courts and district attorneys authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises and the granting of licenses subject to local option to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided prohibiting certain sales or practices in connection with and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others providing for the forfeiture of certain property making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees and imposing penalties" by providing for the appointment of assistant managers in Pennsylvania Liquor Stores and by establishing minimum salaries for certain employes of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board working in Pennsylvania Liquor Stores

Section 1 Section three hundred three of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 15 1933-34) entitled as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the sale manufacture possession transportation importation traffic in and use of alcohol and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents the Department of Public Instruction other officers of the State government courts and district attorneys authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises and the granting of licenses subject to local option to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided prohibiting certain sales or practices in connection with and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others providing for the forfeiture of certain property making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees and imposing penalties" as last reenacted by the act approved the sixteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1762) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 303 Management of Pennsylvania Liquor Stores Every Pennsylvania Liquor Store shall be conducted by a person appointed in the manner provided in this article who shall be known as the "manager" and who shall under the directions of the board be responsible for carrying out the provisions of this act and the regulations adopted by the board under this act as far as they relate to the conduct of such stores If there is one or more than one employe subordinate to the manager in any Pennsylvania Liquor Store one of such subordinate employes shall be known as the "assistant manager" who shall be appointed in the manner provided in this article and who shall perform the functions of the manager in the absence of the latter

Section 2 Said act is hereby amended by adding thereto after section three hundred six a new section to read as follows

Section 307 Minimum Salaries of Certain Employes of Pennsylvania Liquor Stores The minimum salary for all "managers" shall be not less than eighteen hundred and sixty dollars per annum The minimum salary for all "assistant managers" shall be not less than sixteen hundred and twenty dollars per annum The minimum salary for all other employes handling stock or moneys shall be not less than thirteen hundred and eighty dollars per annum

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, with reference to Senate Bill No. 1121, I am very free to state to my colleagues I expect to vote against this bill. I shall vote against it because it is the wrong way to go about getting an increase in salaries and it is a way, if once encouraged by the General Assembly, that will cause infinite difficulty in the administrative service of the state. If "A" group organizes for a particular purpose, then group "B" may also organize for another purpose; if group "A" wants a five dollar increase then group "B" will want a ten dollar increase; then group "C" will come into the matter and then we will have a flood of applications of this kind.

Mr. President, I have been interested sufficiently in this matter to confer with members of the Liquor Control Board, who have this department under their control, and I find that two or three months ago they started an inquiry, which has been conducted by their supervisors and their chiefs, with reference to remuneration. There are, I think, six or eight states in the union in which the state takes control of the sale of liquor. They have obtained statistics from those states as to the rate of pay of those who serve in the stores, and the various privileges that are given to them. All of this data is going to be made the subject of a report to the Executive Board and when the Executive Board shall have received that report they will have before them the conditions in the liquor stores. Alongside of those conditions they can place the conditions in other lines of employment by the state and decide just where the urgency is and what can be done.

To my mind that is the only orderly way to proceed with a question of this kind. Anything else involves the preference of one group which is organized over other groups that are not organized and it seems to me that would be bound to lead to chaos in any administration.

I have confidence personally in the Executive Board. I have confidence in the Liquor Board and I have confidence that if those in control of this situation in any way feel that twenty-three dollars a week, or whatever the salary may be, is inadequate compensation for a high grade employe and that there ought to be regulated increases given from time to time to reward those who are more experienced in the service, and thus retain their services for the Commonwealth, they will be governed accordingly, but this is one of the things we can not accomplish by an act of Assembly, particularly an act of Assembly that merely raises the minimum and makes no distinction all along the line except by raising the minimum, that to my mind is impossible and therefore I shall vote against the bill on the general grounds that it is a disorderly way of accomplishing a purpose when an orderly way has been pointed out, and I think supported by unanimous vote of the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that is exactly what I feared would happen when we voted on the resolution; the gentleman from Montgomery has stated that an orderly way has been pointed out by unanimous vote on the resolution. I want to say the whole truth of the matter has not been told by the gentleman from Montgomery—I do not believe he knows the whole truth; I do not think he would deliberately hide anything, but he speaks about a seven-state survey of the facts.

There are eleven states that have monopolies in the liquor control business, and out of eighteen states altogether, there are seven that pay less than Pennsylvania, but ten of them pay more, considerably more than Pennsylvania, and so they are using the figures of seven states in order to make it look as though Pennsylvania is in an equitable position in the matter. Maybe it is the wrong thing to do; maybe it is the wrong method of attacking the problem, but will the gentleman from Montgomery point out to me what is the right method, when we have a stubborn board that will not take up the cudgels and go out and swing them in behalf of state employes who are receiving a salary of twenty-three dollars a week?

I do not believe a salary of twenty-three dollars a week is sufficient. I do not think the Legislature ought to go into the salary setting business, but I think they are doing it fairly, because they are only establishing a minimum; I mean, they are saying to the people of Pennsylvania, we do not believe twenty-three dollars is enough per week and so we are giving a slight increase to try to make up for the increased cost of living in the State of Pennsylvania. Those who are getting over twenty-seven dollars a week do not have to pay one cent more for the necessities of life than those who are getting twenty-three dollars a week, and so we are letting that become purely a business proposition. I do not think we ought to raise salaries of those who are receiving nine thousand, seven thousand or six thousand dollars a year. We are dealing in the necessities of life on the basis of a standard of living, so we are only raising the minimum wage, we are saying to these liquor store employes whom we all know are underpaid—if any private industry in Pennsylvania had a monopoly such as this and paid the wages that the Liquor Control Board pays, there would be more speeches on this floor than you have ever heard in your life about exploiters running the business. We are the exploiters of those persons working in the Liquor Control Board for twenty-three dollars a week, and I hope enough of you Republican members over there will support us on this side in giving this slight wage raise to every deserving employe in the Liquor Control Board.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, when the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Farrell, introduced those two bills raising the salaries of firemen and policemen in Philadelphia, I had the hardihood to move to recommit those bills, and then within three days I found it was rather difficult for me to park my car in the streets of Philadelphia because some officer would tell my man to move on, he did not like his boss.

Now, Mr. President, this House Bill No. 909 has become a household number in my house. I have received not only letters and postcards but I have had perennial visits from the very attractive employes, liquor control clerks—I like them very much—but at the same time I had sense enough not to commit myself. There are certain very intelligent gentlemen sitting on this side who did commit themselves and are going to vote for this bill, and I might say I am very sorry they did commit themselves, because it seems to me when we turn down requests for salary raises from the firemen and policemen, it is very inconsistent for us to do it for a single group of men like this. It is like the Game and Fish Commissions—we never get any employes of the Fish or the Game Commission who can not get what they want from the Commission, and then come and tell teacher about it, and go over the heads of the Game Commission or the Fish Commission. These liquor clerks—of course, I can not apply home rule to them because they all seem to come in from the outside, according to Senator Shapiro, and live at expensive hotels but the rule is there just the same, and if the liquor clerks have no place to go, no place they can call home, they at least have the home rule idea, they can go to their own Liquor Control Board or to the Executive Board. These Boards are set up for that very purpose. If we grant them this increase, and I would like them to be paid a fair rate, but there is no use of these gentlemen getting emotional about it; we all feel the same way without taking the time to be emotional, but if we do this for this group we are not only opening the door—this is one of those hotel revolving doors which goes around and around and around. We have sat in the Republican caucus and heard arguments over the bill and we have spent literally hours talking about it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not want to add anything to what has already been said but in answer to the gentleman from Germantown, I just want to tell him that when I become emotional I am thinking of a man earning twenty-three dollars a week who has to pay eighty cents a pound for beefsteak and forty cents for potatoes and thirty-five cents for flour and in the same proportion for all the other little necessities of life that these people have to buy. It is a very nice thing when you and I can go into our larder and in there have provisions for an entire army, because you and I can go out and buy them, but I want to say that these employes have to feed their families and the difference between twenty-seven and twenty-three dollars a week will help them meet the increased costs of living.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I am willing to concede that there is great inequality in the salaries paid to employes on Capitol Hill, but that probably should be the subject of investigation by a legislative committee at some future date.

Last Saturday a group of young men who were clerks or managers of liquor stores came to call upon me. I was agreeably surprised at their appearance and their intelligence. I realize the fact that we should keep the standards of employes in these liquor stores at a high point. Fortunately, in my county, however, they expect a person to say what he thinks and be willing to stand up for his principles at all times, and I let those young men know, while I had an appreciative point of view respecting their cause, and was willing to do what I could to help them get a increase, that I would not vote for this bill. I do not expect to be in the next regular session of the Senate; my term will close at the end of 1942, and I will not have the worry and the trouble of another regular session of this Senate. I am telling you men who will be here that if you open the door to this sort of thing your peace of mind will be gone from the beginning of the session until the end of it.

The right thing to do is to leave this matter up to the Executive Board, and as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Woodward has pointed out, there are other commissions that are paid out of their own funds or paid from profits realized from their own activities. They are in the same position as this Liquor Board Commission, and it does not help to say that this is not costing the state anything, because it is taking the money of the Commonwealth just as much as though it were paid directly from the general fund or from other receipts.

I believe these young men should have increases in salaries, in some cases, but I think this bill does not do it in the right way, it does not provide for distinction between various classes of employes of the stores. Even if the bill should pass, Mr. President, the whole principle of the bill is wrong, and if this legislature once starts to provide for salaries of the groups upon this Hill, you will not only have an ocassional pressure group coming in here, but you will be besieged from the very day the next session starts until it closes. I am not afraid to vote against this bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, of course I disagree with the remarks made by the gentleman from Somerset, and the gentleman from Montgomery. They have a right to their own opinions, of course, when they say they are very fearful that other groups or various groups might come before the Legislature in times to come and ask for a raise. That possibly is true. However, we are elected for that purpose, to judge them all upon their own merits, and I think we can stand up and be counted and if some group comes in here in 1943, 1944 and 1945, we shall judge them upon their own merits.

I have been informed, when this bill first passed, under the Pinchot administration, that the examinations taken at that time were taken with the distinct understanding that these positions called for a minimum salary of $1,380, and the various men who are now employed in these liquor stores took the examinations.

However, after they passed the civil service examination and they received their appointments they were then informed by the Pinchot administration that they were to go to work at a salary of $1,020. Later on, during the Earle administration, there was some adjustments up to $1,140. After that I am informed that the various members representing the liquor employes made a call on the present Liquor Control Board, last fall, and they were informed there that they were in the wrong place, that they should take their problem to the Legislature. Now, we tell them that once again they have come to the wrong place, they should go back to the Board.

Well, I believe you all know my position, that I am pretty much tired of these various departments given all the powers to make all their own rules and regulations. I think that is the problem of this Legislature, to adjust these rules within themselves, and I am satisfied that we have members on both sides who are very much open minded upon this question and will vote accordingly to their own wishes. I trust, of course, they will vote for the bill.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, it was my intention to vote against this bill, because I was convinced that in principle the bill is wrong. I am more convinced than ever now, Mr. President, since I find the Senators on the other side of the Senate, Senator Shapiro and Senator Dent, saying in effect that maybe this bill is wrong, or in other words, Mr. President, maybe this is bad legislation and should not be passed. If that is what they mean, and that is what both said, I wonder what the real reason is, then, for their voting for this bill, if they are going to vote for it, and they have both said they are.

I think the proper way to go about this is by means of a resolution or by means of something being done to let those who have the authority to set these salaries know that we believe the pay which these employes are getting is too low at this time. I think they should receive an increase, even though, Mr. President, they do have many advantages that the ordinary citizen of this state does not have; they have the protection of civil service, they have steady employment and they have had that steady employment during most of the years of this depression, but notwithstanding those facts, we still believe these employes are entitled to an increase in pay They have certain responsibilities, they have important positions and they should receive salaries commensurate with those responsibilities and those positions.

I do, however, believe, as I said at the start, that this bill is wrong in principle. There is not the slightest question in my mind, but what, if this bill is passed, it is the first and the forerunner of many pressure groups, similar groups, which will come in here for the same purpose, and if this group is successful through our activity or our vote, then the other groups certainly should never be censored or never blamed for coming in here and trying to do the same thing, because we will by our action today say to all of those groups whether or not we think it is right or we think it is wrong.

Mr. President, another objection in my judgement to this bill in connection with principle, is the fact that there are floors, not ceilings, but floors set in the various classifications. There is no distinction, Mr. President, made in this bill for an employe's meritorious service. There is nothing provided in this bill which would assure a diligent, hardworking employe, a consciencious employe, receiving possibly a little bit more than a shirker and a loafer, and that, Mr. President, is a principle which is becoming too prevalent in this nation. We are regarding today the idea of groups instead of individuals and I think, Mr. President, the welfare of this nation and the welfare of this great Commonwealth demands that we soon and as quickly as possible get back to the old fashioned ideal and idea that the individual can make or break himself to a great extent.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I do not blame any man for going to his boss and asking for a raise in his pay when he is not getting enough. These liquor store clerks are not getting enough and they went to the boss and asked for a raise and they did not get it. When they did not get a raise from the boss I do not blame them for going higher up, and we are that higher up—we are the boss here—and we are entitled to give these people a raise if they deserve it. Everybody admits they do deserve it but they say this is the wrong way to do it. What is wrong with a boss giving his employes a raise, I should like to know? We are the Board of Directors of this big business and we have the right to raise these salaries if we want to do so, or establish a minimum at least.

This is not like the Philadelphia police. The Board of Directors of the Philadelphia police is the city council; I do not condone the action in not passing those bills raising the salaries of the Philadelphia police; I voted for them. However, that is not the question here. We are the Board of Directors, the General Assembly, and we have the right and duty to raise those salaries if we feel they are not enough. I have been treated with courtesy and these employes of the liquor stores are efficient and they deserve a raise so they can live the way they ought to be able to live and I propose to vote for this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have been misunderstood and so has the bill and I should like to clarify both. I am glad my friend from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, brought up the question which was in my mind when the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Woodward, was talking. This is home rule to the fullest extent, as he pointed out. This is not the Commonwealth saying to the City of Philadelphia how much money they should pay to their employes. this bill provides not for any salaries at all but it expresses the views of the Legislature that in this particular department over which we have control and for which we appropriated money in the beginning and from which we receive money and which money we dispose of, we are saying to them we feel that in times like these, considering the intelligence of the men and the character of the work that they do, that managers shall receive not less than $1,860, and assistant managers shall receive not less than $1,620.

I would like to answer my colleague from Allegheny, Senator Geltz, by saying we do not by that method stop any employe who shows good merit, prevent him rather from getting an increase.

We were hoping that these managers, three of whom get ten thousand dollars a year, would have the intelligence to understand that they would get better service if they would give more money to those who show some aptitude and more diligence, and not stabilize and fix the salaries, freeze them at one rate so that everybody, irrespective of his ability, gets the same amount of money. We had hoped that they would have shown intelligence to that effect before this, but they have not done so. I happen to know some of the types of people who are employed, of whom the gentleman from Somerset spoke. Senator Ealy said these men were intelligent people. Well, I should like the gentleman from Somerset to remember that these men took examinations that required some intelligence. I happen to know four or five men who started out to practice law, who were not doing well, who are now managers in these stores, and we are asking that they shall receive $1,860 a year. Certainly that is not too high for those men. These men are subject to be shifted from one district to another, men living in Philadelphia may be sent as far as Williamsport, and when they have to go out of their own sphere they have to make their arrangements for their food and for their lodging. They can not do a good job and keep their minds on their jobs if they do not get a decent salary.

I agree with Senator Kephart as to the treatment these men have gotten previously and that is why I am voting for this bill. They have asked for an increase and they were turned down by men who sit in upholstered chairs and receive ten thousand dollars a year and who do not pay proper attention to the job, and I say that I am not talking politically now.

Other departments will not have to come before us. I say psychologically this may be bad but when you analyze it, it is not a bad procedure at all. It is the only way to do this. Employes in other departments have been appointed politically. Men who have some political influence in various cities go to the head of a department and say, "I would like to have John Smith placed in this $2,000 job, I would like to put Bill Jones in this $1,800 job." They do not even know the job they are going to get; it is selected by politicians.

These employes of the Liquor Control Board must take examinations and they can only get the salaries that these liquor control managers will give them, which will not be very much. Their salaries are fixed.

Now, Mr. President, I am trying to make the point that anybody who votes for this bill does not have to worry that he will be called upon by some other department. The other departments are taken care of before they come to us: political leaders down in the same town take care of them; and if a man does not get enough money the politician comes up and he says to the head of the department, "This person who is receiving $2,000 a year should get $2,400; he is an excellent committeeman and he does fine work in the division and he brings in a certain number of votes."

Let us talk about this thing fairly, and we will acknowledge that there is not a department in this state that we have to worry about as much as we do about this department. This is a department that brings to the state, Mr. President, a return of thirty million dollars a year.

In every other department the employes are taken care of because they are voters and they get votes; these people can not get votes, they can not be committeemen, they have to confine themselves to their jobs. That is why I am going to vote for this bill.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, it does not seem to make a particle of difference whether the employes are in a self-liquidating position, like the liquor store group, or not, and the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, saying this bill does not set salaries—it certainly sets minimum salaries of employes as I read the bill on the last page.

Now, the reason I want to stand up and say a word is that I do not think that I should allow the Senator from Cambria, Senator Haluska, to get away with the statement that he made, and let you suppose Senator Haluska is one hundred per cent right in everything he says. This was his error, namely, that the Liquor Control Board has passed the buck to "teachers," I call them, the General Assembly. I know ex-Senator Rial very well and we all know Senator Gelder very well. I have talked to them about this bill, and they have not given the slightest indication of wishing to pass the buck to the General Assembly. They said they were trying to do the right thing by these clerks, through the administrative code and the executive board. That is what we have an administrative code for.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the uestion,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—38

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	Letzler,	Shapiro,
Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

PERMISSION TO ADRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask permission to make a short statement on behalf of the Congressional Apportionment Committee.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cumberland will proceed.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, first of all I would like to call a committee meeting of the entire Committee on Congressional Apportionment, to consider the resolution referred to that committee last evening. Secondly, I want to say the resolution deals with the extention of sessions of this Legislature for a week or two weeks more, and that statement has also been made on the floor of this Senate today.

We recognize this is a very important matter and I am sure I am speaking for the other members of the conference committee, Senator Mundy and Senator Taylor, when I say to you we have had many meetings of that conference committee we have tried hard to arrive at a solution of the problem, and it certainly is not the desire of any of one of the three of us to prolong or extend this session one minute.

Therefore, if you will, Mr. President, I should like to have a meeting called of this committee immediately after we recess, to be held in Room 542. I have also taken the liberty of inviting the sponsors of the resolution to attend the meeting.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented for concurrence bills of the House, as follows:

House Bill No. 1851, (Senate Bill No. 1343), entitled:

An Act to amend sections three thousand seven hundred ninteen, four thousand four hundred one and four thousand four hundred two of the act, approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932), entitled "Third Class City Law" by extending civil service provisions to include park guards.

Which was committed to the committee on Municipal Government

House Bill No. 1955, (Senate Bill No. 1344), entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred and fifty-four of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 448), entitled "Fish Law of 1925," limiting the right of certain lessees or owners of or holders of certain rights in property for fishing purposes, to exclude the general public from fishing from such property.

Which was committed to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask permission to address the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria will proceed.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, in view of the remarks made by my colleague from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, with reference to several important bills, we are fearful those bills can not be passed in the event we adjourn finally this week. Quite a number of us are much interested in Senate Bills Nos. 510 and 512, which passed this body last night, and in the event we should adjourn sine die tomorrow, we definitely know those two bills can not become law.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. HALUSKA and Mr. McGINNIS offered the following resolution which was twice read;

In the Senate, July 11, 1941.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Thursday, July 17, 1941, at 4:00 o'clock, p. m. and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Thursday, July 17, 1941, at 4:00 o'clock, p. m.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

RECESS

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 9:00 o'clock, p. m., E. S. T.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

SENATE BILL No. 1308 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate Bill No. 1308, entitled:

An Act to further amend the first paragraph of section three of the act, approved the twenty-second day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 912), entitled "An act to protect the public health; defining and providing for the licensing of bakeries, and regulating the inspection, maintenance, and operation of bakeries and premises, stores and shops connected therewith; defining and regulating the manufacture, sale, and offering for sale of bakery products; conferring powers on the Department of Agriculture; and providing penalties," by extending the exception from registration and licensing requirements.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills to be noted on the calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 1308

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate non-concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 1308.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not believe the members of the Senate can vote intelligently on this bill without someone telling us what the bill does, and what is proposed by the amendments, so I request that someone give us an idea as to the meaning of the amendments.

Mr. REED. That is a point I was seeking information on Mr. President.

Mr. EALY. This is a bill, Mr. President, introduced at the behest of the Department of Agriculture to provide a regulation which was made necessary by a decision of Judge Sofel of the Allegheny County Court. The House has placed a considerable number of amendments in this, I am told, which are objectionable to most everybody, and that is the reason we are asking that the Senate non-concur in these amendments, so that the bill can go to a conference committee.

I should have made this explanation before, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

Barr,	Ealy,	Letzler,	Stiefel,

HOUSE BILL No. 943, (SENATE BILL No. 923), CALLED UP FROM TABLE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I now call up House Bill No. 943, (Senate Bill No. 923), from the table.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HOUSE BILL No. 943

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insists upon its amendments non-concurred in by the House to House Bill No. 943, entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend section 441 of the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "General County Law" by authorizing boards of county commissioners to appropriate county moneys for the support of charitable hospitals.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this is a bill which permitted the appropriations of county monies for the support of local hospitals. When it came over to the Senate the Senate inserted counties of the second class, so that this bill applied alike to all counties of the state. The House refused to concur in those amendments. I am asking that the Senate insist on its amendments so that this bill applies to all counties of the State.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. STIEFEL, from the Committee on Appropriations re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1159, (House Bill No. 1570), entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to have a certain number of copies printed of the Report of the Joint State Government Commission on the Organization and Administration of Pennsylvania's State Government; providing for the distribution and sale of such copies; imposing new duties on the Joint State Government Commission; and making an appropriation.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. ZEISENHEIM, from the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1344, (House Bill No. 1955), entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred and fifty-four of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" limiting the right of certain lessees or holders of certain rights in property for fishing purposes to exclude the general public from fishing from such property.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 937, (House Bill No. 11), entitled:

An Act to create a uniform and exclusive system for the administration of parole in this Commonwealth; establishing the "Pennsylvania Board of Parole"; conferring and defining its jurisdiction, duties, powers and functions, including the supervision of persons placed upon probation in certain designated cases; providing for the method of appointment of its members; regulating the appointment, removal and discharge of its officers, clerks and employees; dividing the Commonwealth into administrative districts for purposes of parole; fixing the salaries of members of the board and of certain other officers and employees thereof; making violations of certain provisions of this act misdemeanors; providing penalties therefor and for other cognate purposes; and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, since time immemorial the question of crime and punishment has come to the front. To solve the question properly and scientifically, in view of the human equation, is almost as difficult as attempting to cure cancer and tuberculosis and other malignant diseases. The best that can be hoped for is a solution that will tend to benefit society in some measure. Again and again it has been attempted with little or no success. In my mind, crime is a synthesis of social, biological, and economic factors.

Psychologists, criminologists, psychiatrists, lawyers, doctors, judges, and so forth have attempted to delve into the problem with limited success. We realize it is very difficult to analyze the workings of the mind. However, society must continue its work with a view to reducing crime to a minimum. This bill in my mind does not help the solution to any extent. If by chance there was closer cooperation between the police officials and the citizens, better training in the home and at school, less sensationalism by the newspapers, radio and movies, then again assuming that the crime is committed and the criminal paid his penalty, if society considered the released prisoner as an ordinary citizen and gave him the same opportunity as any other citizen, particularly with respect to employment, probably we could avoid repitions of crime by the same person. Generally speaking, the State government and city refuses to employ released convicts although they have already paid their debt to society. What then can be expected of private employers?

Consequently, the individual unable to find work, returns to his career of crime for existence. Yes, it may be true that in some instances men are hardened criminals and refuse to work under any circumstances. That is another problem that neither any Board nor any Doctor can cope with. Education is required and plenty of it.

Mr. President, I am not attempting to philosophize or deliver a sermon on crime and punishment. The fact is the problem does not admit of an easy solution. The question has been debated pro and con for many years. I repeat, so far as House Bill No. 11 is concerned, it does not help the situation in any large measure.

Outside of the additional political patronage it affords, the creation of a parole board is a mere substitution of Tweedledum for Tweedledee. While it sounds impressive, upon reading it, it offers nothing that is an improvement on the prevailing system. If anything, it adopts its vices without taking over its virtues. Under the present practice, the Judge tries, sentences and if it comes within his jurisdiction, paroles the prisoner. He knows the prisoner's faults, weaknesses and strong points, if any. He studies the prisoner thoroughly throughout the trial and form conclusions based on actual observation as well as prepared information submitted to him. The proposed Board would have to reply solely on second-hand information—its decision would be based on facts, cold, naked and fatal as a sword. The only advantage it might enjoy, if it could be called such, is the use of a staff of investigators. But if the state feels generous enough at a time when it is clamoring for more and more economy, to spend money for investigators, why not employ them to aid the Judges in performing their duties?

You notice, I have stressed the Judge's power over paroles, setting aside for a moment the question of penitentiary prisoners. The reason I do this, as I shall reveal later, is that the penitentiary problem is simplified by the handling of parole matters almost wholly from within the penitentiary. The judge, on the other hand, must await the filing of the proceedings in court and then refer to his own knowledge and that supplied mainly by parties representing the prisoner before he arrives at a decision. Because the judge occasionally errs, the whole system is condemned.

A Board, at best, is unwieldy and uncertain. It is best when dealing with scientifically ascertained facts. A prisoner is not a scientific nor a laboratory fact. He is a sociological problem—a human kaleidoscope of emotions. No one layman can supersede the judge for as reasonable a judgment as the circumstances warrant—nor can a group of laymen, under whatever designation they may function, do any better.

Let us look now to the way the prevailing system works:

The Governor has the power, on the recommendation of the Lieutenant-Governor, the Secretary of the Commonwealth, Attorney General, and Secretary of Internal Affairs, but not otherwise, to parole prisoners confined in the penitentiary on an indeterminate sentence who have served the minimum period.

When the minimum sentence of a prisoner who is confined in the penitentiary will expire within three months, it is the duty of the Board of Trustees to give him an opportunity of appearing before the Board to apply for his release on parole. If it appears to the Board that there is reasonable probability that the applicant will live and remain at liberty without violating the law, then the Board makes a report of the application to the Governor and recommends that the applicant be released on parole until the expiration of the maximum limit of the sentence imposed on him. If the conclusions of the Board are adverse to the application, it reports its reasons to the Governor.

The paroled prisoner is under the charge or supervision of a parole officer appointed by the Board of Trustees.

A convict who violates the terms of his parole is subject to arrest and recommitment as provided by the statute.

A convict who is convicted of an offense punishable by imprisonment during the period of his parole has the period for which he was paroled added to the sentence for the last offense.

If during the parole, it appears to the Board that there is a reasonable probability that the convict will live and remain at liberty without violating the law, and that it will be to his advantage to be released from the terms of his parole, then, on his application, it is the duty of the Board to recommend to the Governor that he be pardoned absolutely.

The criminal courts of record have the power to release on parole any convict confined in the county prison or House of Correction, whether committed by a court of record or by a magistrate.

This power was originally exercised by the judges, exparte and without publicity. Alleged abuse of power as well as the ex parte method of its exercise caused much public criticism. The Act of May 11, 1923, (P. L. 204) diverts the power from the judges of the courts to the courts themselves, and provides for a judicial hearing of the application, after notice to the District Attorney. Notice must also be given to the private prosecutor, if there is one, and he is a resident of the country. The paroled prisoner is placed in charge of a designated probation officer. It is within the power of the court to recommit for cause shown by the probation officer.

House Bill No. 11 gives the proposed Board the exclusive power at any time after sentence (even on its own motion) after notice to the District Attorney of the proper county to parole and reparole, commit and recommit or discharge from parole all persons heretofore or hereafter sentenced by any Court in this Commonwealth to any state or county penal institution for a year or more, except prisoners condemned to death or serving life imprisonment, or certain juveniles. It also excepts prisoners committed by magistrates or justices of the peace in default of fine or bail. The Board may even ask the court to resentence the prisoner if it considers the minimum term too stiff. The court, however, in this case has the final say. The courts are allowed to retain their parole powers over sentences of less than one year and to place certain prisoners on probation.

The Board may entertain a sentencing judge's recommendation in cases coming to court but they may likewise disregard it.

So much for the human equation. There is a more important reason why this bill is unworkable and that is that it impinges on the Constitutional authority of the Governor. As I pointed out to you, in penitentiary cases, the Governor paroles prisoners on recommendation of the Board of Pardons. This is based on the provisions of the State Constitution which reads.

(Article 4, Section 9 of the State Constitution), The Governor

"shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures, to grant reprieves, commutations of sentence and pardons, except in cases of impeachement; but no pardon shall be granted, nor sentence commuted, except upon the recommendation in writing of the Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of the Commonwealth, Attorney General and Secretary of Internal Affairs, or any three of them, after full hearing, upon due public notice, and in open session, and such recommendation, with the reasons therefor at length, shall be recorded and filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth."

The Constitutionality of Acts, enacted pursuant to that Constitutional power has been sustained.

Commonwealth vs. McKenty 52 Pa. Superior Court 332
Commonwealth vs. Kalck 239 Pa. 533.

These cases are based on the assumption that the commutation or Parole Act includes all the constitutional requirements of granting pardons. In this connection it is well to read the opinion of the Attorney-General in 10 District, Report 361.

It may be said that in view of an amendment inserted yesterday, the Board of Pardons has not been eliminated. A few words were inserted there, I believe, on page 15, line 28, "or by the Pardon Board in a sentence which has been reduced by commutation." In other words the Parole Board under this bill would have jurisdiction in all cases in a sentence which has been reduced by commutation. The fact is, under this amendment, the new Parole Board has only limited authority over penitentiary prisoners and absolutely no authority over prisoners in other jails. In short, there will be thousands of prisoners over which the new Parole Board will have very little control.

My experience has been that there are isolated cases, in which prisoners have broken their parole but you can not control their conduct at all times. I say, and say very emphatically, that our present system is an excellent one. The Parole Board in Harrisburg has been doing excellent work with respect to prison reform and rehabilitation. They have been fair, honest and impartial and at all times attempt to find employment for released convicts or parolees. If anything, we should appropriate more money to these very departments that are operating today and permit them to extend their work to cover every phase of crime and punishment.

Judges have been doing excellent work in this field. Yes, mistakes will be made. We can expect it. But they are being reduced to a minimum. I find no fault with our judicial system.

I am very much afraid of new Boards. My experience has been that after having sat for sometime, these so-called boards are seldom considerate, they become cold and calloused, indifferent and void of sympathy and feeling. Any man or woman doing any work of a social nature, having performed that work for any length of time, loses all perspective as to the human emotions. We have heard it on this floor again and again and I personally have experienced it. Further, the appropriation therefore of $400,000 is but a drop in the bucket and will hardly suffice for the work contemplated under this bill. If anything, it will run above a million dollars, not four hundred thousand or five hundred thousand, but at least one million dollars.

Again I repeat, I am satisfied with the present system. The most important thing is not to forget that we are humans and as such are dealing with humans who probably have not had the advantages that we have and being unfortunate should be given opportunities to make good. I do not believe in molly-coddling hardened criminals.

I do not believe in molly-coddling hardened criminals, but let us advocate a policy of reformation and rehabilitation in its broadest sense. True parole consists not only in releasing the prisoner and observing him but in making him a useful citizen. In short bring about reformation and rehabilitation. Is there one word in the bill, Mr. President, that might tend to help a prisoner upon his release? Not one word, nary a word, Mr. President. Of course not. Are we to throw these men on society, branded as criminals and deny them positions? That has been the practive for many years, excepting for a few far sighted parole boards, particularly the parole officers connected with the Department of Justice. Frankly I feel this is the work of theorists and not practical men. If I may quote from "Hamlet": "Mercy seasons justice" but under this bill justice is a cold abstract without the semblance of mercy. In no sense does it deal with reformation or rehabilitation.

Mr. President, this bill I find has no saving clause. It does not repeal all other acts inconsistent therewith, therefore if any clause or provision is unconstitutional,, it destroys the entire bill.

Mr. President, this bill in my mind is too radical a departure. Changes in laws and systems should be slow and gradual and above all, constructive. This bill in my mind is not a constructive bill and is not a step in the right direction.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I want to say a few words concerning this bill because, I too, believe that it is a very important bill to be considered at this time. This bill, No. 11, attempts to set up another agency for extending leniency to persons sentenced for the commission of crime. I do not believe it will improve the present system.

This bill provides for the creation of a Pennsylvania Board of Parole. That Board of Parole under this bill will consist of five members and, mark you Mr. President, and members of this Senate, each one of the members on that board is to receive a salary of ten thousand dollars a year and the Chairman is to receive five hundred dollars additional for being Chairman. To those who are interested in governmental economy I want to direct a few remarks to them particularly, because the gentleman from Montgomery, Senator Edmonds, on the other side, has for some time been preaching governmental economy and likewise, the gentleman from Somerset, Senator Ealy, has been preaching economy during the last days of this session, and to them, particularly I wish to direct a few remarks growing out of the provisions of this bill.

This bill, in addition to setting up a Board of five high paid members, also provides for the division of the state into ten districts and from those districts and under the direction of this board will be another director who shall receive a salary of $7,500 a year in addition to his expenses necessarily incurred.

Each one of those ten districts will have an organization also and no one can determine from reading this bill how many employes are going to be named under its provisions. I agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, that this bill will greatly increase the expenses necessary for operating the parole system in Pennsylvania. This is another agency, and as Judge Hargest said at the Bar Association meeting this year, one of the dangers in this country today is the setting up of numerous commissions and numerous agencies to handle work that can be handled in another manner.

This bill, Mr. President, does not do away with the power of the judges in the several counties relating to parole. That power is still retained in the judges and you will have in each county, as we have today, a parole officer and you will have a judge in each county who will have the power to parole, and then under the Constitution of the State, the Governor still retains his power. You can not abrogate his power unless you change the Constitution.

Therefore, Mr. President, you will have three agencies if this bill is passed, you will have an agency in each county as it exists today, you will have the Governor under his constitutional powers operating within the scope of the Constitution, if he desires to wield that power in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution, and then you will have this cumbersome board operating under this proposed bill. If that is not placing an extra burden on the people of Pennsylvania I do not know anything about the law as it is outlined in this proposed bill.

If we want to help reduce crime, Mr. President, I say that we ought to start at the other end; I say that we ought to start education along disciplinary lines, because it is astounding, as many writers have so many times said in recent years, the growth of crime in this country and this state. Today, what we need is education at the other end, to teach our young people that they should not commit crime, and not to set up another system to pat the criminal on the back and try in that manner to reduce the number of crimes.

I think this bill should be defeated, first, because it will not accomplish what it proposes to accomplish, and secondly, it will add a great and an additional financial burden on the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, speaking of crime, I would like to recall your attention to exhibit A in the House of Representatives. In that House representative government has died and they have now set up an aligarchy and this aligarchy is called the Steering Committee and on this board of five we have the Speaker of the House, ex-officio, who might be called Elmer, the sauve speaker, we have his understudy Leo, the lion, we have Tony the Tailor who cuts up our bills, we have Al. Readinger, a lawyer learned in the law, and we have Melchiorre, who is one of the three wise men that came out of the east. These are the big five, the secret police, the Gestapo. When they meet, you can always see flowers on the table, orchids, roses and especially forget-me-nots. The forget-me-nots are for Messrs. Guffey, Kelly and David Lawrence.

> You may shatter the vase
> You may break if you will
> But the scent of forget-me-nots
> Clings to it still.

I will have to look at my notes now—The still small voice is in the room you may remember that Isaac the patriarch wished to place Esau; the mother was obliged to practice deceit, and Isaac said "The voice is Jacob's voice but the hair is Esau's." You might not get it but Esau is the Gestapo.

Our bills have been sabotaged in the House by the aligarchy and to them I have composed this little verse of poetry.

> "Stranger pause and drop a tear
> For little Bill lies buried here
> Mangled in some mysterious manner
> By Joseph, Jack and David's hammer."

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I am surprised at the attitude of my colleague from Philadelphia. This is a very important problem. This piece of legislation affects thousands and thousands and my colleague from Philadelphia is making light of a very important problem. Probably that is because he is not affected, as thousands of people have been affected.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not intend to talk long on this bill because I am not an attorney and it seems on this particular question perhaps the attorneys are better learned. However, I just want to say that one of the fears that I have in the enactment of this bill, is that such eminent gentlemen, for instance, like Senator Woodward, a very fine gentleman, a learned scholar and a man whose wit is surpassed by none, might be appointed to the board, and might take it as a big joke.

I want to say, Mr. President, when present and past pardon boards have been composed of men of caliber such as the Lieutenant-Governor of this state, our present Lieutenant-Governor—I have heard no criticism outside of an isolated case where mistaken judgment on the part of the entire board has perhaps let a man loose who should not have been let loose, and perhaps that would have happened under any set of circumstances.

All we do by this bill, Mr. President, is to set up another bureau at an enormous expense and I am surprised to find Republicans supporting it because in the early days, I heard you talk about the New Deal bureaus and bureaus of all kinds.

I want to say, Mr. President, the parole system in Pennsylvania can be improved upon but this bill does not do it, and as a practical politician, if you please, I want to say the first thing they would do, if this bill passes, would be to name men by political methods, and that is all it would be; every time a new Governor comes into office he would name five new deserving party followers, and you would have a new board every time a new Governor came in; I want to say to you as a practical politician if I had a person in my county in trouble I would run to the Board and I want to say this, for the present Pardon Board, we have today in Pennsylvania, you can run to them but you will run back just as fast, because from my experience they do not let politics interfere with their decisions.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I am under a rather difficult handicap, because of the fact that I had not expected there could be any opposition to House Bill No. 11. For that reason I have not had sufficient time to organize my thoughts relative to this matter. I might say, as a matter of introduction, that I have had rather extended experience in the study of penology. For three years of my life as a volunteer I made a psychological and sociological examination in two of the greatest penal institutions in Pennsylvania, the Western Penitentiary and the branch of the Western Penitentiary at Rockview. From my very very careful lifetime study of the question of penology, I have very definite opinions, and I might add that not only is my experience the result of work in those two penal institutions, but is a direct result of what I have learned during the time I have practiced law.

Mr. President, I might say that the theory of crime in Pennsylvania, at least the theory of penology originally, just as it was in every one of the original colonies of Pennsylvania, came from the Talmud, the book of laws of the Jewish people, the Talmud Lex. Talionis, the gospel of an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth and a life for a life was personified.

Originally, in the history of our thirteen colonies, that was the idea. If you were to go back to the history of penology in Pennsylvania you would find that the original penitentiaries in the thirteen states were truly places of grave desperation, and places of great desolation, because in those days they believed if a person committed a crime he should be punished for that crime. I am very happy to see that the theory of penology in the United States has changed radically. Today, we do not believe that because a person commits a crime he should pay for that crime; we believe a person who has committed a crime should be incarcerated only until such time as he has proven that he can go back into society and be a law abiding citizen.

Mr. President, a second aspect of this theory is this, if a person has committed a crime and is punished he will serve as an object to other people who perhaps might commit the same type of crime. A third theory is this, if a person has committed a crime, and during the period of his incarceration has proven he is unable to go back into society and be a law abiding citizen, then we have to keep him there so that he can no longer be a threat to society.

In order to understand the particular problem involved in this bill, it is important to have had practical experience with two theories, the theory of pardon, which is one and which is separate and apart from the theory of parole, which is included in this bill.

As an example of this question of parole I would like to cite the county with which I am most familiar, the county from which I come, the great county of Allegheny. I can say from practical experience we have two particular types of parole in Allegheny County: people who are sentenced to the Western Penitentiary, which is a state institution, are paroled under one particular set of parole officers; people who are sentenced to the county institution, having been convicted of a crime are subject to parole by another set of officials, and I know those in the second set are so limited in numbers that their supervision of parole is confined to office work. In fact, in Allegheny County, among the female parolees, for instance, there is one woman responsible for the supervision of parole of all the female convicts of our county and I know from practical experience how ridiculous a situation that is.

If we are to get any place in this Commonwealth we must not only have a uniform system of pardons, which we now have—and the gentleman from Philadelphia has confused the system with the intent of the present bill—but we also must have a uniform system of parole and that uniform system of parole must cover the entire state.

The redistricting set up of this bill, of course, is done in accordance with the geographical areas of the state. Because of my intense life time interest in this subject I have studied the bill very carefully and I find it to be a fine bill.

In Allegheny County we have been pioneers in both the question of pardon and the question of parole. I can recall a time in the Eastern Penitentiary in Philadelphia and the Western Penitentiary in Pittsburgh, that in each of those institutions there was only one individual who was responsible for the parole of people who were paroled from those institutions, and I know from practical experience that a parole was a misnomer, there was no opportunity for those individuals to properly supervise every parolee. I know of one instance, for example, in which an individual under the terms of his parole was to report to the parole officer every month and he was in the State of California nine months and the parole officer did not know he was there. That could very easily happen because of the fact that the parole officer had such a tremendous number of people to supervise that it was impossible for him to know where anyone of them might be.

This is a very important matter to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and I am satisfied if this bill passes and becomes a law that the State of Pennsylvania will still stand in the forefront among all the states of the whole United States of America. It is an excellent bill and it is one which well deserves your consideration.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I do not propose to talk on the bill. I just want to correct the scripture quoted by Dr. Woodward concerning Esau, because there are others of us who are familiar with scripture. It was the poor old blind father, Isaac, to whom this young man went, and the correct quotation is "the hands are the hands of Esau but the voice is the voice of Jacob."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, first of all I want to correct the impression I am sorry our colleague from Philadelphia, Senator DiSilvestro got from the remarks of Senator Woodward. No one in this Senate was more serious and more ardent in working for the development of this bill. As a matter of fact I recall distinctly he was the sponsor of a bill which passed two years ago and sat on the committee with me and several other members of this side late at night and early in the morning hours listening to some of the very judges who today I understand are not so well satisfied with this bill.

I am glad he is still able in these hectic days and nights to be able to maintain his sense of humor and while the remarks were directed at this side of the House, we are able to take it and enjoy it very much, but I am quite sure, knowing Dr. Woodward, he is going to vote for this bill and he is going to vote for the bill for the same reason I am going to vote for it.

I am going to vote for this bill because I have sat and watched judges after conferring with assistant district attorneys, in criminal courts, give sentences varying from one to five years for an offense, without the slightest knowledge of what was going to happen to their people, what was their previous environment and what was really a just sentence to bring about a correction rather than punishment. All of that is due to the fact that judges have no opportunity and no machinery set up in our courts with which to enable them to reach a fair and a correct conclusion as to length of sentence.

I have spoken to a number of judges, and their greatest desire, from what I can gather, is that they may be relieved from sentencing the prisoners, in which event their work would be much lighter. Those who are sincere know there is no machinery available, and there has not been for twenty years, to enable them to properly dispose of criminal cases that appear before them, and they can not in the larger cities, with the tremendous amount of criminal work occurring in every court room, from the highest to the lowest crimes, it is impossible to have the proper machinery.

What is the situation when a person is sentenced under conditions of that kind? There is a minimum usually and a maximum sentence. If this bill were in proper form, as it should be, even on a minimum sentence the parole board could correct the mistakes resulting from misinformation or the lack of information which the court had.

After all, you can talk about bad criminal law all you want to, but I believe criminal law follows human law, which is an attempt to correct, rebuild and reconstruct, no matter how low the individual may be, and if that is the purpose, it requires time to accomplish the result. You can not sit and hand out sentences when you get on the bench one morning suffering from indigestion, give a sentence of four years and then when you feel better after luncheon that afternoon give a sentence of two years and two months for the same crime, if you are going to do justice.

There was an amendment inserted in this bill last night with which I do not agree and I think it ought to be taken out. It is the amendment taking away from the Parole Board, and I read it over very carefully today and I re-read it again to make sure I was correct in my position. I conclude from that amendment that this Parole Board will no longer have the right to interfere with sentences during the minimum period, and I think that is a tremendous mistake because as I think I said yesterday or the day before—time passes so fast—the worst criminal gets out at the end of his minimum sentence, and the most rehabilitated person or repentant person can not get out until the minimum sentence expires, and there ought to be machinery provided to correct that condition and the Parole Board should have something to say about that sentence from the moment the judge sentences him, for the reason I have already stated.

However, I am sure if this bill is passed, if the members of the House agree with the views I have expressed here with respect to that phase of the bill they will not concur in the amendments and I am sure if a conference committee could have a few hours time to discuss it they could decide what is to be done, but in any event this is the first move towards what in my opinion is a very important and proper link in our criminal procedure.

Those of us who have been interested in this matter have been fighting for it for years. We thought we had it last year and it is a sad commentary on the state of affairs when the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania said it could not afford five or six hundred thousand dollars to spend on these unfortunates, those at least that are unfortunate—I am not talking about the hardened criminals —but those unfortunates who are confined in prison under circumstances such as I have described.

I think this bill ought to be passed. I am not afraid of the fact that the Governor may appoint some politicians. I am quite sure even a hardened politician on the Parole Board would begin to understand he has a job to perform that can not be governed by politics; I am not afraid of that because I think on our Pardon Boards are persons who have been engaged in politics. I have not appeared before the Pardon Board since I have been a Senator, but I think I am well enough acquainted with the Board and I have seen the way in which they approach these cases and I have seen the way they try to solve the problem, and by and large they have done a good job and will do a good job. I am not afraid even if the Governor does appoint politicians on this board, and I ask my colleagues and all the members of the Senate to put this bill through, and let us have a new system, a centralized system that will give us some method at least that will be an improvement on the one which now exists. The worst thing you could pass would be even better than the situation which we have, particularly in Philadelphia; I want to say of the man in charge of the Parole Board in Philadelphia that he does a fine job, but he does not have the machinery, and he does not have the time with which to do the job that ought to be done and that can be done. I am going to ask my colleagues to vote for this bill.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I want to correct a correction. The scripture as quoted by the gentleman from McKean was wrong also. The quotation is, "The voice is the voice of Jacob but the hands are the hands of Esau," not as he said, starting from the hands.

Mr. President, I am going to cast my vote in the affirmative on this bill, but I do not want that to be misinterpreted; we are not casting any aspersions against the membership of the present board; we are voting for the improvement of the system.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator from Philadelphia, I would like to inform him that I know the difference between seriousness and humor, and when the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, arose there was nothing but laughter in this room; he making the bill appear as a joke.

Mr. President, I have never been a hypocrite and have always tried to be sincere. I do not need anyone to speak for me concerning any remarks I have made.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to say this, it is very likely that attorneys might be interested in changing the present system because from my experience at home I have discovered that the attorney who represents a criminal that is found guilty, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred is the attorney that goes after a parole or a pardon.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, one thing I like is the system we have here in the Senate. Senators speaking here on the floor are permitted and allowed to say what they feel and then if it does not suit someone's feelings they are politicians—very suddenly.

On a bill such as this I think it is a great thing to have some of the parole board in the state subject to the voters of the state. As the board is now constituted, we have two who are elected officers and two who are appointed officers by the Governor. I as a layman, and not as an attorney, thank God we are not all attorneys in this place, and I see nothing wrong in that and I think we should proceed with a roll call on the bill.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred.)

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those voting in the affirmative as follows:

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Kephart,	Shapiro,
Carr,	Farrell,	Letzler,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Frey,	Mallery,	Stiefel,
Coleman,	Geltz,	McCreesh,	Watkins,
Cox,	Heyburn,	McGinnis,	Wilson, T. B.,
Crider,	Homsher,	Miller,	Woodward,
Crowe,	James,	Ruth,	Ziesenheim,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those voting in the negative as follows:

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	McQuiddy,	Thomas,
Becker,	Ealy,	Reed,	Wade,
Cavalcante,	Haluska,	Snowden,	Walker,
Deitrick,	Jaspan,	Tallman,	Wilson, H. I.,
Dent,	Lanius,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The negative roll will stand as verified.

Yes—28; Nays—18.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—28

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Kephart,	Shapiro,
Carr,	Farrell,	Letzler,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Frey,	Mallery,	Stiefel,
Coleman,	Geltz,	McCreesh,	Watkins,
Cox,	Heyburn,	McGinnis,	Wilson, T. B.,
Crider,	Homsher,	Miller,	Woodward,
Crowe,	James,	Ruth,	Ziesenheim,

NAYS—18

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	McQuiddy,	Thomas,
Becker,	Ealy,	Reed,	Wade,
Cavalcante,	Haluska,	Snowden,	Walker,
Deitrick,	Jaspan,	Tallman,	Wilson, H. I.,
Dent,	Lanius,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1013, (House Bill No. 1419), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for the maintenance of certain hospitals.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	Lanius,	Stevenson,
Bartlett,	Ealy,	Letzler,	Stiefel,
Becker,	Edmonds,	Mallery,	Tallman,
Carr,	Farrell,	McCreesh,	Thomas,

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, they have mutilated the Scripture. The passage is "The voice is the voice of Jacob and the hands are the hands of Esau."

Mr. President, this bill could be classified under no philosophy that a man may draw from that scriptural quotation. This bill no doubt is the handiwork of some members of the Assembly and it must necessarily appear to be work produced by the hands of members of the Assembly, but the voice that speaks out of that bill is surely not the voice of all of the members of this Assembly.

Now, Mr. President, whenever we deal with the subject of motor vehicles in this Commonwealth, we must bear in mind that these motor vehicles travel over the highways of this Commonwealth. When we take into consideration what the highways of this Commonwealth mean to the people of the state, we surely ought to be sensible enough to know that a bill of this character, a bill that deals with motor vehicles traveling over our highways, is a very important bill. The highways of this Commonwealth are the nerves of this state. Over the highways pass the commerce of the people, commerce among which is included the very necessities of life, the stuff that we eat and the stuff that may be administered to us in case of illness or injury, and over those same highways pass the streams of human beings that move about the Commonwealth and make the Commonwealth what it is.

Now, Mr. President, if we see the background to a bill of this kind, we must see that it is a bill that touches the life and the happiness of the people of this Commonwealth. Over the highways of our Commonwealth travel our innocent children that in a care-free way go from their happy homes to schools and from the schools back to these happy homes, and over these highways travel every day men and women who leave happy homes to go to their jobs or fields to do their day's work, and then back again to those happy homes; over these highways travel the good people, young and old, of this Commonwealth, from their homes to their places of worship on Sunday, and then from their places of worship back to their homes.

Mr. President, I trust that I can invoke the sensibility of my colleagues in this Senate to view this bill with all seriousness. The law pertaining to motor vehicles on our statute books at this moment provides that any person who drives a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a narcotic or a drug, and is found guilty of that by jury of his peers, in a lawful and constituted court, that man forfeits, in addition to other penalties, his license to operate that motor vehicle. The present law also provides that any person who operates a motor vehicle over the highways in a reckless manner or in a manner in disregard of the rights of other users of the highway, and takes a human life, that man, in addition to other penalties, must forfeit his right to operate a motor vehicle for a limited period of time. In addition to that the present law when enacted contemplated that when an individual used a motor vehicle over the highways of this Commonwealth in promoting a criminal career, in the commission of crimes of robbery and other felonies, that if convicted in a court of our Commonwealth, in addition to other penalties, he would forfeit the privilege of operating that motor vehicle for the purpose of committing felonies and other crimes.

Mr. President, I think those enactments to the present law on that subject were enacted by men who were guided by experience and wisdom and by the accumulated facts up to the time that act was enacted.

When we look at the bill before us, we see on pages 30 and 31, where the present law is being amended so that a man who might be convicted of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, a man who while so operating might kill one of our innocent children, coming from home to school or from the school back to the home, or going from the home to our places of worship on Sunday, and back home again, that man may still retain his right to operate a motor vehicle on the highways of this Commonwealth. Notwithstanding that the present law makes it mandatory that he must forfeit his license, this bill now says that when the operator's license of any person is revoked for any of the crimes enumerated in classes 1, 2, 3 and 4 of Section 614 of this act "The secretary shall at his discretion," and mind you "shall at his discretion" issue or refuse to issue to such person the limited operator's license herein provided, and the facts and circumstances of each individual case should be taken into consideration.

Mr. President, the present law makes it mandatory to take that operator's license, and it makes it mandatory after a judge and a jury of the defendent's peers had tried him, heard all the circumstances, all the evidence, and found him guilty of having driven a motor vehicle under the influence of intoxicating liquors or drugs. This amendment now will change that and will give discretionary power to the Secretary of Revenue, whom, the Lord knows, is every day haunted from place to place by politicians, gives him the discretion to give that man an operator's license to operate a motor vehicle.

This section as amended provides for the granting of a limited operator's license; they say the Secretary can issue that limited license and permit that man to operate, not a passenger car, but an omnibus or a truck or a vehicle of greater weight and greater potentiality of inflicting serious and grievous injury, if the man would again become intoxicated and operate that truck or omnibus or heavier vehicle, over the highways of this Commonwealth.

Now, Mr. President, I can not see the wisdom of that. I fear, I tremble to think that a man who has been convicted of driving a motor vehicle under the influence of intoxicating liquor, a man who may have taken the life of an innocent child or an innocent man or woman of this Commonwealth, can still retain his license to operate a motor vehicle upon the highways of this Commonwealth. Mr. President, I think it was a wise enactment to permit the courts of this Commonwealth and a jury of twelve men or women, or a mixture of the same, to decide whether a man was guilty, and with that guilty verdict there was to follow the revocation of that man's license peremptorily without any discretion. I think that was a wise enactment and we should not by this bill strike that down. I say this, I am fearful of permitting that discretionary power in the hands of the Secretary of Revenue, not because the Secretary of Revenue might be a dishonest man, but because of our knowledge and experience in the past that the Secretary of Revenue is haunted by politicians who are powerful and who can at times force his hand to grant a limited license to one of these convicted criminals, even though it might be against his better judgment.

Mr. President, this is not the only bad feature of this bill. There are other bad features of this bill. On pages 56, 57 and part of 58, Mr. President, the voice not of all the members of this Assembly is heard, but the voice of that notorious and contemptible organization, the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association. Here on these pages, Mr. President, they are increasing the load that a truck could haul. They say any person operating any vehicle or combination of vehicles upon any highway with a gross weight—they have inserted now "or axle load exceeding by more than five per cent the minimum gross weight or axle load allowed and not exceeding by more than ten per cent the maximum gross weight or axle load allowed" is guilty of a summary violation. Mr. President, we have one bill on our hands now that this notorious organization says that they sponsored, and needed a tremendous amount of money to pass through this Legilature; that organization that has so contemptuously reflected upon the integrity of this Assembly, that they can force a bill of that kind through this Assembly by the use of tremendous amounts of money is here again speaking through the voice that we hear in this amendment to the bill. They are increasing now the weight that they can haul on their monstrous trucks, by this amendment that we see here on pages 56, 57 and 58 of this bill.

Another glaring point that I find is the one dealing with the convoys that carry, piled one on top of another, motor vehicles from one end of the Commonwealth to the other, which is found on pages 68 and 69 of the bill. Now, Mr. President, not long ago, we enacted a bill—I think it is No. 1023—that postpones the effective date of a law on the statute books that would limit the use of convoys on our highways. In this bill they have inserted practically or entirely all of the provisions of Senate Bill No. 1023—I think I made a mistake in the number. In addition to that they have put this in, "No vehicle being transported on another single vehicle or combination vehicle and trailer shall be carried in such manner as to extend above the cab of the transporting vehicle and where such vehicle shall be transported on a combination truck, tractor and semi-trailer, the transporting vehicle shall be loaded wholly upon the semi-trailer, and shall not extend more than five feet beyond the front extremity of the semi-trailer." Mr. President, that is permitting the owners of those convoys to do something that the act that we have already passed prohibits them from doing. This is a glaring inconsistency between the two acts, and when we approve, when we pass this bill and approve it, which one prevails, what becomes of the previous bill that we have passed covering this subject? Will this permit them to pile up these automobiles so that they will extend beyond the cab?

Mr. President, the last two points of this bill that I call to your attention are not as serious as the first one, the first one that will permit the issuance of a limited license to a man who has been convicted of manslaughter or a felony or the driving of an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquors. That power should never be rested or placed in the Secretary of Revenue, but that power ought to be left just where it is; that power is now with the judge and jury, and if they find a man guilty, he suffers that penalty, and I say that there must be no relaxation of that; this bill should not give the power to the Secretary of Revenue, but it should give the power to the judge and the jury to say if they convict a man, whether he is a man that can be entrusted with a limited operator's license or not. They are the ones, the judge and the jury, who see the man, who hear him talk, who hear the witnesses against him, who hear the circumstances of the offense that he has committed. Surely, Mr. President, they are the ones who are in position, who can say whether a man whom they have seen, whom they have tried, and whom they have convicted, is a man that can be trusted with an operator's license, on the highways of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, this is a serious matter, as I have indicated, which touches the life and happiness of the homes and the people that travel these highways. I chill at the thought that some man who has been convicted of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor shall be permitted to drive on the highways, to endanger the lives of my children or the children of any other citizens of this Commonwealth.

Mr. DENT. You know, it is a pretty serious matter, Mr. President, to only pick out one particular phase and try to condemn all the good things that the bill might do. I want to say frankly it is a pretty serious thing too, when a man may be out on Saturday night with his family group and may be celebrating some sort of an occasion—maybe most of us have been on a celebration one time or another—and on his way home he might accidently be picked up for driving over a white line or for some minor motor vehicle traffic regulation and then lose his license to drive his car. Here is a man who probably has a family; maybe he has no business to take a drink, but sometimes men do take a drink, and then he loses his driving permit by which he earns his livelihood.

That is the point that is being covered in this bill and I want to say that this bill does not do a thing that is not being done today. Your Secretary of Revenue is empowered, as I understand it, and does today use his discretion in giving limited drivers' licenses. He gives them today. When he sees a man is going to be handicapped, his family is going to suffer because of some indiscretion on his part, he does not take away from him the right to earn his livelihood. That is all the bill does; it only guarantees a man who has not done anything too bad an opportunity to present his case and receive a license to drive commercially, in other words, to earn his livelihood. The Secretary of Revenue does that today, and this bill gives him the right under the law to do it.

I just want to say, Mr. President, there is not anything too wrong with that. I do not feel any Secretary of Revenue, especially the man we have today, would give a limited driver's license to any person whom he knew and whom he knew from experience and from the man's past to be a criminal or to be a man that wilfully would go out and get trunk and do things on the highway that would endanger a human life. I trust that the Secretary of Revenue will use his discretion as he does today and only give licenses to those who prove worthy of that privilege.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE BILL No. 1130 CALLED UP FROM THE TABLE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I now call up House Bill No. 1130, from the table.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE RECEDES FROM ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HOUSE BILL No. 1130

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate recede from its amendments non-concurred in by the House to House Bill No. 1130, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of Pennsylvania, towards expenses of the National Encampment in Philadelphia.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this bill makes an appropriation to the Department of Commerce towards the expenses of the National Encampment of Veterans of Foreign Wars, to be held in Philadelphia. As it passed the House, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars was given to this National Encampment. The Senate reduced the appropriation to ten thousand dollars and the House refused to concur in that amendment.

I have talked with the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations and he is satisfied that we recede from our amendments. If there is no objection from any Senator, I am asking that the Senate recede from its amendments so that the appropriation will be restored to twenty-five thousand dollars. The matter will then be on the Governor's desk, and he may reduce this by such sum as may be necessary to fit the budget. If there is no objection to that among the members here, I will withdraw this request, but if not I move that the Senate do now recede from its amendments to this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from McKean will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, the other evening there was some proceeding in this Senate when the Chairman on the Committee on Executive Nominations presented a nomination for Justice of the Peace which did not seem to please the members of the Senate.

I want to take this opportunity to express my appreciation that the Governor of the Commonwealth would remember me enough to nominate me to that very high office. I am very sorry that the members of the Senate could not see fit, that their consciences would not allow them to vote to confirm the nomination, but we have found out who was running the Senate, because the President of the Senate disregarded the vote of the members and declared the nomination confirmed.

I want to say that I am quite humbly assuming this very high office and I hope that the members of the Senate, if they want to have some court attachment, come up to McKean County to the office of the Justice of the Peace at large in McKean County, and consult the constable who will be sitting there seeking whom he may devour, and he will call me off the golf course, and I promise they will be very cordially received and that judgment will be entered in their favor for a very large verdict, and when they come there, and when the proceedings are finished, both the constable and the Justice of the Peace will join in singing "old soldiers never die."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I ask permission to address the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will proceed.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I know that the members of the Senate on the left are very sad that they did not know yesterday that our very good friend, "Old Soldier Who Will Never Die, Thomas B. Wilson," was the Governor's nominee for that high office of Justice of the Peace, and I shall assure the gentleman, speaking for his colleagues on the left, we are very fond of him and that we accept his offer, and that any time in the future we have a case of trespass on the case, we will be very happy to come to McKean County, and we sincerely hope when we call the gentleman from the golf course he will not be at the nineteenth hole.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I was very sad the other evening when the Senator from McKean was defeated for Justice of the Peace, so I went and talked to Senator Howard James, the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations. I wanted to nominate him as the best orator in the barber shop.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I want to commend the Chair for confirming this nomination and I sincerely hope that in the light of the condemnation, been placed upon the Justices of the Peace of this great state, that the gentleman from McKean will lift the office of Justice of the Peace to the very high, honorable and upright level upon which that gentleman lives.

SENATE APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE, ON HOUSE BILL No. 1176

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that a Committee of Conference be appointed to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The President Pro Tempore appoints Messrs. Mallery, Snowden, and Coleman to be said committee on the part of the Senate, and that the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT ON HOUSE BILL No. 1526

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am directed by the Committee of Conference to make a report on House Bill No. 1526, entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred seven of the act. approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 1206), entitled "First Class Township Laws," further prescribing method by which second class townships may be classified as first class townships; and providing for the costs and holding of special elections for that purpose.

The PRESIDENT. The report will be noted on tomorrow's Calendar.

RECESS

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for one hour.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I submit the gentleman from Allegheny has offered amendments to the bill from the wrong printer's number. I suggest if I may that the amendments be withdrawn and I ask permission to offer the following amendments.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to offer amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "No bonds heretofore issued by Authorities incorporated under the Municipality Authorities Act approved June 28, 1935 (P. L. 463) as amended and supplemented shall be"; amend section 1, page 1, line 8, by striking out all of said line after the word "of" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "the'; amend section 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out after the word "such" the word [proceedings]; amend section 1, page 2, line 2, by striking out before the word "bonds" the words [act or].

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COLEMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Lackawanna to briefly explain the meaning of these amendments.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, as I understand the bill, it is supposed to take care of a situation in a particular county where bonds have been issued, the validity of which have been questioned because a gentleman who is a member of the authority is also a member of the governing body, and I have stricken out the words "no proceedings heretofore taken and no acts heretofore done by authorities incorporated under the Municipal Authorities Act approved June 28, 1935 and so forth shall be invalid by reason of the fact that any "member of the Board or any officer of said Authority was at the time of such proceedings, the taking of such action or the issuance of such bonds a member or officer of the governing body . . . provided that such proceedings acts or bonds are otherwise valid."

Briefly I share the belief, the very grave concern of those who have invested their money in these authority bonds that they ought not to be jeopardized because of the action of somebody on an authority, and I take the position that this Senate should not put their stamp of approval on any illegal action of a member of an authority, so I have stricken from the bill the words "proceedings heretofore taken and acts heretofore done".

Mr. President, I take the position that does not impair the act, it does not affect the act; and those who are interested in the act should take care of the validity of these bonds.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second section was read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to offer an amendment.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend the title, page 1, line 1, by striking out after the word "that" and before the word "bonds" the words [proceedings acts and].

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1304, (House Bill No. 1728), entitled:

An Act relating to the compatibility of office of members of the Board and officers of the Authorities incorporated under the Municipality Authorities Act as amended and supplemented.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I desire to offer an amendment.

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 8, by inserting after the word "incompatible" the following: "Provided, however, That the provisions of this act shall not apply in any instance when the incompatibility of said officers has been made the subject of any litigation in any Court of the Commonwealth prior to the approval of this act nor to any such litigation in any Court of the Commonwealth instituted prior to the approval of this act and still pending and undetermined."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to have the gentleman who offered the amendments explain them, if he will.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, briefly this excepts any municipal authority which is now in litigation.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I wish the gentleman would give us a clear explanation of the intent of the amendment. I have a fair grasp of the English language, but I must confess I am still in a sort of a mental fog.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I do not think I can give a clearer explanation than the amendment itself; it seems to me it is simple English and it is not hard to understand. It simply makes an exception in connection with any authority that is now a matter of litigation in the courts.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I think this amendment ought to be opposed, because it makes an exception. Where litigation has been started, it makes an exception. I do not think a councilman who has been a member of an authority and proceedings have been started ought to be in any different position than any councilman who has been on an authority where there has been no litigation started. All this act was intended to do was to protect these innocent councilmen who become members of an authortiy. I understand some two hundred councilmen in this state have become members of authorities, and to protect those against whom there has been no litigation, and those against whom litigation has been started are not protected, makes fish of one and flesh of the other.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, in speaking about these many bills that were introduced both in the Senate and in the House concerning municipal authorities, I just want to make one observation.

The same day that Senator Edmonds introduced a bill, Senator Walker introduced one, and another bill of which Senator Walker and Senator Edmonds, were the cosponsors, and I introduced a bill on municipal authorities I think that many of the members of the Senate and the House have been misled, due probably to what happened in one authority of the several hundreds that have been constituted within this state.

Now, Mr. President, I listened to Mr. Walker's speech yesterday about a bill in the Senate—I think it was Senate Bill No. 823—and I also listened to Senator Walker, who is supposed to be a champion for home rule, and I hope that he realizes if this bill passes that there is no home rule in Allegheny County for any local municipal authority.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, what bill he was discussing in his remarks just now.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I was discussing Senate Bill No. 1304, (House Bill No. 1728).

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, this bill relates to the compatibility of the offices of members on the authority boards. The amendment says that any board that is in litigation is not going to be affected by the amendments. I can not see what difference it makes as far as this amendment is concerned; it is either a right principle or it is a wrong principle; either they are compatible or they are incompatible, and the fact that a case is in court does not seem to me to make any difference.

What this amendment does is to take out the effect of the amendments that were placed in this bill by the Senate committee and this amendment should not be approved.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, before the roll call is announced I am not so sure but what I would like an explanation. I do not want to vote under a misapprehension.

Am I right, Mr. President, in believing that this amendment will stop the so called McClure proposition in Delaware County from being declared valid by this Legislature? As I understand it, these amendments say that the bonds are invalid if a member of council was a member of the municipal authority and the case is in court. That is what I understand the amendments to do, am I right or wrong?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Westmoreland is entitled to an explanation.

May I suggest to him that House Bill No. 1727 is the one that deals with bonds. The bill under consideration to which the amendments were presented is House Bill

No. 1728, and under House Bill No. 1728, this bill relates to the compatibility of members of a political subdivision that created the authority, and it says in essence that a member of the political subdivision creating the authority can be a member of that authority. In other words it definitely by legislation makes those two offices compatible under the law.

The amendment presented by the gentleman from Allegheny has a specific provision which provides, however, that where suits were instituted and still pending in every such case the provisions of the act would not apply, and therefore in those specific provisions the two offices would not be compatible.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that is exactly what I asked. Maybe I do not understand the bill, but if you pass this bill without this amendment the prior act is not workable. I am not an attorney but I at least have sense enough to know you passed a bill a couple of days ago making the offices compatible, you allow two members of a council to belong to a municipal authority.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say to the gentleman from Westmoreland, and my co-interrogator, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, who is acting as assistant for me, so that he may understand why I am objecting to the amendments and voting "no", I take this position, as suggested a moment ago by some other member of this Senate, if the two offices are compatible at all, we should not draw a fine hair distinction here. If the purpose and the policy of the act is right—I am not defending the act, of course, I am merely saying that if the act is right in principle, it should be right in toto and that is the reason I am voting against the amendments. Of course, the gentleman from Westmoreland can take any position on this bill or this amendment he so desires; I am not attempting to defend the bill or to defend the amendment.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, while I think the interrogation is entirely out of order, I should like to have one question cleared up so that I may not vote under a misapprehension. I accordingly desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, as I understand it the judge in the Chester Water Case has ruled that the office of councilman, or any member of a governing body, and municipal authority are incompatible. Does the gentleman from Allegheny so understand?

Mr. WALKER. That is correct, Mr. President. That was so ruled, as I understand it, in the Chester Water Case by Judge Shull, and also ruled in the Beaver Water Case—I do not recall the name of the judge making the ruling.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman whether or not if this amendment passes you are not nullifying the judges' decision.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, if the amendment and/or the bill passes you are nullifying the decision of both judges.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, voting under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "no" to "aye."

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, in the Chester case and the Beaver Water case there were other matters that perhaps caused the judges to make the decisions they did. I do not think the judge in either case decided that these offices, or merely on the ground of incompatibility of these offices, that was the ground for the decisions. In other words, as I see it, here is a councilman in Chester or a councilman down in Beaver Valley who happens to be a member of an Authority. Now, if we are going to pass legislation and say that is not incompatible, and those offices are compatible, the man in Chester and the man in Beaver Valley ought to be protected by this legislation, as well as a man against whom no case has been filed.

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. President, voting under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no".

The PRESIDENT. The vote of the gentleman from Northumberland will be so recorded.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I understand the vote has been taken and personally I voted "aye" because while I expect to vote against this bill, I think the friends of the bill are entitled to put it in the strongest possible position for voting, and therefore I supported the amendment.

I want to say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, in the Beaver Valley case the question was frankly raised—here is the opinion of Judge Braham, who I think came from New Castle: "The relator has based his case squarely on the proposition that it is against sound public policy and against the law for the respondent and his colleagues on the council of Beaver Falls to appoint themselves members of the Authority. The general rule is stated in 46 Corpus Juris, p. 940, par. 43 (10) as follows: 'It is contrary to the policy of the law for an officer to use his official appointing power to place himself in office so that even in the absence of a statutory limitation, all officers who have the appointing power are disqualified for appointment to the offices to which they may appoint'."

There is more along the same line but I quoted that paragraph because it seems to me a very significant stating of good law, sound common sense and excellent public morality.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to be clearly understood. My position in this matter is partly based upon a justice in the matter and partly upon the political significance of the matter. I want every member of this Senate to know exactly what he is doing, as I see it. The amendments in this bill do not validate anything that happened prior to the passage of this act. In other words, the judge in Delaware County and the judge in Beaver County both have said that the offices of council and membership on a municipal authority are incompatible. Therefore we pass an act of the Legislature now to make the offices compatible.

I just want it clearly understood I am not against approving the proposition of making the offices compatible, nor am I against the proposition of the bill in the sense of it being retroactive and allowing a situation such as the Delaware County and the Beaver case to be clarified by this bill, but I want it clearly understood I do not want the newspapers or public opinion to get the idea that any vote of mine here is condoning the action in Delaware County. I just want that clearly understood, and I admire the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, for having the courage to say in his amendment, we do not condone what happened in Delaware County, by having men on an authority who were in positions of public office at the same time.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am voting "aye" on the amendment, and I will vote aye on the bill, whether the amendment is defeated or not, so long as my position is clear with the public.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be so verified.

The Clerk called the names of those voting in the affirmative as follows.

Carr,	Ealy,	James,	McCreesh,
Coleman,	Edmonds,	Jaspan,	Shapiro,
Dent,	Geltz,	Letzler,	Woodward,
DiSilvestro,	Heyburn,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those voting in the negative as follows:

Barr,	Deitrick,	McGinnis,	Stevenson,
Bartlett,	Farrell,	McQuiddy,	Stiefel,
Becker,	Frey,	Miller,	Wade,
Cavalcante,	Haluska,	Reed,	Walker,
Cox,	Kephart,	Ruth,	Wilson, H. I.,
Crider,	Mallery,	Scarlett,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The negative roll will stand as verified.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GELTZ and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14

Carr,	Ealy,	James,	McCreesh,
Coleman,	Edmonds,	Jaspan,	Shapiro,
Dent,	Geltz,	Letzler,	Woodward,
DiSilvestro,	Heyburn,

NAYS—23

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 768, (House Bill No. 1127) on third reading, entitled:

An Act defining, regulating and providing for the licensing and registration of employment agents and their representatives, including private employment agents, theatrical employment agencies and nurses' registries; providing for revocation and suspension of licenses and registrations, subject to appeal, and for their reinstatement; defining the powers and duties of the Department of Labor and Industry and the Department of Public Instruction; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 769, (House Bill No. 1194), as follows:

An Act to amend sections two and three of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 275) entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures providing for their compensation and expenses prescribing their duties prohibiting vendors from giving false or insufficient weights and fixing the penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof" as amended by providing for the issuance of certificates of approval for weights and measures of county city and borough sealers

Section 1 Section two of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 275) entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures providing for their compensation and expenses prescribing their duties prohibiting vendors from giving false or insufficient weights and fixing the penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof as last amended by the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1757) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2 All county and city inspectors so appointed shall be supplied at the expense of their respective counties and cities with standard tests of weights and measures in conformity with those established by the Government of the United States or the Bureau of Standards of the State and the laws of this Commonwealth and to ensure the accuracy of these tests they shall be compared with the standard tests to be purchased by the Secretary of Internal Affairs and when so compared and their correctness established [they shall be so stamped or marked in such manner as may be established by the rules and regulations hereinbefore referred to to be put in force by said Secretary of Internal Affairs and approved by the Governor of the Commonwealth] a certificate of accuracy shall be issued said certificate to bear the date of examination and approval of the said weight or measure for which the certificate is issued the signature of the examiner and the official stamp of the Department

* * * * *

Section 2 Section three of the said act as last amended by the act approved the eleventh day of July one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 992) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 3

* * * * *

It shall be unlawful for any inspector to use any tests or standards or to attempt to use the same in ascertaining the correctness or accuracy of weights and measures until such comparisons are made and their accuracy established and [so stamped or marked] a certificate of accuracy issued therefor as provided by this act It shall be unlawful for any inspector to manufacture sell or offer to sell any weighing or measuring device used in the sale of commodities or to repair or offer to repair any weighing or measuring device other than such adjustments as he may find necessary in the performance of his official duties for which no fees shall be collected Any inspector violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction therefor shall be fined not exceeding one thousand ($1,000) dollars or undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year or both or either at the discretion of the court

Section 3 This act shall become effective upon its final enactment

Section 1 The act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 600) entitled "An act providing that appointive officers and employes employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in its civil service or by any department bureau commission or office thereof or by any county municipality township or school district shall not be deemed or held to have resigned or abandoned their offices or employments by reason of enlistment enrollment or draft in the military or naval service of the United States or any branch or unit thereof in time of war or contemplated war prohibiting the removal from their offices or employments of such officers and employes during the period of their service in the Army or Navy directing that one-half of the salaries or wages of such officers or employes as have dependent wives children or parents and not exceeding two thousand dollars per annum be paid during the term of their service in the Army or Navy to such dependents authorizing the employment during said term of substitutes to perform the duties theretofore performed by such officers of employes respectively and providing for the compensation of such substitutes" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 That whenever any appointive officer or employe regularly employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in its civil service or by any department bureau commission or office thereof or by any county municipality or township or any appointee officer regularly employed by any school district within the Commonwealth and who shall have been regularly employed thereby for a period of not less than one year prior hereto shall in time of war or [contemplated war] emergency declared by the President of the United States or by the Governor of this Commonwealth enlist enroll or be called or drafted [in] into the active military or naval service of the United States or any branch or unit thereof he shall not be deemed or held to have thereby resigned from or abandoned his said office or employment nor shall he be removed therefrom during the period of his said service during such war or emergency as hereinafter defined but the duties of his said office or employment shall if there is no other person authorized by law to perform the powers and duties of such officer or employe during said period be performed by a substitute who shall be appointed by the same authority who appointed such officer or employe if such authority shall deem the employment of such substitute necessary Such substitute shall receive so much of the salary or wages attached to said office or employment as shall not be paid to the dependent or dependents of said officer or employe as hereinafter provided and such substitute may receive such further compensation from appropriations made for that purpose [or otherwise] as may be required when added to the amount received under the provisions of this act to constitute a reasonable compensation for his services in the opinion of the authority appointing him Provided however that in the case of any county municipality or township or of any appointive officer of any school district the number and compensation of such substitutes shall be fixed by the body authorized by law to legislate for such county municipality township or school district

Section 2 And said officer or employe so enlisting enrolling called or drafted and having a dependent or dependents as aforesaid may at the time of his enlistment enrollment call or draft or immediately thereafter file with the head or chief of the department bureau commission or office in which he is employed a statement in writing executed under oath setting forth the fact and date of his enlistment enrollment call or draft his intention to retain his said office or employment and to resume the duties thereof after the expiration of his active service in the military or naval service or any branch or unit thereof and the names and addresses of his wife children and dependent parent or parents if any such he have and requesting and directing that one-half of the salary or wages of his said office or employment not exceeding two thousand ($2,000) dollars per annum shall be paid during his active service in the military or naval service or any branch or unit thereof as follows [If he have a wife to his wife for her use and that of his children if he have children and no wife then to such person as he may designate for the use and benefit of his children If he have a dependent parent or parents then he shall direct such sum as he has theretofore been accustomed to contribute to their support to be paid to them and the amount payable to his wife or children if any he have shall be proportionately decreased If he have no wife or children he may direct the entire one-half of his said salary or wages not exceeding two thousand ($2,000) dollars per annum to be paid to his dependent parent or parents if any such he have]

If he has a dependent wife and no dependent children or dependent parents to his wife for her use provided however that if he is living separate and apart from his wife at the time of his entry into service the payment to her shall not exceed the amount contributed by him to her voluntarily or by order of Court prior to his entry into service

If he has a dependent wife and dependent children and no dependent parents to his dependent wife for her use and that of the said dependent children

If he has no dependent wife or dependent parents but has dependent children to a person designated by him for the use and benefit of such dependent children

If he had no dependent wife or dependent children but has a dependent parent or parents to such dependent parent or parents for their use provided however that the payment to such dependent parent or parents shall not exceed the amount contributed by him to them prior to his entry into service

If he has a dependent parent or parents and a dependent wife or dependent children then the benefits shall be allocated among them in proportion of his contribution to them prior to his entry into service provided however that the payment to any dependent parent or parents and to any dependent wife living separate and apart from such officer or employe shall not exceed the amount contributed by him prior to his entry into service And provided further that the amount of benefits paid under this act shall in no case exceed an amount which added to the aggregate amount paid to such officer or employe by the United States as compensation commutation and other allowances totals more than the salary or wages paid to such officer or employe by the Commonwealth or by any County municipality or township or paid to any appointee officer by any school district within the Commonwealth at the time of his entry into such military or naval service all sums so directed to be paid shall be paid to the person designed in the same proportional instalments as nearly as may be as the salary or wages of such person were theretofore paid to him With such statement he shall also file powers of attorney authorizing the proper dependents to receive their proportion of said salary or wages as aforesaid

Section 3 The statement required to be filed by section two of this act shall be prima facie evidence of the dependency of any person named as a dependent in said statement but the head of [any] the department bureau commission or office [may in the case of doubt satisfy himself] shall investigate and certify his findings as to the fact of such dependency and if the person so [nominated] named as a dependent was not in fact dependent upon the officer or employe enlisting enrolling called or drafted in the active military or naval service or any branch or unit thereof at the time of his enlistment enrollment call or draft shall refuse to make any payment to such person on account of the salary or wages of such officer or employe Such head of a department bureau commission or office shall also satisfy himself before making payments to dependents under the provisions of this act that the officer or employe was alive during the period for which any payment is made. No payment shall be made under the provisions of this act to any officer or employe enlisting enrolling called or drafted as aforesaid and so much of the salary or wages of such officer employe as is not paid under the provisions of this act to his dependents and his substitute shall [be recovered back into the fund] remain to the credit of the appropriation fund or item from which said salary or wages is paid

Section 4 As used in this act the term "war" shall mean the period between the opening and ending of hostilities and shall not include the period after the ending of hostilities notwithstanding the fact that no treaty of peace has been negotiated or concluded and the term "emergency" shall mean the period between a declaration that a state of emergency exists and a declaration that the state of emergency has been terminated

Section 5 The benefits of this act shall apply to any officer or employe entitled thereto until one month after the termination of the term of service or training in which the said officer or employe shall be engaged at the conclusion of such hostilities or state of emergency but shall not apply to any term of service voluntarily entered into by the said officer or employe after the conclusion of such hostilities or emergency

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I believe this bill ought to be voted for, but I do want to make this comment. We take and give bonuses to one group of citizens when they are called to military service, just because they happen to be employed by a certain particular group of employers, but you take men out of the factories, out of the mines and mills, put them into the army and pay them twenty-one dollars a month and it is perfectly all right, but just because a certain individual happens to be a school teacher, happens to work for a city, happens to work for the state government, they get part or all of their salary, but some other poor devil who happens to work in a mine, probably not making a living while he is working there, has to leave his family and go to the army and get twenty-one dollars a month. It certainly is a funny commentary on American justice.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is a bill covering a personal property tax for county purposes. Recently there was a report of the conference committee on a personal property tax for state purposes. One of the provisions which the conference committee included in that report was a provision exempting the personal property owned by liquidators of closed banks. I ask unanimous consent, in order to make both acts conform, to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read as follows:

Amend title, page 2, line 8 of title, by inserting after the word "Commonwealth" the following: "exempting assets held by liquidating trustees;" Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 6, line 9, by inserting after the word "fiduciary" the following: "nor to personal property formerly held by a banking institution in its own right but assigned by it to one or more trustees for liquidation and payment to the creditors and stockholders of such banking institutions."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WADE. I object, Mr. President, but before I register my objection to the amendment, I should just like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, is it true that this amendment offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, amends the county personal property tax in that it takes out the tax levied on defunct banks?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it takes out the tax on securities held by liquidators holding banks in liquidation, or where they are liquidating personal property for them.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if this amendment now purports to do what is done by Senate Bill No. 77?

Mr. SHAPIRO. The question is very doubtful as to whether it does not have a bearing on this bill as well as the Ziesenheim bill, but it has been checked with the Attorney General's office, and it has been decided it can do no harm. I think personally it should be both in this bill, and the Ziesenheim bill. When it went into the iesenheim bill this amendment was prepared for conference with the Attorney General, and we put it in because we wanted to be sure about it. I personally have no interest and I do not care what you do with it.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, just so the record will be straight, the Attorney General checked these bills carefully and said this amendment is not needed.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, if I may call the attention of my colleagues to this fact, House Bill No. 1420 places in the original bill some amendments that may or may not be desirable. Now, if we allow it to be further amended, then we are in this position, we are placing this bill on the Governor's desk, if it passes, with two important amendments to the original act, whereas, as a matter of fact, we have already passed amendments to do what this proposed amendment to the present bill will do, and the Governor, if he desires to approve one amendment or the other, must veto the entire bill if he does not agree with either one

Now, Mr. President, yesterday or at least recently the House passed finally Senate Bill No. 77, which reads into the original bill the same provision that the proposed amendments now read into it, and I too have checked with the Department of Revenue and with the Attorney General's office, and the information t'ey gave me is that this amendment now suggested is not necessary, but might tend to complicate the entire matter. Therefore, I ask my colleagues to vote down this amendment.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have no personal interest in this amendment, I just desire to keep the record straight, and I have a recollection of a Supreme Court decision which was that the last bill passed on the same subject is the bill that the courts will consider. I do not care what you do with the amendment, but I think after discussing it with one of the Conference Committee, it might be best to put them in the bill because they can do no harm, and if it is not in the bill it might do some harm. All the provisions of the bill have now been incorporated, as I think the gentleman from Montgomery will agree, into the state personal property tax act.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I say, in explanation to the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, as I understand the situation, the Senator from Philadelphia is right in his explanation that his amendment will certainly do no harm. There are two kinds of trusteeship of banks that ought to be exempted from both personal property taxes. The first is where a bank has placed itself in the hands of liquidating trustees, with all its assets—those cases to be exempted in Bill No. 77—but in Bill No. 230. which is the state personal property tax bill, we found also that there were cases where bank A and bank B were merged, and bank A left certain of its assets not desired by bank B in the hands of liquidating trustees, and the language was not broad enough to cover that second group and therefore the second amendment became necessary to take care of them. Now that second class is in Senate Bill No. 77 and it ought to be in the county personal property tax act, and the amendment of the Senator from Philadelphia puts it in, so therefore, I am inclined to think the amendment is a good thing.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I am informed that the amendments to Senate Bill No. 77 are retroactive and the amendment being offered here now is not, which would put the two in conflict and possibly invalidate both. Therefore, I would ask my colleagues to vote down this amendment.

AMENDMENTS WITHDRAWN

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I withdraw the amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1263, (House Bill No. 846), as follows:

An Act requiring school boards in all school districts to grant leaves of absence to all school employes who shall volunteer or be called for military or naval service in time of war or during a state of national emergency preserving certain contracts salaries increments retirement rights seniority State contributions and grants to local school boards eligibility lists re-employment authorizing school boards to employ substitutes in place of such employes reserving all rights and privileges of employes granted leaves of absence under the provisions herein superseding or repealing all contrary laws

Section 1 The Congress of the United States of America has enacted and the President of the United States has approved a statute entitled "An act to provide for the common defense by increasing the personnel of the armed forces of the United States and providing for its training" in which it is provided that certain male citizens of the United States shall be liable for training and service in the land or naval forces of the United States under a system of compulsory selective induction into such forces

Under said statute and subsequent statutes of the United States of America and under the laws of the United States concerning the National Guard and the land and naval reserves forces employes of school districts in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may volunteer or be selected and assigned to military or naval service in defense of this nation

It is hereby declared to be the intention of this act that such employes so affected shall retain all of the rights and privileges they shall have acquired prior to assignment to service under said Federal statutes or any such rights and privileges they would have acquired or received if they had not been assigned to such service it is intended that such employes assigned to such service shall be considered in all respects to be continuing in the service of the school board for which they were last working prior to such assignment to military or naval service

Section 2 (a) Any employe of any school district within the Commonwealth who shall have been regularly employed by said school district for a period of not less than one year prior thereto and who shall volunteer or be called for military or naval service by the United States of America in time of war or during a state of national emergency shall within thirty days of the receipt of notice to said effect send a copy of such notice to the secretary of the school board by which he is employed

(b) The secretary of the school board shall verify the information contained in the notice from any employe concerning selection or induction into military or naval service and upon verification of such facts shall record the same in the records of the school board and send notice thereof to said employe

(c) Without further action by the board of school directors the employe inducted into military or naval service shall forthwith be considered to be upon leave of absence for the entire duration of such service all rights and privileges shall be reserved to such employe as if he continued in the service of said school board provided however that no such leave of absence shall be granted unless said employe shall in writing agree upon termination of the said leave to return to employment in said school district for a period of not less than one school year

Section 3 (a) Wherever a contract is required by law and wherever a contract actually exists between the school board and the employe the same shall be considered to continue in full force and effect during said leave of absence

(b) Upon termination of the military or naval service of an employe in time of war or during a state of national emergency the school board shall immediately return said employe to the same position in the same school or schools from which said employee was granted leave of absence or if this is impracticable in the opinion of the board then to a similar position

(c) During the leave of absence under the aforesaid conditions the school board shall be required to pay to the employe or to the dependent wife dependent child or children or dependent parent or parents of the difference between his regular salary and the salary paid to any substitute employe temporarily engaged because of such absence but in no event more than half of the employe's regular salary from the school district provided that no school district shall pay to any employe or to the dependent or dependents of any employe in military or naval service a total of more than one thousand dollars ($1000) per annum

No school district shall pay to any employe or to the dependent or dependents of any employe more than the difference between the military or naval pay including commutation and allowance of said employe and the regular salary that said employe would have received if he were actually performing the duties of his regular position as an employe of the school district

No allowance shall be paid under the provisions of this Act to any employe or to the dependent or dependents of any employe if his military or naval pay including commutation and allowance exceeds the regular salary that said employe would have received if he were actually performing the duties of his regular position

(d) Increments shall not be abated during the said leave of absence but shall continue to accrue to such employes

(e) In all cases where an employe's regular salary and that paid to a substitute temporarily engaged in his absence is the same then during such leave of absence the school board shall continue to pay the required amount to the retirement fund in behalf of the said employe so that such employe's retirement rights in no way be affected by such leave of absence

(f) The period of said leave of absence shall be considered as service to the school board in the matter of seniority rights and credit toward the time necessary for sabbatical leave Such leave shall not be regarded as a Sabbatical Leave

Section 4 During the period of said leave of absence if a qualified substitute is employed the Commonwealth shall pay the school board the full amount of State contribution or grant as if the said employe were performing his regular school duties for the said school board

Section 5 (a) No person who shall have acquired a place upon the eligibility list for any position in any school district shall suffer the loss of such listing and the position thereon as the result of such induction into military naval or similar service it shall be the duty of the school board to provide a fair and equitable method of preserving rights of such persons

(b) Any person who shall have entered the military or naval services as aforesaid and whose name shall be reached upon said eligibility lists for any position in any school district shall be appointed to said position as if such person were in fact available for actual service in said position and such person shall be so notified by the secretary of the school board of said district and thereafter all of the provisions of this act shall apply

Section 6 For the purposes herein provided this act shall supersede any act or acts of Assembly contrary hereto

Section 7 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment any employe inducted into military naval or similar service as aforesaid prior to the final enactment hereof shall nevertheless be entitled to all of the benefits hereof

Section 8 This act shall apply to all employes of all school districts inducted into the military or naval services under the laws of the United States of America

Section 9 The provisions of this act are severable if any provision shall be construed or deemed to be in violation of the Constitution of the Commonwealth or of the United States or otherwise invalid then the other provisions herein shall not be affected thereby but shall be enforced

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1309, (House Bill No. 448), as follows:

An Act to further amend clause (e) of section seven and to amend the first paragraph of section nine of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" by redefining eligibility for assistance providing for appeals from certain decisions of the Department of Public Assistance to common pleas courts and imposing powers and duties on common pleas court

Section 1 Clause (e) of section seven of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 1091) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 7 Powers and Duties of County Boards of Assistance Each county board of assistance shall have the power and its duty shall be

* * * * *

Section 2 The first paragraph of section nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 9 Eligibility for Assistance Except as hereinafter specifically otherwise provided in the case of pensions for the blind all persons of the following classes except those who hereafter advocate or actively participate by an overt act or acts in a movement proposing a change in the form of Government of the United States by means not provided for in the Constitution of the United States or who advocate Communism Fascism or Naziism or any "un-American or Subversive Doctrines" or who advocate or support a political party or organization of individuals advocating or supporting Communism Fascsm or Naziism or any "un-American or Subversive Doctrines" or are members of any organization of individuals advocating or supporting Communism Fascism or Naziism or any "un-American or Subversive Doctrines" shall be eligible to receive assistance in accordance with rules regulations and standards established by the Department of Public Assistance with the approval of the State Board of Assistance as to eligibility for assistance and as to its nature and extent

Section 2 The provision of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is the so-called subversive act. When this bill was passed by the House, as I understand it, it provided that those who advocate or actively participate by their act or acts in a movement proposing a change in the form of government of the United States by means not provided for by the Constitution of the United States, are subject to the provisions of this act.

Mr. President, I think all of us remember the discussion concerning this act in the newspapers and the criticism that was leveled at the House members because of the fact that they have been charged with delaying passage of this bill.

I call your attention to the fact that this bill in its then form gave a definition of what subversive activities meant. This bill has since been amended to include all persons subject to the provisions of this act, those who advocate Communism, Fascism, or Naziism or any other un-American subversive doctrines.

I should like in connection with this bill, and in support of the wisdom of the House members who prepared the bill in its original form, to read into the record concerning this bill a short editorial from tonight's Evening Bulletin, reading as follows:

"Guarding the Schools

"Legislative compromises have paved the way for the passage of a measure at Harrisburg to check subversive and un-American activities in the schools. A definition of the term 'subversive doctrines,' inserted in th ebill, limits it to mean 'the teaching and advocacy of the overthrow of the Government by methods not provided in the Constitution.' Teachers who offend can, after the bill becomes a law, be dismissed—a procedure not possible as the Tenure Act now stands.

"The drafting of a law which will put an end to the propaganda of Communists and Nazis in the schools and at the same time protect the teachers against infringement of their academic freedom has not been easy. The bill in its present form represents an intelligent effort to meet the difficulty by clearly defining the loose term 'subversive.'

"It can be taken for granted that nearly every local Superintendent and the State Department of Public Instruction are more than ready to clear out of the schools any who advocate violent overthrow of the Government. No patriotic teacher can reasonably object to this being done."

The amendments suggested by the Senate do not define the loose terms, Communism, Fascism, or Naziism. However, I am going to vote for this bill, and I ask my colleagues to join me in voting, because I am quite sure that the bill can be corrected when it is passed with these amendments, when it goes back to the House for concurrence. In any event, I do not know whether the addition of the words will do any harm, but they certainly do not do any good.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, is there a bill coming from the House that applies this same term to teachers, as an amendment to the tenure act? I have not seen such a bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not discussing that at all. I read the editorial because it is applicable to both. We just passed a bill on second reading which dealt with all employes, which includes teachers, and therefore, since that bill was on second reading, I did not want to make a statement at that time, but this bill is on third reading, and is to be passed on by the members of the Senate and it contains an amendment which is objectionable to some of us on this side. I am suggesting that we vote for it, because it can be taken care of.

The language used in this bill is the same as the language used in the bill on second reading, which covers teachers, explaining what is meant by subversive activities.

Mr. EDMONDS. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia think the other bill covers teachers, if it does not amend the tenure act?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Yes I do, Mr. President, it covers every employe of any department of the state or any political subdivision. I think it plainly covers teachers, and if the gentleman from Montgomery reads it, I think he will agree with me.

Mr. COLEMAN. Lest the discussion of the Senator from Philadelphia be a bit confusing to the members of the Senate, may I state that this is a bill that prevents anybody from receiving assistance who advocates the overthrow of the government. There is an appeal to the courts in the event he feels there has been discrimination against him, but I think it ought to be clearly understood. I understand what the gentleman from Philadelphia is trying to get across, but it seems to me this is an entirely different bill. This is a bill which would prevent anybody from being eligible for public assistance who is advocating the overthrow of government.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I think the remarks of the gentleman from Lackawanna further confuse this issue. We understand that the bill is to prevent the giving of relief to those who advocate the overthrow of government by force or by violence, and we know that Communism has been held by the courts of our country to be a form of political idea that does teach the overthrow of government by force and violence but this bill includes two forms that have never yet been defined, Fascism and Naziism.

I do not understand that here in the United States we have any legal decision of any kind, in any court, that Fascism or Naziism teaches the overthrow of American government by force or by violence, but Communism has been so adjudicated in our courts. This bill goes beyond the idea of trying to eliminate from our relief system the giving of relief to persons who advocate the overthrow of government by force and violence. We have a lot of versions here, we have people who may entertain a philosophy different than we entertain, but that philosophy is not based upon the overthrow of our American government by force and violence.

I agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that the words are used very loosely here in this bill and I think that we ought to know what is meant by the terms Fascism and Naziism, and in what particular we are using them in this bill now before us.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, for the information of the gentleman from Montgomery, Senator Edmonds, on second reading we passed tonight House Bill No. 413, Senate Bill No. 1335. It contains the following: "The phrase 'un-American or subversive doctrine' shall be construed to mean doctrines which teach or advocate the overthrow of the government of the United States or of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by revolution or the changing of the form of government of the United States or of the government of Pennsylvania by means not provided for in the Constitution of the United States or the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania." That is the definition which was adopted by the House to describe subversive doctrines, used in this bill, and the bill on which we are now voting.

The bill in the House answers the question as to whether or not there is any bill coming over dealing with teachers, which reads as follows: "No person who hereafter advocates or participates by an overt act or acts in any un-American or subversive doctrines * * * shall be permitted to be employed in any capacity by any department, board, commission or other agency of this Commonwealth, or any county, city, borough, incorporated town, township, school district, vocational school district or institution district thereof or any other authority or institution which is supported in whole or in part out of public funds."

That definition in my opinion covers the teachers, even though it is not an amendment to the Teacher Tenure Act, and therefore I say, the phrase having been adopted in both cases, the amendment in this third reading bill we are now acting on is meaningless.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia for his explanation and I think he has made the matter quite clear. I understand his explanation but I do not agree that it legally amends the Teacher Tenure Act.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1327, (House Bill No. 1952), entitled:

An Act fixing the salary of the Parlimentarian of the House of Representatives

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend title, page 1, line 1 of title, by striking out the following: "Fixing the salary of the" and inserting in lieu thereof: "To amend section four of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 717), entitled 'An act fixing the number, compensation, mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the General Assembly and providing for their election or appointment, term of office and manner of filling vacancies,' by providing for the appointment, compensation and duties of clerks and pages to the majority and minority floor leaders respectively of the Senate and of the House of Representatives; providing for the appointment of a"; amend title, page 1, line 2 of title, by inserting after the word "Representatives" at the end of the line, the following: "defining his duties and fixing his salary and making an appropriation;" amend Sec. 1, page 1, lines 1 to 4, both inclusive, by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof: Section 1. Section four of the act, approved the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 717), entitled "An act fixing the number, compensation, mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the General Assembly and providing for their election or appointment, term of office and manner of filling vacancies," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 4. In addition to the officers and employes herein specified the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall at the commencement of each session of the General Assembly, appoint a parliamentarian to advise the Speaker on parliamentary questions and legislative procedure, and to perform such other duties in connection with the House desk and House transcribing room as the Speaker and Chief Clerk of the House shall direct. The parliamentarian shall receive a salary of five thousand dollars ($5,000) per annum. Between legislative sessions, the parliamentarian shall perform such duties for the Speaker, any committee of the House, or any legislative commission, as the Speaker of the House shall prescribe. In the event of a vacancy existing in the office of Parliamentarian for the House of Representatives by reason of death, resignation or removal, the Speaker shall appoint a qualified person to fill such vacancy. The Chief Clerk of the Senate is hereby authorized to appoint for the session not more than four stenographers for the use of the members and officers of the Senate and the chief clerk of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized to appoint for the session not more than six stenographers for the use of the members and officers of the House of Representatives. The salary of each of the stenographers specified in this section shall be five dollars per diem.

The majority floor leader and the minority floor leader in both the Senate and the House of Representatives are each hereby authorized to appoint one clerk and one page and to prescribe their respective duties. The clerk to each of the aforesaid majority and minority floor leaders shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400) per annum and the page to each of such floor leaders shall receive compensation of seven hundred and twenty dollars ($720) per annum

Section 2. The sum of nine thousand and forty dollars ($9040), or so much thereof, as may be necessary, is hereby specifically appropriated to the House of Representatives of the General Assembly for the two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, for the payment of the salaries of the clerks and pages to the floor leaders of the House of Representatives and for the payment of the increase in the salary of the Parliamentarian effected by this act, and the sum of six thousand two hundred and forty dollars ($6240) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Senate for the payment of the clerks and pages to the floor leaders of the Senate.

Amend Sec. 2, page 1, line 5, by striking out the numeral "2" and inserting in lieu thereof: "3"; Amend Sec. 3, page 1, line 7, by striking out the figure "3" and inserting in lieu thereof: "4".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WADE. I object, Mr. President.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. I want to object also, Mr. President; I do not think any Parliamentarian is worth a greater salary than a Senator sitting in this Senate.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cumberland will proceed.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, is it not necessary to obtain unanimous consent to amend a bill on third reading?

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the gentleman from Cumberland is well taken.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I understood the Chair to ask whether any one objected to presentation of the amendments and nobody objected. The amendments were presented and now there is objection after they are presented.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Kephart, asked unanimous consent to present amendments, there was no objection, the amendments were read, and now the question is on the adoption of the amendments.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, it is my understanding the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, requested unanimous consent to present amendments. The gentleman may present amendments if he desires, but they can not be inserted in the bill without unanimous consent.

The PRESIDENT. That is a matter for the Senate to determine.

Mr. WADE. My objection, Mr. President, is to adoption of the amendments; not to presentation of amendments.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair so understood.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. KEPHART and were as follows,

YEAS—20

Barr,	Ealy,	McCreesh,	Scarlett,
Coleman,	Geltz,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
Cox,	Jaspan,	McQuiddy,	Stiefel,

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1327, (House Bill No. 1952), on third reading, go over in its order temporarily.

The PRESIDENT. If there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1332, (House Bill No. 1895), as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 772, (House Bill No. 1253), as follows:

An Act providing a method of annexation of parts of townships now owned by and contiguous to cities of the first class acquired and used or to be used as an airport seaplane base and rail and marine terminal and regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto

Section 1 That any part of a township contiguous to and now owned by an adjacent city of the first class acquired and used or to be used as an airport seaplane base and rail and marine terminal not exceeding six hundred acres in area may be annexed to the said city of the first class in the manner hereinafter set forth Provided however That no such annexation shall be made under the provisions of this act after the expiration of two years from the effective date of this act

Section 2 The Council of the said City of the first class shall pass an ordinance annexing said contiguous part of the township owned by it to the said City of the first class Said ordinance shall contain a plot of the township and of the portion thereof to be annexed to the said City

Section 3 After the passage of the said Ordinance a certified copy thereof shall be filed in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county in which the said City of the first class is located and in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county in which such township is located and thirty (30) days after such filing the said annexation shall become effective and such part of the township shall become a part of the City and if such township and such city be in different counties the part of the township annexed shall become a part of the county in which such City is situated

Section 4 Unless and until changed in the manner provided by law the part of such township so annexed if not divided into wards shall constitute a separate new ward of the enlarged City and if the part of the township so annexed at the time of annexation be divided into wards then each ward of such part of the township shall constitute a separate new ward of the enlarged city and shall be numbered by the Council of the City consecutively beginning with the next highest number after the existing highest numbered ward of the City Unless and until changed in the manner provided by law all election districts in such annexed part of the township shall remain as constituted at the time of the annexation and upon annexation shall become election districts of the enlarged city All election and other officers of such election districts in office at the time of the taking effect of the annexation shall continue in office until the expiration of their respective terms unless sooner removed as provided by law

Section 5 All the public property owned by such township and situated within the portion thereof which shall be so annexed shall become the public property of the City to which it is annexed All taxes thereafter levied by said City shall be uniform throughout the territorial limits of the enlarged city

Section 6 The county township and school district officers of the county township and school district in which the annexed territory was situated and the City Council shall make a just and proper adjustment and apportionment of all public property owned by the county township or school district at the time of annexation both real and personal including county township and school district funds as well as an adjustment and apportionment of the county township and school district indebtedness if any between the county township and school district and the City In making such adjustment and apportionment of the property and indebtedness the county township and school district and the City shall be entitled respectively to share in a division of the property and indebtedness in the portion that the assessed valuation of the land remaining in the county township and school district respectively bears to the assessed valuation of the land annexed The adjustment and apportionment as so made shall be reduced to writing in proper form and duly executed and acbnowledged by the proper official and filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county in which such City is located

Section 7 In case the Council of the City and the said county township and school district authorities cannot make such amicable apportionment and adjustment of such public property and indebtedness in compliance with this Act within six months after any such annexation then the Council or any officer of the said county township or school district may present a petition to the Court of Quarter Sessions of the County in which the City is located whereupon the Court shall appoint three commissioners one of whom shall be a resident and taxpayer of the said City one of whom shall be a resident and taxpayer of the township and one of whom shall not reside or be taxpayer in the county or counties in which either the City or the township is situated Said commissioners after hearing notice of which shall be given to the City and to the county township and school district interested as the Court shall direct make report to the Court making an apportionment and adjustment of all the public property as well as the indebtedness if any between the City and the county township and school district which said report shall state the amount if any that shall be due and payable from the City to the said county township or school district or from the said county township or school district to the City as well as the amount of indebtedness if any that shall be assumed by the City

Section 8 The Commissioners shall give the City and the said county township and school district at least five (5) days' notice of the filing of their report and unless exceptions are filed thereto by the City or by the county township or school district within thirty (30) days after the filing thereof the same shall be confirmed by the Court absolutely and any sum awarded by the said Court to the City or to the county township or school district shall be a legal and valid claim in its favor against the City or against the county township or school district charged therewith and the amount of debt if any apportioned to the City or to the county township or school district shall be a legal and valid debt of such City or of such county township or school district and any property real or personal given and adjudged to the City or to said county township or school district shall become and be the property of the City or the county township or school district to whichever one the same is given and adjudged and upon such report being confirmed such claim or indebtedness charged against any City or against any county township or school district may be collected in the same manner as judgments are collected against counties cities townships or school districts in accordance with law The commissioners shall be allowed compensation to be fixed by the Court appointing them together with their actual necessary expenses Such compensation and all costs and expenses of such proceedings shall be apportioned by the Court between the City and the county township and school district as it shall deem proper In case exceptions are filed to the report of the commissioners the Court shall dispose of the same taking testimony therein if deemed advisable and the decision of the Court thereon shall be final and binding upon such City and upon such county township or school district unless an appeal is taken within thirty (30) days to the Superior or Supreme Court as in other cases

Section 9 In cases in which such cities townships and school districts are situated in different counties the Court of Quarter Sessions of the county in which the City is located shall have exclusive jurisdiction in all matters which are the subject of this Act but the same shall be heard by a judge not a resident of either of the judicial districts affected who shall be called to preside specially in the matter

Section 10 This Act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, this bill proposes the annexation of a portion of Delaware County by the City of Philadelphia, for the purpose of providing a marine terminal, a sea terminal and an airport. The portion that is to be taken is limited to six hundred acres and a portion is already owned by the City of Philadelphia, Hog Island, having been purchased from the government.

I think the amendments inserted in the bill safeguard properly the adjoining communities and yet I am under the necessity, in order to comply with my own pledges, to vote against this bill, because earlier in the session there was a bill proposed in the House involving annexation of adjacent counties to Philadelphia and at that time I put myself on public record that I would vote against anything of that kind.

I want to say, however, if we have to go outside of the county you can not do it in a more courteous way than has been done by Philadelphia, with the limitations put in this bill. Nevertheless I shall vote against it, although I say very frankly it is a piece of legislation that, if it had been proposed at the beginning of the session, before I made pledges, I should have supported with pleasure.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

SENATE BILL No. 813, (HOUSE BILL No. 896), ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED CALLED UP

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 813 (House Bill No. 896), on third reading and final passage postponed, page 29 of the Calendar.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 813, (House Bill No. 896), as follows:

An Act authorizing county commissioners to sell seated and unseated lands purchased at tax sales upon which the period of redemption has expired and validating certain sales heretofore made

Section 1 The county commissioners of each county are hereby authorized within one year from the effective date of this act to sell at public or private sale in the manner provided by law for the best price obtainable all seated and unseated lands heretofore purchased by them at tax sales and upon which the period of redemption provided by law has expired

Section 2 All sales of any such lands heretofore made by any county commissioners shall be valid and binding on the county and all deeds and conveyances given by the county for any such lands are hereby ratified confirmed and validated and the purchasers thereof and their respective heirs successors and assigns shall hold and may convey such titles and estates indefeasibly as to any rights of the county therein notwithstanding the fact that the time within which such sales were by law required to be made had expired when such sales were made

Section 3 The provisions of section seventeen of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 280) entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof requiring the receivers and collectors of county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes and providing for the lien thereof authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances" as amended is hereby repealed in so far as the same is inconsistent with the provisions of this act

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

SENATE BILL No. 859, (HOUSE BILL No. 724), ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED CALLED UP

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 859, (House Bill No. 724), on third reading and final passage postponed, on page 30 of the Calendar.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading ond consideration of Senate Bill No. 859, (House Bill No. 724), as follows:

An Act to further amend section 363 of the act approved May second one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" and further regulating the form and contents of county auditors reports.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire permission to address the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Fayette, will proceed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, before we go too far this evening I want to call attention to this bill, No. 961, on page 33, that we have dropped from the Calendar. This bill was placed on the postponed Calendar June 11, 1941, and it remained on the postponed Calendar and was never called from the postponed Calendar until tonight. This bill on June 11th was placed on the postponed Calendar when it was on second reading. It was not read the second time nor has it been read the third time. I am calling that to your attention in order to prevent here a serious mistake in the passage of this bill. You will find that it was still on the postponed Calendar, second reading bills, on page 29 of the Calendar for June 10th. There is no record showing this bill was called from the postponed Calendar yesterday and read for the second time.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to call attention of the Senate to the fact that this bill was called from the postponed Calendar yesterday and amended so that it appears today, on the third reading Calendar and has been legally passed.

RECESS

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

SENATE BILL No. 46 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 46, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," authorizing the county treasurer to appoint a solicitor and providing for his salary payable by the county with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the consurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills to be noted on the Calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MOTION THAT SENATE NON-CONCUR IN THE AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 46

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate non-concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 46.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

SENATE BILL No. 1098 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 1098, entitled:

An Act relating to the sale, transfer, assignment and pledge of choses in action and requiring the assignor of accounts receivable and choses in action to make appropriate record of the fact of such assignment, and prescribing penalties for failure to do so.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills to be noted on the calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 1098 is a bill which deals with assignment of accounts receivable and so forth. The House has placed certain amendments in the bill. Personally I felt the bill was a bad bill, but it has passed the House and these amendments, I am told, make it better than when it passed the Senate.

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 1098

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 1098.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

SENATE BILL No. 1327, (HOUSE BILL No. 1952), ON THIRD READING CALLED UP

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 1327, (House Bill No. 1952), on third reading, page 15 of the Calendar, which went over in its order.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1327, (House Bill No. 1952), on third reading, entitled:

An Act fixing the salary of the Parliamentarian of the House of Representatives.

be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for the purpose of further study.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no".

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lackawanna will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. COLEMAN and were as follows:

YEAS—19

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Miller,	Tyler,
Becker,	Geltz,	Scarlett,	Wade,
Crider,	Heyburn,	Snowden,	Walker,
Ealy,	Letzler,	Tallman,	Wilson, T. B
Edmonds,	Mallery,	Taylor,

Coleman,	DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	Shapiro,
Cox,	Haluska,	McQuiddy,	Stiefel,

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Saturday, July 12, 1941, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. CRIDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:59 o'clock, p. m. Eastern Standard Time until Saturday, July 12, 1941, at 1:00 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

FRIDAY, July 11, 1941

The House met at 12 m.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Donald McFall offered the following prayer:

Our gracious God and Father, in the rush of many duties, we would be quiet before Thee. In the quietness of the moment, may each one of us have given thanks unto Thee for all the blessings of life which are as numberless as the grains of sand that make up the sea side. In our attempt to count our blessings, naming them one by one, we have found Thee to be a good Father not only to us as individuals, but Thou hast blessed our State and our Nation. Help us, O God, to be good children of Thine at all times.

In our relationships within this House of Representatives, may each one, in his contacts from time to time, have found the finest and the best in the life of each man, and recalling it to mind, give thanks to Thee, for having had the privilege of friendship and fellowship. We thank Thee for friends. May we not only have been a friend to mankind while here in this House, but when we return to our respective homes, may we radiate that friendship wherever we go, and with whomsoever we meet on the highway of life. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. RANK, unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Messrs. GATES and HELM offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1941.

The long rows of lighted windows in the shops and factories and foundaries of the Commonwealth at night and their smoke belching chimneys by day indicate the time that defense workers are engaged in turning out implements of warfare in Pennsylvania.

Blocked railroad crossings and long lines of trucks upon the highways tell the part that transportation facilities are taking in the delivery of raw products and finished articles of defense.

Only a visit to Indiantown Gap however, will give any idea of the vast accomplishment already achieved in turning the raw draftee into a finished fighting unit or of the wonderful progress that has been made in transforming a National Guard camping ground into a modern military reservation.

At the head of this new military wonderland with its thousands of student soldiers is the Honorable Edward Martin of peace times but now magically changed from Adjutant General and former State Treasurer, Auditor General, State Chairman and lawyer into a military genius known as Major General Martin.

No man in Pennsylvania has so long a joint-record of political and military achievement. To match his service to the Commonwealth in peace times is a war record that includes service in the Spanish-American War, Philippine Insurrection, Mexican Border and the first World War. He began his military career as a member of the National Guard in 1898 and is a member of Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Legion of Valor, Military Order of the Carabou and Spanish-American War Veterans.

General Martin is Pennsylvania's number one soldier and Pennsylvania yields to no other State or Commonwealth when selecting the Nations ranking military leader

He has proven his valor on the field of battle and at Indiantown Gap he has demonstrated his value as an organizer. We want no participation in the present war but if war comes the Commonwealth's honor and her pride in the valor of her sons is safe in the hands of General Martin; therefore be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, That the House is proud of the accomplishments of General Martin at Indiantown Gap and to him it extends its sincere congratulations on the transformation of camp and men that have been brought about under his direction; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House to General Edward Martin at Indiantown Gap.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Messrs. REAGAN and FISS offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1941.

The Seventeenth Judicial District of the Commonwealth composed of Union and Snyder Counties has lost a much loved Judge, an eminent jurist and an outstanding citizen.

Before the sun of life had begun to set and while honors were still thick upon him, the Honorable Curtis C. Lesher died last Saturday at Lewisburg in the county of his birth, the place he has served so well.

Judge Lesher was born August 17th, 1881 in Buffalo Township, Union County, and graduated from the Lewisburg High School in 1898 and Bucknell University in 1904. He was admitted to the Bar of Union County in 1910 and after practicing his profession for only six years was elected District Attorney of the county and was subsequently reelected for three succeeding terms.

Judge Lesher started life on a farm and fought his way to the top of the profession he had chosen. He made friends easily and held them long. He was quiet and unassuming, ever ready to help those in need and created such a warm place in the hearts of those who knew him that he was never defeated in his home county at any election in spite of the fact that politically he was a member of the minority party.

Judge Lesher was elevated to the bench in the seventeenth Judicial District in 1931 for a term of ten years; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House extends to his widow its most sincere sympathy and directs the Chief Clerk to transmit to her a copy of this resolution as an evidence of its recognition of the place her husband held in the Commonwealth and in the hearts and lives of his fellowmen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time calls to the rostrum to preside a man who is never heard addressing the House. The Chair is pleased that at last we are really going to hear his voice,—the gentleman from Bradford, Mr. Gillette.

MR. GILLETTE IN THE CHAIR

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Mr. BAKER offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1941.

It was a grand party, the Chief Clerk's midnight supper in the Penn-Harris ball room last evening. Every member of the House and every employe was there, and had the time of his life.

The refreshments were of the finest and tastiest. The little prima donna, the acrobats and the Spaniard furnished a high type of entertainment. The singing, led by our jovial fellow member, "Tony" Gerard, was spontaneous and wholehearted. And above all, the brief presence of our genial host upon the stage served to complete an evening long to be remembered; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives, shout of one accord, "Thank you, Tom Callahan, for a swell evening! As a host you are excelled only by your efficiency as our Chief Clerk;" and further, be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of the House of Representatives be called upon to prepare and present to the Chief Clerk a certified copy of these resolutions as a further token of our appreciation of his hospitality.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the Chief Clerk of the House, Thomas J. Callahan.

The CHIEF CLERK. Honorable Members, I am glad to have been host to you last night and I hope you all had a good time. Thank you.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GERARD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House I am sure each Member who sat in this House last evening was deeply impressed with the solemnity of the occasion and I am sure more so with the remarks that were made in tribute to our distinguished Speaker. They will be long remembered by us, but to make sure they shall be remembered we deem it fitting and proper that the House adopt a resolution which the Honorable gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baker, and I will present, and ask unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION AND REMARKS TO BE PRINTED

Messrs. GERARD and BAKER offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1941.

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House be directed to have printed the resolution of congratulations to the Speaker of the House introduced by the gentleman from Delaware Mr. Turner, on Thursday July 10th, 1941, together with the remarks of the members of the House relating thereto.

Be it further resolved That a copy of the bulletin be sent to each member of the House.

THE SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Bradford, Mr. Gillette, for presiding.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 663

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 663, Printer's No. 1170.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 663

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 663, entitled:

"An Act authorizing the Commonwealth to negotiate temporary emergency loans to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one evidenced by tax anticipation notes secured by and payable from current revenues levied assessed collectible and accruing during such two fiscal years defining the powers and duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto providing for the payment of interest on and the repayment of such loans and making an appropriation."

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

Weldon B. Heyburn
Franklin S. Edmonds
Harry Shapiro
(Committee on the Part of the Senate.)

Leo A. Achterman
Albert S. Readinger
Edwin Winner
(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth to negotiate temporary emergency loans to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one evidenced by tax anticipation notes secured by and payable from current revenues levied assessed collectible and accruing during such two fiscal years defining the powers and duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto providing for the payment of interest on and the repayment of such loans and making an appropriation

Whereas The present session of the General Assembly has provided revenues of the Commonwealth amounting to at least three hundred seventy-three million dollars ($373,000,000) for general purposes for the biennial fiscal period beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and

Whereas Such revenues though levied and assessed will not be available in large part for the current and other expenses of the State government until the later parts of the two fiscal years respectively of the said biennial fiscal period and the collectible revenues will not be sufficient to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the earlier parts of such fiscal years respectively and

Whereas In order that the obligations of the Commonwealth may be met promptly and in order that the State government might not fail through lack of funds it is necessary temporarily to obtain funds to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the fiscal period aforesaid until the revenues that are subsequent accruing to the State Treasury during said fiscal period are available for this purpose

Section 1 The Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are hereby authorized and directed during the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one from time to time to borrow on the credit of the current revenues of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania such sum or sums of money not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of one hundred seventy-five million dollars ($175,000,000) as may be necessary to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during such fiscal years

Section 2 (a) Such loans shall be evidenced by notes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania All of said notes shall mature not later than the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three Such notes are hereby declared to be tax anticipation notes Such notes or renewals thereof shall be issued from time to time for such total amounts in such sums and subject to such terms and conditions rates of interest not in excess of four and one-half per centum (4½%) per annum and time of payment of interest as the Governor Auditor General and State Treasurer shall determine and direct

(b) All notes issued under the authority of this act shall bear either the signatures of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer or the facsimile signatures of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in which latter event such notes shall be countersigned by two officers of the Philadelphia National Bank (Loan and Transfer Agent of the Commonwealth) All such notes shall bear a fascimile of the great seal of the Commonwealth

(c) All notes issued under the authority of this act shall have the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Law of the Commonwealth

(d) The current revenues of the biennial fiscal period beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one are pledged for the payment of principal and interest of such notes which shall be payable in lawful money of the United States All notes issued under the provisions of this act shall be exempt from taxation for State and local purposes

Section 3 The proceeds derived from the negotiation of loans under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the General Fund of the State Treasury and shall be used for the payment of appropriations made from such fund to defray the current and other expenses of the State government for the biennial fiscal period beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one

Section 4 Any loans negotiated under the provisions of this act shall be secured by the current revenues levied and assessed for revenue purposes of every kind or character accruing to the General Fund of the State Treasury during the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and shall be paid out of such revenues and so much of such revenues as may be necessary for the payment of the principal and interest of such loans are hereby specifically appropriated The Department of Revenue shall allocate such revenues to said payments

Section 5 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions are held unconstitutional the decision so holding shall not be construed to impair any other provision of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein

Section 6 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to call to the attention of the Members of the House the fact that the bill that was read by the Clerk is House Bill 663; on the calendar it appears as House Bill 662. I presume one of the two is in error.

The SPEAKER. The Chair was about to state that there is an error in the printing of House Bill No. 662. It should be 663, Printer's No. 1170.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to state that this report of the Committee of Conference is in conformity with the compromise agreement we had with the Governor of Pennsylvania, and I therefore am urging the Democratic Members of the House to support the report.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I just merely wish to say that the report of the Committee on Conference on House Bill 230, and I presume the report of the same committee on House Bill 234, which I think will be read next, is in accordance with the compromise agreement that we had with the Governor, and I ask the Democratic Members of the House to support it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 234

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 234, Printer's No. 1174.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 234, entitled:

"An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven (P. L. 292), entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' by increasing the rate of tax for a further limited period of time."

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

Weldon B. Heyburn
Franklin S. Edmonds
Harry Shapiro
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

Leo A. Achterman
Albert S. Readinger
Edwin Winner
Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven (P. L. 292) entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation" by increasing the rate of tax for a further limited period of time

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven (P. L. 292) entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation" as last amended by the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 53) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act every bank or savings institution having capital stock incorporated by or under any law of this Commonwealth or under any law of the United States and located within this Commonwealth shall on or before the fifteenth day of February in each and every year make to the Department of Revenue a report in writing verified as required by law setting forth the full number of shares of the capital stock subscribed for or issued as of the preceding thirty-first day of December by such bank or savings institution and the actual value thereof as of the preceding thirty-first day of December which actual value shall be ascertained as hereinafter provided It shall be the duty of the Department of Revenue to assess such shares for taxation at the same rate as that imposed upon other monied capital in the hands of individual citizens of the State that is to say for the calendar years ending December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-six December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine [and] December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-one and December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred forty-two at the rate of eight mills upon each dollar of the actual value thereof and thereafter at the rate of four mills upon each dollar of the actual value thereof the actual value of each share of stock to be ascertained and fixed by adding together the amount of capital stock paid in the surplus and undivided profits and dividing this amount by the number of shares It shall be the duty of every bank or savings institution within a period of sixty days after the date of such settlement by the Department of Revenue to collect the amount of said tax from its shareholders and pay the same to the State Treasurer through the Department of Revenue Provided That in case any bank or savings institution having capital stock incorporated under the law of this State or of the United States shall collect annually from the shareholders thereof said tax of eight mills or four mills as the case may be on the dollar upon the actual value of all shares of stock of said bank or savings institution according to the provisions of this act that have been subscribed for or issued and pay the same into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue the shares and so much of the capital and profits of such bank or savings institution as shall not be invested in real estate shall be exempt from local taxation under the laws of this Commonwealth and such bank or savings institution shall not be required to make any report to the local assessor or county commissioners of its personal property owned by it in its own right for purposes of taxation and shall not be required to pay any tax thereon The procedure in case the Department of Revenue be not satisfied with the report made by any bank or savings institution and the penalties for failing to make such report and pay the tax shall be as provided by law

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair is about to declare a recess for thirty minutes. Is there objection? The Chair hears none and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The SPEAKER. The time of recess having expired the House was called to order.

THE SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Shaw, to preside.

MR. SHAW IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair requests the Sergeant-at-Arms to escort the minority whip of the House, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, to the well of the House, and also requests the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Gerard, Chairman of the Allegheny County delegation, to come forward.

PRESENTATION TO MR. TURNER

Mr. GERARD. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, we listened with a great deal of interest during the ceremonies last evening, and much has been expressed in resolutions that were presented concerning the various members of the House, but today after some levity and after a most pleasant evening spent in congeniality with the gentleman to my left, we come to a more serious moment, to a time when we want to express our sentiments and our feelings in just a little different way.

A pleasant duty has been assigned to me to make a presentation to our good friend Ellwood Turner. Those of us who have known Ellwood in the past know that he has been a regular and a real fellow. When it was necessary for him to be serious he was serious; in times of fun he just gave fun. We want Ellwood to know that we of the House have the highest and the kindest regard for him in all the work he has done.

I would like to say to you, Ellwood, that when you leave here today the Members want you to know that they have a high regard for you, and through this small gift they want to express that regard. May I say as I give you this gift it is not so much the intrinsic value it represents but the expression of good will of the members. I trust you will accept this gift knowing that the members of this House give you their kindest and the most heartfelt felicitations.

Mr. TURNER. Tony, I want to thank you and the members of the House from the bottom of my heart for this very lovely gift. I presume the gift, not the fact of giving something, but the gift itself was inspired by my neighbors over here on the left, from whom I have constantly borrowed fountain pens during the session, usually losing every pen or pencil that I got in my pocket.

Two years ago I stood in this same position to receive at the hands of the members of the House some lovely gifts which grace and adorn my own home and which we use on all festive occasions. One of them, a punch bowl, is fittingly inscribed, and it is fittingly filled on all festive occasions. I only wish it might be my good luck to find time and to have the opportunity to meet many of you, to fill that bowl and drink to you in order that I might in the things we do, and in the spirit of that of which we partake, express my feeling far better than I can in words. I can truthfully say that I am much surprised that in this session in which I have taken a very minor part, I should be presented with this gift. I have remained quietly in my seat, refraining from taking part in discussions on the floor in order that the younger generation that is coming on in the House might have an opportunity to fit themselves with their spurs and carry on for the good of the people of this Commonwealth. There is something about representation in this House, the holding of an office as a member of this House, no matter what our politics may be, that has always amazed me because as we meet each other from time to time on the street, in the train or some other place, some fellow comes forward with a smile, a warm handclasp and says, "Do you remember me? I served in such and such a session?" That typifies, I think, all of our relationships here. However, after all we do become sort of a club or group.

I made a farewell address two years ago, and I hesitate to make one now, but I feel very certain that I am spending my closing hours of service in the House of Representatives, and I will carry away with me this pen, in the hope that I can keep it and preserve it, and as I take it out from time to time to pen some word or line or to perform some of my tasks or services there will always come to me as I grasp it the feeling that I am grasping the hands of the Members of this House, who by such a gracious gift certainly have shown that they are extending the hand of friendship, which I shall always grasp with the remembrance of the kindnesses and expressions of good will that you have had towards me.

PRESENTATION TO MR. LOVETT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Sergeant-at-Arms please escort to the well of the House the majority whip of the House, the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, and will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout also come forward.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, it has been my pleasure and opportunity to serve as a member of this House since 1933. I can truthfully say that I have not taken up much of the time of the House in making speeches, or discussing matters on the floor. It has been my pleasure however to meet men here, to get to know them well and form associations which I shall not soon forget.

I sat with Mr. Lovett when he was a Member of the minority and when he was a Member of the majority, and a very close relationship, and a very close friendship grew up between us. I had what I consider the distinct honor of serving with Mr. Lovett on a commission on which we felt we did a good work. So far as politics were concerned we did not know that there was any difference between a Democrat and a Republican when we were working for those things which we thought were for the benefit of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

It has always been my pleasure and my privilege to go to Mr. Lovett and discuss matters of legislation, and Jim, there is nothing that I enjoy more than this privilege of presenting to you this token from the membership of the House.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I want to thank Mr. Trout for the nice things he has said. I want to thank all the Members of the House for the kindness they have shown to me as a Member of the Legislature. I also want to thank especially the men on the Democratic side during this session for their kindness to me as Chairman of their Democratic caucus.

PRESENTATION TO SECRETARY OF HOUSE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Sergeant-at-Arms escort to the well of the House, the Secretary of the House, Mr. Mulvihill, and will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard also present himself there.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Chairman and Members of the House, I understand and realize that my remarks are to be very short. I am speaking about a short man. I want to say to Mr. Mulvihill we have appreciated his work as Secretary of the House. We do not know all the duties that have been his, but we know that through his work the machinery of the House has been kept running smoothly and we appreciate his labors. He has had the experience of serving in a similar capacity in the Senate. Now that he has been lifted from that lowly job in the Senate and promoted to the House of Representatives, he has conducted himself very well, and we appreciate the fidelity that he has shown to his job.

In behalf of the members of the House who recognize your fitness, your ability and your service, we want to make to you this presentation, and we hope you will accept it as coming from the bottom of our hearts.

The SECRETARY OF THE HOUSE (Dennis Mulvihill). Mr. Shepard and Members of the House, I thank you for this beautiful gift. I take with me from you not only this beautiful gift, but I take with me many happy memories which I will cherish through life. I shall always recall that during this session of the Legislature I have worked for 208 of the finest bosses in the world, and I will always remember that in this session which was full of controversy I have seen the session end in peace and compromise. I will remember that I have seen democracy working.

PRESENTATION TO PARLIAMENTARIAN

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Sergeant-at-Arms please escort to the well of the House the Parliamentarian, and will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Stockham, also come forward.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Chairman, Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, on shipboard the second officer is the navigating officer; it is he who finds the place on the high seas where the ship may be. The responsibility for the lives and property of all aboard that ship are very much in his hands. The second officer is not always in great evidence, but the effect and the value of his knowledge, his judgment and his service brings that ship to a safe haven. I count in this House the Parliamentarian similarly as the second officer of the ship, who guides and directs the captain, the master of that craft.

It has been my privilege to have served in this House a number of sessions; it is always a privilege to serve. There is something to be had in the sense of service when it can be had without a real expectation of remuneration. However, there comes always in the hearts of those who have been served the realization that there is due some acknowldgement and some recognition of that man's work and his efforts even in this House of Representatives.

So it is my privilege and it is a great pleasure to me too to have this part in this program, that of making this presentation to the man whom we all esteem, the man whose place among us of the House is of great value, that place at the left hand of the Speaker, not only to guide him, but to guide each of us in the positions that we take upon the floor of the House. For the services rendered by this fine servant, the second officer of this ship, we made this presentation today to express our deep and sincere appreciation. So, Eddie Moore, permit me, please, to present you with this token of our esteem and of our affection.

Mr. S. EDWARD MOORE. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Stockham and Members of the House, at a time like this it is difficult to find words to adequately express my sincere appreciation for the many nice things the Speaker of the House and you members have said of me and done for me. I can assure you it is more than I deserve. However, what I want most is to have your continued confidence and trust. This beautiful sterling silver pitcher will long be enjoyed in the Moore family in fond remembrance of a great bunch of fellows. From the bottom of my heart I thank you.

PRESENTATION TO CHIEF CLERK

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Sergeant-at-Arms will please escort to the well of the House the Chief Clerk of the House, and will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. James, also present himself there.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the House, fearful that I might not have the words for this high occasion, and fearful if I had the words I might not say them well, I have devoted sometime this morning to writing with painstaking care something I would like to say at this time:

High above the lounging newsmen
Well above the Chamber's bar
Sits a man—forever musing
'Midst some minions of his choosing
High above the Chamber's bar

Just forninst the busy Speaker
Well above the Chamber's bar
Sits he there his thoughts revealing
To naked huzzies in the ceiling
High above the Chamber's bar

Comes the hour! The gavel falls
Well above the Chamber's bar
O'er the house the babbling quiets
Nothing changes he who sits
High above the Chamber's bar

Prayer is said—the Parson bows
Well above the Chamber's bar
Slowly turns he in his chair
He who watches from up there
High above the Chamber's bar.

Forward now the business goes
Well above the Chamber's bar
Now he peers into our faces
Noting well the empty places
From above the Chamber's bar

Hey Guide! Exclaims a stranger here
Pointing towards the Chamber's bar
Whose the guy who does no work?
Replies the Guide, "Why he's the Chief Clerk
There above the Chamber's bar."

But see now he stirs—the Members vote
They stare at him above the Chamber's bar
Some gouge their eyes—for "yes" y'see
They thumb their nose who disagree
At him—above the Chamber's bar.

However, Tom Callahan, excellent Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, behind the fun and levity on an occasion of this kind, which I do not consider improper, there is something more. We listened here last night and today to great things said of great men, our wonderful Speaker, our floor leaders and others of our officers, but I say here and now to you, Tom, that because of your interest in your fellow men, your name like that of Abou Ben Adhem should lead all the rest because you among all others are the only one who has ever authorized the Reading Clerk to tell us when and how and where to get our pay checks.

It becomes my very pleasant duty in the name of and in behalf of all the members of this House to present to you a slight token of our high esteen and affection. I understand if you learn how to use this thing well it will pour out for you for years to come floods of joy and cheer.

The CHIEF CLERK. (Thomas J. Callahan). Mr. Speaker, Mr. James and Members of the House, I want to thank Mr. James very sincerely for the kind words he has said. Had I known he was going to make his presentation speech in poetry I might have courted the Muse myself and received a little inspiration, so that I might have answered him in the same form of expression. I appreciate this gift very much. I shall cherish it because it will always be to me a symbol of the fine friendships and associations I have had here with two hundred eight of the finest gentlemen in the State of Pennsylvania.

I hope after adjournment I shall have the pleasure of being able to continue to serve you. My office will be at your service at all times and I hope to see you often. I had the experience in the special session of 1938 of seeing the Members leave, and I remember how lonely I was at that time. While the work was very trying and arduous during the session it was compensated for by the genuine friendship and fine association of the Members with whom I came in contact daily. I shall miss your friendly faces. I wish you well, good luck, good health and prosperity. I thank you most sincerely for this beautiful gift.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair announces with regret that Mrs. Cohen is unable to come to the well of the House to receive the gift which we have prepared for her. It is due probably to the fact that we have given her so much work to do. Nevertheless, we have not forgotten Mrs. Cohen.

PRESENTATION TO MR. WOODSIDE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Sergeant-at-Arms will please escort the minority floor leader, the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, to the well of the House, and will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger please come forward.

The Chair also wishes to announce that the mother and the wife of Mr. Woodside are guests this afternoon. Will the ladies please rise so that the Members may see them?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Chairman, Members of the House, and guests, so many complimentary, nice and true things have been said about Bob Woodside in the last few days, particularly last night by the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Stockham, that I am not going to repeat in making this presentation. I simply want to say that men like Bob Woodside make this democracy strong. Bob Woodside is a hard fighter, a clean fighter and a good leader.

We are particularly happy today, Bob, that your charming wife and lovely mother are with us, in order that they may witness this presentation of a small gift indicating our affection for you. This is a great day for Bob. It is not only his tenth wedding anniversary but it also happens to be his mother's birthday. He is to be congratulated upon those things as well as upon the fine work which he has done here this session. Bob, we don't know whether you'll be with us the next session, and speaking for the moment for the Democrats I hope you will not, because we would prefer to see you as a member of the bench of the Dauphin County Courts. Personally I don't know whether the people of Dauphin County know your abilities as well as we know them, but if they do they certainly will send you to the bench, and knowing your ability as we do we are hoping for a less able adversary next session. Whatever course fate may have in store for you I just wish to add that we have had great pleasure in serving with you and that if you come back again we know we will enjoy your being here. I present to you as a small token of the affection we have for you this plate.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Readinger and fellow members of the House, I am just about as fussed up as I was ten years ago because ten years ago at this very minute I was going down the aisle, or rather met at the end of the aisle the one who I then thought and now know to be the finest girl in the world.

I want to say a word of appreciation to my wife. This is our tenth wedding anniversary. We had planned to go to Atlantic City this week end, but the session has upset that plan, but she has cheerfully made no complaint. A few years ago we were in sesson on her birthday, we were in the closing days and I forgot all about it. One should never do that of course, but I have never heard any complaint about it. While we were talking about the Red bills and amending the Teachers Tenure Act Mrs. Woodside was waiting at home in her evening clothes ready to go out for an evening's entertainment. I called her up about eleven o'clock and told her I couldn't keep the six o'clock apopintment, and there still was no complaint. I wonder whether any of you men can match that.

As has been suggested here, possibly the remaining days of this session will be the last time I shall appear before the House. Some of you seem to give a sigh of relief, probably on both sides of the House. For the reasons suggested I hope these will be my final days in the House, but no matter where I am or what I do hereafter, I do not think there is any thing I will enjoy more than the work I have had in this House of Representatives and the friendships I have made here.

PRESENTATION TO MR. ACHTERMAN

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Sergeant-at-Arms escort to the well of the House the majority floor leader, the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, and will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, also come forward.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, fellow members of the House, my friend and opponent, Leo Achterman, I thought as I saw my name on the list to make this presentation that the committee, while I appreciate the honor and the opportunity, might have passed it on to someone else who might have tired you less with talk during this session than I.

I have been thinking back over my years of service here and the men who have left the different sides of this House. When I first came to the House we didn't have floor leaders as we now know them. Generally the administration picked out someone to handle administration measures, and that is about as far as we went. Then when we had the division in the Republican ranks we began to have leaders on both sides of the partisan group. It was not until about 1935, I think, or perhaps 1933 that this custom of having floor leaders regularly designated and elected by the membership was put into effect. I think it has contributed much to the operation of the House, to its efficiency and effectiveness, and certainly has contributed much to the independence of the House, if I may use that word, as a coordinate branch of the government. Consequently, Leo, you are not one of a long line of Democratic leaders, because when I came to the House we hardly knew what a Democrat looked like, nor did we pay much attention to that designation. About 1933 we began to get some inkling, and by 1935 we had an avalanche that told us who the Democrats were.

Nevertheless, Leo, having occupied some of those jobs myself I know the burden that is cast upon the leader of either group, whether it be the minority or the majority of this House, and while the minority leader has a great amount of work to do, that work multiplied greatly because you have assumed in this session not only the majority leadersip but you have been the Chairman of the appropriations committee as well, and have been a glutton for work.

I think the newspaper men in their poll said you were the most industrious man in this House. I do not think they went quite far enough, because I suppose they meant you were the most industrious man legislatively. I could mention other men who were more industrious in other pursuits than you, but that is not what I mean at this time.

I know you assumed a tremendous responsibility and a tremendous burden, and it is a tribute to the way you have handled it, because as I have watched your side of the House, have listened to the roll calls, have seen the moves, have been among the members, you have had a uniformly loyal group and the majority in this House has, it seems to me, done less kicking about the floor leader than I have heard many times in the past. That is most convincing evidence of the fact that you are performing your task in not only a satisfactory manner, so far as your group is concerned, but you must have been efficient and hard working.

We have spoken about the time in this session when we like to make these gifts. I am always reminded of the time a fire company wanted to present one of its members with a silver horn. The fellow who was to make the presentation practiced his speech for a long time. The day came when the presentation was to be made and he got nervous and forgot all about his speech.

He said, "Here, Bill, here is the horn."

Bill said, "Hell, is that it?"

I would like to have gotten away with just a short statement like that, but that would not be what these men want me to do. That would not be what I would like to do for you, because after the work you have done, the days and hours you have spent here when the legislature was not in session and the members had gone home, the tremendous amount of study the majority leader must give to legislation, the great amount of research he must do, the great amount of data he must secure and assimilate and get in his head, the great number of times he must get up on the floor, the number of people standing around pestering him, the trials and tribulations of the newspaper men always surrounding him seeking news, entitles the majority leader not only to receive some token from the House, but to have it said to you that they believe your job has been well done. They want you to carry away with you not something that says during this session you have been the majority leader, not merely a certificate, a label or a piece of paper, not something in the directory for this session, but something that is permanent, something that is tangible that you can keep within your home for your family's use, so that when the time comes for you to leave this world you can pass it on to your children that they may know you had achieved this position in your life and that the Members of the legislature had a high regard for you, and wished to show in some way their appreciation for the service you rendered them and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. They therefore want to present to you this very lovely coffee service and tray. It always seems to me coffee is one of the best parts of a dinner, one of the best parts of any festive occasion, when as we gather around, sit back in our chairs with our cigars and pipes, perhaps gather around the fire-place, we can place before us the coffee urn and enjoy its delicious aroma as we sip it. We trust if ever the hours become a little dark for you, if ever there comes a time when you feel discouraged, you will get out this coffee set, place it on the table, put on your old slippers and pour forth some of that Java into the cup. If you have a little brandy it will help. You can then lean back with your pipe or your cigar and blow clouds of smoke into the air and as they curl upward, you will see in these clouds the faces of two hundred and eight members of the House that you have served. They have differed with you and they have battled with you, but there is no rancor left. There is only a lot of affection for the work you have done and the services that you have rendered.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Turner and my fellow colleagues, Mr. Turner made a remark about the fitness on his part to present a gift of this House to me, having reference to the fact that he has been speaking so much. I know of no more fitting person to make this presentation than Mr. Turner. Only a few of the Members of this House know that Mr. Turner, as a matter of fact, has his second home in my county, so that in addition to representing the County of Delaware he also represents the County of Monroe. I am not going to try to tell you about the conflict that is going on up in the County of Monroe, as to whether they shall follow me or follow Ellwood Turner. I think possibly the decision is about the same as the decision here in the House.

I do wish to express to you, my fellow colleagues, my appreciation for this beautiful gift. May I assure you I have enjoyed the days I have spent here with you, both in work, in combat and in pleasure. As years come and go, may I say to you that I and my family will not only appreciate the usefulness and beauty of the gift, but it will bring back to me memories that I assure you will never be effaced. They are wonderful memories, memories that I know I will cherish throughout my entire life. I again thank you from the bottom of my heart.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bretherick.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House of Representatives, on behalf of the Republican members of this House, I want to express our deep sense of appreciation to those who were the recipients of gifts this afternoon for the splendid cooperation they have given us throughout this session. We have differed at times with regard to controversies existing in the House, but we have never lost our sense of respect and admiration for those of you who have played the game so fair. I say again on behalf of the Republican members that we desire to express our keen sense of appreciation for the spirit of fair-play which has been evident during this session of the Legislature.

Mr. Speaker, I would like, if you will permit me, to pay a small modicum of tribute to the Speaker of this House. That privilege was denied me last night, but so great is my respect and admiration for that gentleman that I would like to say a word or two. I am not going to indulge in any flowery oratory because that would not be in keeping with the character of the man you chose as your Speaker.

As a Member of the loyal opposition, even at this late date, I want to take issue with the most reverend gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard, in taking credit for having nominated Elmer Kilroy as the Democratic Speaker of this House. Long prior to that time, at a time when there were considered for the office of Speaker the names of several gentlemen from that side of the House, I wrote a letter to Elmer Kilroy and in that letter I said to him that I knew of no man on either side of the House who enjoyed more respect, confidence and friendship than he, and I hoped that the Democratic party would honor him with the Speakership. In that letter I nominated him for the Speakership. Therefore, I think, Mr. Shepard, I went you just one better.

Some twenty-nine years ago I entered the employ of Francis Shunk Brown, who was formerly Attorney General of this Commonwealth. After he left the office of Attorney General, his deputies sent autographed photographs to him. On one of the photographs which he received from Deputy Attorney General Kun, now a member of the Court of Common Pleas of Philadelphia, there appeared these words, "To my friend Francis Shunk Brown, more than a great lawyer, more than a great Attorney General, a man."

I think that might be a fitting tribute to pay to our Speaker, more than a great legislator, more than a great Speaker, a man. I think if Elmer Kilroy's father, that grand old sportsman, Matt Kilroy, could be here today, he would say, "You could have paid no greater tribute to my son than to label him a man."

Mr. Speaker, shortly you are going to be presented with a gift which I hope you will feel is a fitting token of the appreciation we hold for you. It is a gift of metallic substance, but I hope you will always feel as long as you live that that gift contains more than a precious metal, that it contains an expression by the Members of this House of the love, the admiration and respect, and better than all, the friendship they hold for you. Again to you I say that we on this side of the House express our appreciation and we wish you well.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Chairman, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we stand watching the dying embers of this General Assembly. Political differences have disappeared and we are about to adjourn sine die. We come now to the time when there will be a presentation of the love and the affection to the General of this House on behalf of the members. I hope we have not reached an anti-climax but that the expressions so well made on the floor of this House last night will continue beyond even the presentation that will shortly be made. It is an honor I have before the presentation is made to say a word on behalf of our Speaker.

I say to the Members of this House, as a member of a minority, if only those in this country today who love bigotry, who cherish intolerance, could catch some of the spirit that has been engendered here, our land would be indeed and in truth the land of the free and the home of the brave.

I do not find words adequate to express my appreciation to the Speaker but I should like to tell you a little story that I read some time ago that perhaps will symbolize my feelings to our General .

The story is told that when Knighthood was in flower, the leading knight would lead his knights out into the country, they discovered the flowers, they discovered the minerals, they discovered many of the unknown things in nature. One day the leading knight found a beautiful stream, and in that stream he found a precious metal. He did not want that metal for himself; he wanted to share it with the other knights. So one day he called his knights together and said to them, "Mount your horses. I am going to take you to a place and when you return you will be both happy and sorry." The knights were puzzled; they could not understand how in the world a man could take them to a place where they would be both happy and sorry at the same time because the two terms are so far apart. But they had faith in the leading knight and at the appointed hour they mounted their horses and the leading knight gave the command. He said to them, "With your left hand hold the reins, clinch your right fist and when I give you the command all I want you to do is to reach down and with your hand take whatever you can and then follow me." On into the evening and into the night they rode, and finally they came to the stream. Then the leading knight gave the command to halt, he did not ask them to dismount but he asked them to lean over and to reach down and to take a handful out of the stream. They did. Then they rode a few miles and finally the leading knight gave the command to dismount. They dismounted, and he said to them, "Open your hands." In their hands they found silver. They were happy for the precious little bit they had but they were sorry that they had not taken bucketsful, but had only taken a handful.

Mr. Speaker, you gave us the command to follow you when you took the office of Speaker. We took our hands and now as we come to the close of the session, we only have a handful of your love and of your affection and of your friendship. I say to you, Mr. Speaker, if you give us that command again we will not rely upon the little bit we can gather in our hands but we will take our buckets so that they might overflow with that love and with that friendship that is spoken of by Cicero, that thing that can only exist between honest men, men who love justice, who love friendship and who abhor violence, good men, as Cicero said. We will take our buckets and we will fill them so that they may overflow with your love and with your friendship and with your affection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair now requests the Speaker to return to the rostrum.

THE SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) IN THE CHAIR

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, you have heard what the men on both sides think of you. I do not think there is anything I can add to what has already been said. As you know, I have served with you four terms, and I heartily enjoyed everything that has been said of you. We in the House, whether we are Republicans or Democrats, know what you are and we are proud of you. I regret that today Mrs. Kilroy is unable to be here so that she might share with you in the knowledge of the love that we all hold for you.

Mr. Speaker, in token of that affection in which we hold you, we are asking you to accept from all of your friends in the House these silver service plates which we trust will remind you of us more and more as the years go by.

The SPEAKER. Thanks Bill Shaw, and thanks to all the members of the House. This is the second time in as many days that I have been put on the spot, but this magnificent gift has me tonguetied. In fact it leaves me lost for words, but it has filled me with the deepest appreciation of the kind feelings you have for me.

Members of the House in expressing my gratitude I want to say when it is feeding time at the Kilroys, these beautiful plates will be placed upon the table, and I will see before me my pals and associates of this the 134th regular session. I think I conveyed to you last evening my thoughts. To you, Bill Shaw, and to the Commitee and to everyone I humbly say, thanks.

MR. WOODSIDE IN THE CHAIR

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1361, (Senate Bill No. 338), entitled:

An Act to further amend sections four and five of the act approved the sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 90) entitled "An act to promote uniformity in the assessment and taxation of properties and persons within the terrirorial limits of cities of the second class A by providing that city and school taxes within such territorial limits shall be assessed levied and collected upon the basis of the assessments for taxation for county purposes and requiring the furnishing of tax duplicates by the county taxing authorities to such cities and to school districts coterminous therewith abolishing the department of assessors in cities of the second class A consolidating tax statements covering city school county and poor taxes therein and making uniform the time for levy and collection of said taxes respectively and regulating the discounts therefrom and penalties thereon" by further regulating discounts for prompt payment of taxes and penalties and interest imposed on said taxes and by changing the date of certain tax payments

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return it to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1955, as follows:

An Act to amend section two hundred and fifty-four of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" limiting the right of certain lessees or holders of certain rights in property for fishing purposes to exclude the general public from fishing from such property

Section 1 Section two hundred and fifty-four of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" as last amended by Section 1 of the act approved the tenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1860, (Senate Bill No. 575), entitled:

An Act to further amend sections 1, 2 and 7 of the act approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 639), entitled as amended, "An act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction, and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its branches may be obtained, and exemptions therefrom; and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act, and providing for revocation and suspension of licenses by said bureau; and providing penalties for violations thereof, and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith," by defining certain terms; imposing certain additional duties upon the State Board of Medical Education and Licensure; making provision for graduate students from other states territories and Canada, and providing for automatic suspension of registration in case of mental incompetency.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. BOIES and KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, we desire to offer the following amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out the word "and"

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by inserting after the figure "7" the following: "and 13"

Amend Sec. 1, page 12, by inserting between lines 13 and 14, the following: "Section 13. The provisions of this act shall not apply either directly or indirectly, by intent or purpose, to affect the practice of pharmacy as authorized by the act approved May twenty-fourth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons, and prevent adulterations in drugs and medicinal preparations in the State of Pennsylvania," or the several amendments thereto; nor to affect the practice of dentistry as authorized by the act approved July ninth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, entitled "An act to establish a Dental Council and a State Board of Dental Examiners; to define the powers and duties of said Dental Council and said State Board of Dental Examiners; to provide for the examination and licensing of practitioners of dentistry, and to further regulate the practice of dentistry," or the several amendments thereto; nor to affect the practice of osteopathy as authorized by the act approved March nineteenth, one thousand nine hundred and nine, entitled "An act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania; to provide for the establishment of a State Board of Osteopathic Examiners; to define the powers and duties of said Board of Osteopathic Examiners; to provide for the examining and licensing of osteopaths in this State, and to provide penalties for the violation of this act," nor to affect the practice of optometry as authorized by the act approved March thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 21), entitled "An act defining optometry relating to the right to practice optometry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and making certain exceptions; and providing a Board of Optometrical Education, Examination, and Licensure, and means and methods whereby the right to practice optometry may be obtained; and providing for the means to carry out the provisions of this act; and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said board, and providing penalties for violations thereof; and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith," or the several amendments thereto; nor shall this act be so construed as to give to the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure any jurisdiction over any of the schools or colleges of the methods herein exempted.

The amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 1, (sec. 1) page 4, lines 17 and 18, by striking out the words "including all practice of the healing art with or without drugs"

Amend sec. 1, (sec. 1 page 4, lines 21 and 22, by striking out the words "in any manner whatsoever"

Amend sec. 1, (sec. 1) page 4, line 22, by striking out the word "any"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the amendments and I ask the membership of the House to vote against them. They are not necessary in this bill. The act is very well drawn up as it is.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members of this House to support these amendments. They will in no way injure this bill and they will provide ample grounds upon which the bill can operate. These amendments if adopted will read as follows:

(c) "The term 'medicine and surgery' as used in this act shall mean the art and science having for their object the cure of diseases of and the preservation of the health of man including all practice of the healing art with or without drugs except healing by spiritual means or prayer.

(d) "The term 'healing art' as used in this act shall mean the science of diagnosis and treatment in any manner whatsoever of disease or any ailment of the human body".

Mr. Speaker, what more can anyone ask for or anything more liberal than that amendment? I ask the House to vote for the amendment.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, the definition in this particular act is a copy of the definition as it appears in Act No. 282 of the 1937 session. It is identical. If these amendments are included it will spoil the entire act and practically ruin the Medical Practice Act in the state of Pennsylvania. So I ask the membership of the House to vote down these amendments.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I contend that this amendment will not destroy this act and make inoperative the medical law of the state of Pennsylvania. You will recall that in 1937 these amendments or the wording of this bill which I am attempting to amend was inserted. These acts are intended as an atonement for a sin of omission and negligence in 1937. I well know the aim and purpose of having this law drawn up at this time in this manner. There is a reason for it and that reason developed here on the floor of this House a few days ago when House Bill 1048 was sent back to committee. I ask the Members of the House to support these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second section was read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. BOIES and KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, we desire to offer the following amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 1 of title, by striking out the word "and"

Amend title, page 1, line 1 of title, by inserting after the figure "7" the following: "and 13".

Amend title, page 2, line 4 of title, by striking out the word "and" where it appears the second time in said line.

Amend title, page 2, last line of title, by inserting after the word "incompetency" the following: "and exempting optometrists from the provisions of said act".

The amendments were agreed to.

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to withdraw my amendments to the title?

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

REMARKS BY MR. WOODSIDE

Mr. WOODSIDE. The present presiding officer desires to thank the Speaker for permitting him to preside this afternoon. When I was about the age of my son William, who is sitting in the House at the present time, my mother brought me down and took me through the Capitol for the first time and I remember going through the Senate Chamber, the Supreme Court Room, the House Chamber and over into the Governor's Office. We then returned to the Chamber of the House of Representatives and when we came into the Hall of the House my mother asked whether I would be permitted to come up here and sit in this Chair. When I did she said, "I hope some time to see you there". So today on her seventy-fourth birthday the Speaker of the House, Mr. Kilroy, very graciously permitted me to preside so that she could see that her wish made about thirty years ago came true.

I want to thank the Speaker and the Members of the House for permitting that. I deliberately avoided saying anything about my mother at the time I accepted the presentation from the House. I did that because I knew the Speaker was going to call on me to preside, and that I was going to have the opportunity to make these remarks, and to give her the credit for putting me here.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Mr. BENTLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1943, (Senate Bill No. 1097), Printer's No. 505, on page 7 of today's calendar, bills on second reading.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 12, by inserting after the word "shares" the following:

"Provided, (1) That where such company does not keep its books on an accrual basis, reserves for accruing liabilities shall be deemed to be surplus (2) That where such company is the owner of any asset not recorded in any amount on its books the amount of such asset shall be deemed an addition to surplus as shown by the books of such company and (3) That where such company is the owner of any tangible property subject to exhaustion wear and tear and obsolescence which is written down on its books to a nominal amount the difference between such amount and the depreciated value of such tangible property as shown in its Federal income tax return shall be deemed an addition to surplus as shown by the books of such company"

The amendment was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BENTLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 594 as amended is a part of the compromise agreement with the Governor. However, may I clarify this? The amendments placed in the bill were placed there by the majority Members of this House. We are trying to pass the bill with the thought that it must of necessity go back to the Senate and will very likely be non-concurred in there, that it will then be placed in conference committee and you will then have an opportunity to pass on the measure as it is hoped to have it finally passed. I am, therefore, asking the Members on the Democratic side of the House to support this particular measure. My statement is also made to the Republican side so that they will understand that they will also have an opportunity finally to pass on it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative

Ordered, That the Clerk return it to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1851, Printer's No. 1130, on page 15 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1851, as follows:

An Act to amend sections three thousand seven hundred nineteen four thousand four hundred one and four thousand four hundred two of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consoliating the law relating thereto" by extending civil service provisions to include park guards

Section 1 Sections three thousand seven hundred nineteen four thousand four hundred one and four thousand four hundred two of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3719 Appointment of Park Guards The Council of every city shall have power under the provisions of this article and in accordance with the provisions of article fourty-four to provide by ordinance for the selection and employment of such number of persons as they deem necessary to act as park guards fix their compensation and duties and provide for their uniforming

Section 4401 Examinations Required of All Appointees No person or persons may be appointed to any position whatever in the police department or in the position of park guard or in the engineering or electrical department or in the position of building inspector or to any salaried position whatever in the fire department (except volunteer departments) or health officers other than registered physicians or as sanitary policemen or inspectors of the health department without having first passed all the examinations hereinafter provided for and having been appointed in the manner and according to the terms and provisions and conditions of this article Provided however That all persons holding appointments as park guards at the time this act becomes effective shall retain their positions without being required to pass examinations and be removed only in accordance with the provisions of this article

Section 4402 Appointment of Examining Boards There shall be the following civil service boards in each city (a) A board for the examination of applicants for appointment to any position in the police department or as park guard (b) a board for the examination of applicants for appointment to any salaried position in the fire department (except volunteer departments) or health officers other than registered physicians or as sanitary policemen or inspectors of the health department (c) a board for the examination of applicants for appointment to any position in the engineering or electrical departments or to the position of building inspectors

Each of said boards shall consist of three citizens who shall be elected by council for terms of four years or until their successors are elected and qualified One of the members of the board provided for in clauses (a) and (b) of this section shall be an educator and one shall be a physician Any person may be appointed to one or more of said boards.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER (Elmer Kilroy) IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, for presiding.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the Members, the Chair has a photograph of the Honorable Senator from Pennsylvania, Mr. Guffey, and the gentleman from Lancaster, Harry Trout, sitting together in an automobile having a ride. I wonder why.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Lancaster should be given an opportunity to apologize.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster explain how he was honored by riding with our good Senator?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, before I go into that very extensively, I want to apologize to the Speaker and his Chief Clerk for my absence yesterday. I found it necessary to return home for a little while yesterday afternoon to check up on what might have been the reason for United States Senator Joseph F. Guffey paying a visit to our community. I rode in the same automobile with the Senator and discovered quite a few interesting facts. The Senator asked me what voting population we had. I told him around twenty-two hundred.

He said, "How many vote?"

I said, "We usually get sixteen hundred."

He said, "How many Democrats?"

I said, "Oh, we have a hundred sixty registered Democrats, but when you run for the Senate on the President's coat-tails, you usually get around four hundred. If you run by yourself, I don't think you would get the registered Democrat vote."

He didn't think that was very complimentary, and as we went along the route, I said to the Senator, "Listen, Joe, see that group over there? If they applaud, that's yours. And over here is a group, and if they applaud, I want those for myself."

After we got around the group Joe said, "I don't think I'm getting very much here."

I received a very nice letter from the Senator this morning however expressing appreciation of the splendid reception he got in Manheim, and he also thanked me for pointing out to him the few constituents he had in Manheim. The fact of the matter is he made a very splendid speech Saturday night before a crowd of three thousand, and we did, as the photograph indicates, lay aside politics for the day in Manheim.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. LOVETT asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1754, (Senate Bill No. 509) Printer's No. 335, on page 13 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1754, (Senate Bill No. 509), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Council for the Blind for use in supplying medical treatment surgical operations eyeglasses or other necessary aids or services to needy blind persons or persons with impaired vision.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN presented the report of the Committee of Conference on the part of the House on Senate Bill No. 24.

The report was read by the Clerk.

The SPEAKER. This being a Senate Bill the report will be printed by the Senate, and placed in the files of the Members of the House.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. BROWN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1617, (Senate Bill No. 86), Printer's No. 18, on page 1 of today's calendar, bills on second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1617, (Senate Bill No. 86), entitled:

An Act requiring the court in imposing sentence to include in such sentence the costs of keeping the person in the institution to which he is sentenced for the term as fixed by the court, providing such person is or shall become, during such term, financially able to pay for the same.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 86, House Bill 1617, Printer's No. 18 on page one of today's calendar is a bill which allows the court in imposing sentence also to impose upon the prisoner, if the court so desires, a sufficient fine and imprisonment and also a sufficient sum to cover the cost of the imprisonment of the prisoner. It is our belief that this bill should be given further study. There is nothing in the bill which will allow the prisoner to protest to the court or to have any kind of a trial as to his financial ability to pay for his own keep while in prison. While there may be some justification for the bill, as it is now drawn it is certainly too autocratic; therefore I move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for further study and possible amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in amendments the Senate has concurred.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WEISS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am making this last minute appeal to the Members on both sides of thhe House to enact some reasonable re-apportionment legislation which is so very essential and necessary. I do not think it is asking too much of any of you to request that you act as statesmen rather than as politicians, at least this one time in ten years. Mr. Speaker, the Members of the House were elected to do their duty, and it is part of their duty to re-apportion the state at least once every ten years. What are we doing about it? It seems to me we have become stalemated. Something must be done. Both parties have given and taken in order to arrive at a compromise and in order to expedite adjournment. Why not compromise on this type of legislation which is very important? Let us not dilly-dally around.

I read in the newspapers a statement by Senator Wade that there is no possibility of settlement, and he does not care because he thinks the Republican party has a very good chance to elect all thirty-three Republicans to Congress. Is that the talk of a statesman or a politician?

You can answer that yourself. Are we elected as representatives of the people or mis-representatives of the people? The latest census shows a glaring inequality in the various districts and that some people are over-represented and some are under-represented. I do not believe we ought to adjourn until some Congressional and Legislative re-apportionment bills are passed. They must be passed. Let us forget that we are Democrats or Republicans; let us vote as good citizens.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WATKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have prepared and have in my hand a speech which I had expected to deliver on the floor of the House in regard to conditions brought about by the disturbance in the mining operations in Schuylkill County, which the Members have read about in the papers.

However, in deference to you and the Members of the House, I am not going to take up the time of the House by reading this speech, but I would ask unanimous consent of the House to put this speech in the record. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to extend the remarks of the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Watkins in the Legislative Journal. Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the remarks will be extended.

EXTENDED REMARKS OF MR. WATKINS

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would feel it lax in my duty as a Member of this body, and as one representing the particular district of Schuylkill County in which you have noted in the press that certain disorders and riotous clashes took place between independent miners and private detectives employed by a certain stripping operator, if I were not to call this to your attention.

This particular disorder was not brought about by a gang of miners who believe in lawlessness, riots and disturbances, contrary to many statements in the press for I am in a position to know the make-up, the characters and the entire living conditions of all involved in these clashes for they are my neighbors in that community, these miners have only one important, and far reaching idea in mind and that is the right to live, to make a living for themselves and their families, keep off the relief rolls, and above all preserve the natural resources of rich coal beds underlying stripping operations for future generations, which is highly essential to all the people of Pennsylvania.

On the other hand let me explain to those Members of the House, Mr. Speaker, who are not familar with stripping operations just who make up these various companies who insist on coal operations of this character of production.

In the first place let me state that practically all hard coal mines in this particular territory involved, which has, I believe, the largest amount of virgin anthracite coal in the world, have been abandoned as under surface operations due to fact that the Philadelphia Coal and Iron Company who formerly owned or controlled many mines was forced during the depression period to go under 77 B Bankrupt Act.

From that time to the present day, lands involving this coal have been transferred through leases and so forth from one Company to the other, to such an extent that I nor the local authorities living in these communities know who really is the party or companies entitled to operate same.

However, I do know that the operators of stripping methods, are certainly only interested as far as themselves are concerned in securing from the surface coal which can be taken very easily, and without much cost which in many cases was pointed out to them by these independent miners, on a basis of making themselves small fortunes, in a hurry-up manner and with a disregard entirely for future mining in the proper undersurface method which provides extra employment and gives the purchasers of anthracite a better product. These operators are certainly not taking into consideration how detrimental the large shovels are to the underlying coal beds, nor do they think anything at all about the preservation of these vast rich coal beds underlying their operations for future generations to come.

In other words it is nothing but a get-rich-quick proposition on their part employing few men in defference to a method which was fundamental in the mining of coal in this section for years, and which method if adhered to would employ perhaps all of the miners who formerly made their livings in the production of coal.

Many of these stripping contractors have from time to time through meetings arranged with these various independent groups guarranteed, or promised that they would take a percentage of the underlying coal mined by these groups, with the understanding that they would also do strip mining to certain extents where it was thought advisable. However, in many cases these agreements have been broken on the part of the shovel operators.

This fact alone, along with the others mentioned, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, is the reason for these demonstrations in my home district of Schuylkill County.

Personally, I certainly do not believe in any form of lawlessness, nor do any of the Members of this House, and I cannot but feel, that the people living in my district, do not want to be unlawful in their tactics.

However, I do feel that these people have a right to protest against stripping operations in this section, especially when any operator will bring in a body of company paid would-be policemen-assembled together from distant places by a so-called shady detective agency.

The proper authorities of our county and state are now investigating this affair which I am sorry took place and which I hope we shall never have a reoccurrence of.

And in conclusion let me state, I as a business man and one interested in the welfare of my community and County, and one knowing the conditions and facts of this affair, the people involved, and understanding their principles, would offer their suggestions.

Let these operators, in a sense of fair play think more of the future and general welfare of all the people of my district, the preservation of future coal beds, which will surely be destroyed if their present activities, or their ideas are promoted, and come down to the conclusion of consideration of not all dollars and cents, cease methods of mining which they themselves realize in the end are not to the advantage of the employment situation but derimental to our region in all respects.

May these operators, who have witnessed these demonstrations, at this opportune time, when coal is again in great demand start and promote under surface mining as heretofore, perhaps open some of the abandoned collieries, giving employment to these men of this district, and by so doing show that they are interested wholeheartedly not only as business men, but public spirited citizens in the advancement of a cause which will be for the betterment of all concerned and the State in general.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented for concurrence bills numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 906. (HOUSE BILL No. 1986).

An Act to further amend section two hundred twenty-seven of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," providing for the appointment of minute clerks in certain courts in counties of the third class.

Referred to the Committee on Counties.

SENATE BILL No. 1053. (HOUSE BILL No. 1987).

An Act to amend section one of the act, approved the eighth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (P. L. 44), entitled "An act providing for the release and discharge of encumbrances or charges on land in all cases in which the period of twenty-one years has elapsed after the principal of the encumbrance or charge has become due and payable and no payment has been made within such period of twenty-one years on account of such encumbrance or charge by the owner or owners of the land sought to be released and discharged and no sufficient release is of record in the county, and regulating proceedings for such release and discharge," heretofore repealed in so far as it related to the orphans' court, relieving courts of common pleas of the necessity of passing on the truth of the allegations of petitions for release and discharge of such encumbrances or charges.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

SENATE BILL No. 510. (HOUSE BILL No. 1988).

An Act to amend sections 504 A. 607 and 608 A of the act approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 565), entitled "An act relating to the powers and duties of the Department of Banking and the Secretary of Banking in exercising supervision over, and taking possession of and conducting or liquidating the business and property of, corporations associations, and persons receiving deposits or otherwise transacting a banking business, corporations acting as fiduciaries, and building and loan associations; providing for the payment of the expenses of the Department of Banking by supervised corporations, associations, or persons and appropriating the Banking Department Fund; authorizing the Department of Banking, under certain circumstances, to examine corporations, associations, or persons affiliated, or having business transactions with supervised corporations, associations, or persons; authorizing appeals to the Supreme Court, and prescribing and limiting the powers and duties of certain other courts and their prothonotaries, register of wills, recorders of deeds, and certain State Departments, commissions, and officers; authorizing certain local public officers and State Departments to collect fees for services rendered under this act; providing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts," by providing for the taking of possession of the business and property of building and loan associations and savings and loan associations the shares of which are insured in the State Building and Loan Insurance Fund.

Referred to the Committee on Building and Loan Associations.

SENATE BILL No. 512. (HOUSE BILL No. 1989).

An Act providing for the creation and for the administration by a State Building and Loan Insurance Board created in this act, or a state fund for the insurance of shares in building and loan associations and savings and loan associations; and prescribing penalties.

Referred to the Committee on Building and Loan Associations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRETHERICK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker I listened with interest a few minutes ago to some remarks made by Mr. Weiss, the gentleman from Westmoreland, with regard to reapportionment. May I say to him that the Republican Members of the House and of the Senate and of the Caucus Committee studying the reapportionment problem have always been willing to compromise, but that the Members on the other side of the House have taken a rather adamant stand and have refused to budge from it.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. MOONEY asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Building and Loan Association to meet during the session of the House.

RESOLUTION

LOBBYISTS

Mr. CORRIGAN offered the following resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1941.

Whereas, Charges and countercharges have been made throughout this Session of the General Assembly regarding "boodle," "barrel heads" and "lobbyists"; and

Whereas, Notwithstanding such charges the members of the General Assembly have not been able to locate either "boodle" or "barrel heads" although lobbyists have been quite plentiful; and

Whereas, It would be to the best interest of all concerned if the work and identity of lobbyists be centralized and facilitated in order that their objects may be accomplished in a simple and orderly fashion, and in order to obviate the appointment of any committees in the future to search for questionable items; Therefore be it

Resolved, If the Senate concur that all lobbyists before being permitted on the floor of either House, be required to register and become affiliated with the Amalgamated Fraternity of Lobbyists A. C. I. O. F. of L. Local No. 13, with which the General Assembly has contracted to deal and which contract provides for a checkoff system with barrel heads thrown in at no extra cost; and be it further

Resolved, That all applicants for membership in the Amalgamated be requested to register immediately with the Honorable I. C. U. A. minute, at the same time filing a statement indicating the scope of his activities; and be it further

Resolved, That no Gubernatorial Secretary, Cabinet Member, State Chairman of any Party, Senator or Member of the House shall carry on any lobbying activities without proper credentials, under penalty of being declared unfair to the said Amalgamated Fraternity of Lobbyists. In order to qualify to enter said organization of Lobbyists, each person must have a fair aim in throwing boodle through transoms.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 561

Mr. ROSENFELD presented the report of the Committee of Conference on the part of the House on Senate Bill No. 561.

The report was read by the Clerk.

The SPEAKER. This being a Senate Bill the report will be printed by the Senate, and placed in the files of the Members of the House.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair is about to declare a recess until 9 p. m. Is there objection? The Chair hears none and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 9 p. m.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE BUREAU OF VITAL STATISTICS

Mr. McINTOSH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to present the report of the Committee appointed to investigate the Bureau of Vital Statistics relative to the delay in the issuance of certificates of birth by that Bureau.

Copies will be distributed to the Members by placing them in their mail boxes. I also wish to state that one of the members of this Committee, the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Regan, failed to sign this report. The reason Mr. Regan failed to sign this report was on account of his illness. I believe I could safely state that Mr. Regan's attitude on this question is in accord with this report of the committee.

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted in the Journals and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR NON-CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 803.

An Act to amend section six hundred and forty-three of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" by prohibiting certain persons from permitting or employing minors under eighteen years of age to sing dance act or exhibit in any place where wines or spirituous or malt liquors are sold or given away or any place connected therewith and prohibiting certain persons from permitting or employing minors under eighteen years of age to sing dance act or exhibit in any dance hall or dance house prohibiting the misrepresentation of age by the aforesaid minors and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment. The vote had on final passage and third reading on said bill was reconsidered in the House of Representatives and the bill amended, in which amendments the Senate has non-concurred.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist on its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

AMENDED SENATE BILL NONCONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has nonconcurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 1029.

An Act authorizing the Joint State Government Commission to make a thorough study and investigation of the State Employes' Retirement System providing for the employment of necessary clerks and assistants authorizing the subpoenaing of witnesses and records and making an appropriation

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist on its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

The SPEAKER. (Elmer Kilroy) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf, for presiding.

REQUEST TO HOLD COMMITTEE MEETING

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. Speaker, as Vice Chairman of the Committee on Building and Loan I have been requested in the temporary absence of the Chairman, to ask unanimous consent of the House to hold a meeting of the committee in the Conference room in the rear of the House immediately to consider Senate Bills 512 and 510.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I object for the reason that the Chairman of the Building and Loan Committtee is in and about the House and I see no reason for the Vice Chairman to call a meeting at this time if the Chairman is in and about the House.

The SPEAKER. If the Chairman is in or about the House there is no reason for the Vice Chairman to call a meeting. The Chair would advise the Vice Chairman to contact the Chairman.

Mr. WOODRING. I wish to thank the Speaker for his ruling.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE INSISTS ON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY HOUSE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 957, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1625) entitled "An act providing for the creation maintenance and operation of a county employes' retirement system in counties of the third class and imposing certain charges on counties" extending and further regulating such retirement systems

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its non-concurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the Senate and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 957

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee of Conference on said bill, Messrs. Weiss, Lesko and Lloyd H. Wood.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL No. 51

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate insists on its non-concurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill No. 51, entitled:

An Act authorizing and empowering school districts with the consent and approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to furnish food including milk to undernourished and poor school children in their districts and providing that the acceptance and distribution of surplus commodities furnished by the Federal Government shall not be affected or limited thereby

And has appointed Messrs. Kephart, Watkins and Lanius a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to Senate Bill No. 51, and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 51

Mr. SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee of Conference on said bill, Messrs. O'Neill, Bradley and McSurdy.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1526

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1526.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

MR. ACHTERMAN IN THE CHAIR

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of information.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, if a committee meeting of the Committee on Building and Loan recessed or adjourned until ten o'clock, what is the situation in relation to the committee meeting?

The SPEAKER. That is within the control of the committee itself.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, the Committee on Building and Loan, as I understand, adjourned until ten o'clock this evening, after recess this afternoon. I would like to know as a point of information as to whether or not the committee would meet automatically or whether they are at the call of the Chairman at ten o'clock this evening.

The SPEAKER. The Chair must advise the gentleman that the committee is without power to meet during the absence of the Chairman without the consent of the House.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Brien.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. O'BRIEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Philadelphia a member of the Building and Loan Committee?

Mr. O'BRIEN. No, I am not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BAKER. Then, Mr. Speaker, how does the gentleman from Philadelphia come to this House saying that the Building and Loan Committee recessed or adjourned until ten o'clock tonight?

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Chudoff, in this connection.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Allegheny desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Chudoff?

Mr. BAKER. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I still ask for a ruling of the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that a Committee is without power to meet during a session of the House, whether it recessed to a time that the House is in Session or not, without first having obtained permission of this House to meet during a session of the House.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I did not ask for a ruling here, I asked as a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has given the informatoin in the form of a ruling.

Mr. O'BRIEN. I did not ask for a ruling, I did not ask as a question of parliamentary inquiry, I just asked as a question of inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has his information now.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not see how the Chair could rule that way.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I am somewhat curious as to the gentleman's intentions as to the Building and Loan Committee meeting at this time, since he is not a member, and therefore I will ask the gentleman from Philadelphia to tell this House why he is so interested in the Building and Loan Committee meeting.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has not raised a point of order in his statement.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baker, raising his voice does not impress anybody and raising his voice does not scare anybody. If Mr. Baker wants to rant and rave in my personal direction, I will be delighted to have Mr. Baker do so, but I think it is so silly, it is not even funny, and his point of order is equally as funny.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, without raising my voice, I will speak in a lower tone, I want to say to the gentleman that I do not care to play with boys; I like to do business with men as Members of the House of Representatives and not with a lot of silly boys.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1965, (Senate Bill No. 1300), entitled:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return it to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of information.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, the Vice-Chairman of the Building and Loan Committee asked permission of the House to call a meeting of the Building and Loan Committee, and the Chair ruled, after objection by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baker, to the effect that the Chairman was in the House. We have not seen the Chairman of the Building and Loan Committee and I ask you, Mr. Speaker, if the Vice-Chairman cannot call a meeting of the Committee on Building and Loan during the session.

The SPEAKER. On the question of information, the Chair advises the gentleman from Philadelphia that in the absence of the Chairman from the House, and the inability to find him, the Vice-Chairman may call a meeting of the Committee, providing a majority of the members of that Committee sign the request. The request must be in the form of a petition.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, in other words, it would have to be a written request on the part of a majority of the Committee?

The SPEAKER. The request must be in the form of a petition addressed to the Chair, and of course, the meeting must also receive the consent of the House.

Mr. O'BRIEN. Mr. Speaker, am I to understand that only on written request submitted to the Speaker can the Committee meeting be called by the Vice-Chairman?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1817, (Senate Bill No. 1044), as follows:

An Act to further amend section eleven and section seventeen of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858), entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" by permitting a member to borrow from his or her funds under certain provisions and regulating exemption from execution

Section 1 Section eleven of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858), entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" as last amended by the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 683) is hereby further amended to read

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unnaimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the ournal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Serial No. 126.

By Mr. TALLMAN.

CONGRESS MEMORIALIZED TO ADOPT RESOLUTIONS DESIGNATING OBSERVANCE 200th ANNIVERSARY MUHLENBERG COLLEGE

In the Senate, April 16, 1941.

Whereas, Muhlenberg College will hold celebrations during the year 1942 commemorating the two hundredth anniversary of the arrival in the American colonies of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg; and

Whereas, The said Henry Melchior Muhlenberg was the father of General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg, a friend of George Washington and a member of his staff; and

Whereas, The said General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg was born at Trappe, Pennsylvania, October 1, 1746; and

Whereas, In 1775 the said General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg threw off his clerical gown while delivering a sermon at Woodstock, Virginia, disclosing himself dressed in the uniform of an officer of the Continental Army and challenged his congregation with the remark: "There is a time for all things—a time to preach and a time to pray; but there is also a time to fight, and that time has now come," and took leave of his congregation and led his soldiers in the war for our Country's freedom; and

Whereas, The said General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg was chosen the Vice President of Pennsylvania in 1785 with Benjamin Franklin as President; and

Whereas, He was elected to the First Congress of the United States and reelected to the second and third, serving from March 4, 1789 to March 3, 1795; and

Whereas, In 1801 he was elected to the United States Senate but resigned before the Congress met to accept President Jefferson's appointment as Supervisor of Revenue for the District of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, There has been introduced in the Senate of the United States by The Honorable James J. Davis, for himself and The Honorable Joseph F. Guffey, a Joint Resolution resolving that the Government and the people of the United States unite with Muhlenberg College in a fitting and appropriate observance of the two hundredth anniversary of the arrival in the American Colonies of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg; and

Whereas, There has been introduced in the House of Representatives of the United States by the Honorable Charles L. Gerlach a Joint Resolution resolving that the Government and the people of the United States unite with Muhlenberg College in a fitting and appropriate observance of the two hundredth anniversary of the arrival in the American colonies of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg; Now therefore be it

Resolved (if the House concur), That the General Assembly memorialize the Congress of the United States to adopt with all possible dispatch S. J. Resolution 40 and H. J. Resolution 128 in the form introduced; and be it further

Resolved, That one copy of this Resolution be forwarded to each of the following:

The President of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Senator Alben W. Barkley, Chairman of the Joint Committee on the Library.

Senator James J. Davis.

Senator Joseph F. Guffey.

Honorable Charles L. Gerlach.

All members of the House Delegation from Pennsylvania.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to submit the "Report of the Committee to Investigate the Controversy at the Western Pennsylvania Hospital of Allegheny County," pursuant to House Resolution No. 94, adopted May 20, 1941.

This is the majority report of the Committee. There will be a minority report filed at a later time. The material gathered during the investigation will be placed in the hands of the Chief Clerk of the House.

The report was read by the Clerk.

The SPEAKER. The report will noted in the Journals of the House and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. RHEA, FLEMING, RONALD L. THOMPSON, COOPER and LEYDIC, RESOLUTION No. 109.

In the House of Representatives, July 11th, 1941.

Whereas, This session of the Legislature of the Commonwealth is apparently drawing to a close without any legislation having been passed to provide for a congressional reapportionment measure as required by the Constitution following a decennial census; and

Whereas, the passage of such legislation is necessary to provide for the election of Representatives in Congress from districts and this failure so to do would necessitate their election at large at great expense to the Commonwealth and to the great detriment and prejudice of the voting public; and

Whereas, The oath of members of the Legislature to support, obey and defend the Constitution of the United States and of this Commonwealth, imposes a solemn duty upon them to obey this plain mandate to pass such legislation; therefore be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that this House will refuse to concur in any resolution passed by the Senate providing for adjournment sine die before this constitutional mandate has been complied with.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1465

Mr. WEINGARTNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1465.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1466

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1466.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1467

Mr. WEINGARTNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1467.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1468

Mr. WEINGARTNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1468.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1469

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1469.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Messrs. WILLIAMS and McLANE offered a privileged resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 11, 1941.

Whereas, Some members of the House of Representatives make their presence felt and l. rd, and engage constantly in fierce and serimonious debate; and

Whereas, Others remain quiet, soft spoken, sitting back in their chairs, and merely vote in accordance with the dictates of their conscience and the wishes of their constituents; and

Whereas, The Honorable Thomas J. Heatherington, by virtue of his great legislative ability, has already had three bills approved by the Governor of this Commonwealth, as well as twelve bills in addition thereto passed in the House, and sent on to the Senate; and

Whereas, There may not be some merit in the old adage about empty barrels; be it therefore

Resolved, That the House of Representatives congratulates the Honorable Thomas J. Heatherington on his success as a legislator; and be it further

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby appoints the Honorable Thomas J. Heatherington as Chairman of the new committee of the House, to be known as the "Sitting Quiet and Get the Bills Through Committee."

HOUSE BILL No. 472 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 472, together with the communication from the Governor which was laid on the table July 7, 1941, be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

The communication was read by the Clerk as follows:

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 472

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 2, 1941.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the House of Represenatives and Senate recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 472, Printer's No. 680, for the purpose of further consideration.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Heatherington, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1941. 135th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 25. HARRISBURG, PA., SATURDAY, JULY 12, 1941. No. 86.

SENATE

SATURDAY, July 12, 1941

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., E. S. T.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, in this session of this Senate, we do earnestly thank Thee for the privilege and responsibility of representative service throughout this session. Thou hast, for the most part, kept us in health and strength and maintained the right and proper use of our faculties.

Like Pilate of old we may say: "What is written is written," but should it be wrong we are grateful that it is not like the law of the Medes and Persians, unchangeable.

As we are now about ready to adjourn this Senate, we pray Thy continued blessing upon our Presiding Officer, the Lieutenant-Governor, as he has dealt so fairly and impartially throughout this session, upon the officers of the Senate, the Senators themselves and upon all employes who have done their part well in the functioning of the work from day to day.

Direct the Governor of the Commonwealth and the several officers associated with him in the affairs of State.

Lead our nation, O God, according to Thy will through the elected executives of our nation and withal guide, guard and keep us as a people close to Thee always. We pray in the name of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. TAYLOR and Mr. WADE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PRESENTATION TO HON. FREDERICK T. GELDER

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I desire to claim a few minutes in the interests of friendship, and I hope the Chair will give me recognition on that score.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Montgomery may proceed.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, at the last session of the General Assembly, 1939-1941, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate was the Honorable Frederick T. Gelder. He left us, but is still continuing in the service of the State, and it is the desire of those who served with him in the State Senate, regardless of party affiliation—for both parties are included in this matter—to take a few minutes to express to him our regard and appreciaion of his service as a statesman, our repect for him as a man, and our love for him as a friend.

I first became acquainted with Senator Gelder in 1921, when we both entered the House of Representatives. Together we served there for, I think, two or three terms, and then he was promoted to the Senate, and after that he had the experience of fifteen or eighteen years in this body. Those who served with him pay tribute first to his common sense, second, to his unflinching patriotism, and third to his even temper, which made it possible to discuss questions with him, questions of the greatest interest and appropriateness to our public work, and yet questions in which there was never any bitterness, and now that the fortunes of war have made him an ex-Senator, it seems to us he ought to carry with him some permanent souvenir of his service in the Senate and, therefore, there has been secured this beautiful tea service from Hoover of Harrisburg, which is as yet incomplete because there is a tea and a waste pot to go with it, and those two will be supplied as soon as the store can furnish the goods.

In presenting them to Senator Gelder, I want to say also it gives greater gratification to his friends in the Senate to know that Mrs. Gelder is here today and is able to enjoy with him this occasion.

Senator Gelder, on behalf of your colleagues in the last General Assembly, who served under your leadership and direction as President Pro Tempore, I take pleasure in presenting you with this permanent sign of appreciation and affection of your colleagues, with the strong hope that you may have many, many years of happy useful life in which to enjoy this tea service.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, frequently during the sessions I have wondered whether our presence here can be counted as on the right side of the ledger or on the wrong side, and when I wonder about these things, I am happy to say that occasionally there comes a time when I feel we are accomplishing something, when we realize that during the years of Senator Gelder's activities on the floor of this Senate there have been bitter political disputes, bitter political controversies, to the point where no one could believe it were at all possible that after the battle there could be calmness, fairness and decency; however, we found that there was, and it is my firm conviction that a great deal of the calmness that came after the storm was due to the character, the ability, the fairness and the decency of the then President Pro Tempore, and even before he was President Pro Tempore, and it is because in fights of that kind, bitter as they may be, that when they were ended, we asserted our human instincts and became friendly and decent to one another again, that I have a great faith, an abiding faith in the strength of this democracy, which gives me courage to go on through times that are trying to anyone. I can say, notwithstanding the fact that there has been added an annoying touch to make us a little more resentful to this than we should be, by having purchased it from a man whose name brings back unpleasant memories to Democrats, and notwithstanding the fact that this gentleman has been an untiring servant of the Republican party and notwithstanding the fact he occupies a position which the Democrats would like to occupy themselves; notwithstanding all those things and because of his character, his fairness, and the love and respect he has taught us to have for him, we join with you Republicans in presenting this to him and wishing him and his good wife long life and happiness.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Gelder, I know that your former colleagues will be glad to have you say a few words to them, and I would suggest that you make use of the microphone.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, members of the Senate, and friends, this is the first opportunity I have had to talk to the Senate through a microphone and I am a little loathe to stand too close to it for fear that you will think I have palpitation of the heart, for just at this moment I want to say to you that I do have a strange feeling in my heart that makes utterance difficult.

In life, as on the stage, the players come and go; in life as on the stage the play goes on. As I look about this Chamer, I find Senator Edmonds, with whom I first started my legislative career in the House in 1921, Senator Lanius on the Democratic side, and Senator Woodward on the Republican side, who were here to greet me when I first came to the Senate sixteen years ago. During those sixteen years a great part of my life has been spent within these walls. I have come to know a great many men in Pennsylvania who served here in the State Senate, and a great many other men who were here as employes of the Senate, as representatives of the press, and as members of that fourth group which in my judgment is just as essential to a legislative body as the rest of the membership, nothwithstanding sometimes they are compelled to listen to hard words, and that is the lobby. All the members of the Legislature ask of a lobby is that they put all their cards on the table so that the members of the Ligislature can know just how legislation is going to affect them, or those they represent. I want to say, after sixteen years of service that I have had with as fine a lot of men as I have ever known, that those men who have represented Pennsylvania here have done so with an integrity and vision that I think perhaps stands higher than in any other group with which I have ever been associated.

During each session of the Legislature the Republicans and the Democrats have had their differences, which always have been differences of opinion, differences as to what each felt was best for Pennsylvania, but during every two year session that we have had, something has come forth for the welfare of Pennsylvania.

I want to say to you that it is an honor to serve in this body, an honor that I have always appreciated, and the sixteen years I spent here will always be the red letter era of my career.

In my hand here I hold a little token (a watch) that was given to me the week I was sworn in as a Pennsylvania State Senator. It was given to me by a group of my friends back home. I have always cherished it and I shall place this gift you are giving me here today in my mind alongside of that other gift, because it is a gift from a fine lot of friends, a fine lot of upstanding citizens, a fine lot of state officials. I am particularly happy, because the gift is one that I know Mrs. Gelder will appreciate, enjoy and use, as well as myself. You know, we do not always remember just what these legislative wives have to put up with, because we are here serving the state while they very often are back home, although I am glad to note in this present session a larger group of ladies have come down to keep company with their husbands, the Senators, than ever before. However, they are usually back home while the rest of us are carrying on.

In conclusion, I want to wish for all of you health, prosperity and contentment, and assure you I shall always appreciate not only the intrinsic value, but far more than that the thought behind your giving of this gift to me. Thank you.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I suggest also that the privilege of the floor be extended to Mrs. Frederick T. Gelder.

The PRESIDENT. That will be a pleasure.

Mrs. GELDER. All I can say is thank you for such a lovely gift. I am sure we appreciate it.

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE SENATE TO SENATE BILL No. 51, AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House insists upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to Senate Bill No. 51, entitled:

An Act authorizing and empowering school districts to furnish food, including milk to undernourished and poor school children in their districts.

and has appointed Messrs. O'Neill, Bradley, and McSurdy as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

SENATE BILL No. 1313, RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 1313, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (Appropriation Acts page sixty), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine; and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine," providing for deficiencies in certain appropriations made by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1313, (House Bill No. 1977), be laid on the table.

Mr. MILLER. I second the motion.

It was agreed to.

SENATE BILL No. 145 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 145, entitled:

An Act to amend further section fourteen of an act, approved the seventh day of August, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (P. L. 106), entitled "An act relating to flood control; prescribing the powers and duties of the Water and Power Resources Board of the Department of Forests and Waters in relation to the creation of flood control districts, adoption of plans for flood control works, and improvements, carrying into effect of such plans, assistance, aid and cooperation with public and private agencies and the Federal Government in Federal flood control works and improvements, and entering into compacts and agreements with other states for flood control works and improvements; conferring the power of eminent domain; providing for the setting off of benefits; imposing certain charges upon the Commonwealth; providing for appeals; and conferring certain powers on municipalities, counties, and townships, and the Department of Highways." as re-enacted and amended, by conferring additional powers on the Department of Highways.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills to be noted on the calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE CONCUR IN AMENDMENTS BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 145

Mr. EALY. This is a bill relating to flood control, sponsored by Senator Snowden.

I move that the Senate do now concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 145.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

SENATE BILL No. 205 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 205, entitled:

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this bill was introduced by the gentleman from Lackawanna and provides for refunds for payments to those who paid store and theatre taxes. The only amendment by the House was to change the repayment from the General Fund to the State school fund in which the money was. I think it is a proper amendment and one with which I agree.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

SENATE BILL No. 545 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 545, entitled:

An Act relating to the summoning and service of jurors (except grand jurors) in the civil and criminal courts of the several counties of the Commonwealth except cities of the first class.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills to be noted on the calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this is a bill sponsored by the gentleman from Washington, Senator Reed, relating to service of jurors. The House took out second class counties, eliminating second class counties from the bill. I believe first class counties were eliminated in the Senate. The Senator from Washington desires that we concur in the amendments.

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL No. 545

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I now move that the Senate concur in the amendments.

Mr. REED. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RECALL RESOLUTIONS

Mr. EALY. As I understand, Mr. President, we are about to consider a list of twenty-one bills recalled from the Governor. The House asks us to concur in resolutions returning them without amendment.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. COLEMAN. Did I understand, Mr. President, the gentleman from Somerset to say that the House is asking that we concur in returning twenty-one bills to the Governor?

Mr. EALY. As I understand the statement of the Chair and from the desk, either last week or the week before the House passed resolutions, in which the Senate concurred, recalling twenty-one bills from the Governor. Now the House has prepared twenty-one resolutions proposing to return those bills to the Governor without amendment, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I would like to suggest that it has been my observation and my experience in the General Assembly that all bills go to the Department of Justice after having passed the House and the Senate, for examination by its attorneys, and every now and again, notwithstanding that the General Assembly gives the bills close scrutiny and attention, errors are found which render a bill doubtful constitutionality, or which impair the legality of the bill. I am just wondering, in connection with these twenty-one bills which it is proposed to return to the Governor by means of these recall resolutions, if we are not jeopardizing passage of some of those bills which may be important. It is my information that the Department of Justice asked for certain changes in the bills in order to have the Governor sign them.

However, Mr. President, after explanation by the Minority Floor Leader, I withdraw my objection.

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to acquire by purchase, gift, lease or condemnation, on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, ten acres of land adjacent to the Daniel Boone Homestead, or so much thereof as may be necessary to properly honor the pioneer, Daniel Boone, on the spot where he was born; providing for the control, management, supervision, improvement, preservation and maintenance thereof; authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical Commission to make and enforce rules and regulations for the preservation and visitation thereof; and making an appropriation.

House Bill No. 602, entitled.

An Act denying recognition as a political party for all purposes to any group of persons advocating the overthrow of the government.

House Bill No. 708, entitled:

An Act enabling city, county, poor, institution district, ward, school, borough, and township tax collectors, their executors and administrators, if they are deceased, or either surety or sureties, to collect taxes for the payment of which they have become personally liable without having collected the same by the expiration of the authority of their respective warrants, or by the expiration of their terms of office; extending the time for the collection of the same for a period of two years from the passage of this act; and validating collections and proceedings for collections made or commenced without previous authority.

House Bill No. 909, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three hundred three of and to add section three hundred seven to the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of November, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 15, 1933-34), entitled as amended "Pennsylvania Liquor Control Act," by providing for the appointment of assistant managers in Pennsylvania Liquor Stores; and by establishing minimum salaries for certain employes of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board working in Pennsylvania Liquor Stores.

House Bill No. 955, entitled:

An Act to amend section ninety-five of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 448), entitled "Fish Law of 1925," further regulating use of nets in boundary lakes.

House Bill No. 1023, entitled:

An Act prohibiting employers from directly or indirectly offering for sale selling procuring for sale having in possession or under control for sale to employes or others any merchandise not produced by employers or not handled in the regular course of employer's business providing exceptions thereto declaring such prohibited sales to be unfair competition and repealing prior inconsistent legislation.

House Bill No. 1418, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare, for the maintenance of certain homes.

House Bill No. 1543, entitled:

An Act providing a method for supplying, perfecting and recording birth records of certain persons whose births have not heretofore been made a public record, or whose record of birth is incomplete or incorrect; making such records competent legal evidence; prescribing fees; and imposing certain duties upon the orphans' court.

Senate Bill No. 1098, entitled:

An Act relating to the sale, transfer, assignment and pledge of choses in action and requiring the assignor of accounts receivable and choses in action to make appropriate record of the fact of such assignment, and prescribing penalties for failure to do so.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE RECOMMITS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 561

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate, that the House of Representatives has recommitted the Report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 561, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the thirtieth day of March, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 115), entitled "An act to provide for the permanent personal registration of electors in cities of the first class as a condition of their right to vote at elections and primaries, and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries, prescribing certain procedure for the conduct of elections and primaries and the challenge and proof of qualifications of electors and prescribing the powers and duties of citizens, parties, bodies of electors, registration commissions, commissioners, registrars, inspectors of registration and other appointees of registration, commission, election officers, municipal officers, departments and bureaus, police officers, courts, judges, prothonotaries, sheriffs, county commissioners, peace officers, county treasurers, county controllers, registrars of vital statistics, real estate brokers, rental agents, certain public service companies, persons, firms and corporations operating vehicles for moving furniture and household goods and boards of school directors and imposing penalties," as amended by amplifying and changing the powers and duties of the commission, its employes and commissioners, further regulating and changing the provisions of said act, relating to the appointment and removal of registrars and the powers, privileges, rights and duties of registrars, watchers, election officers, and electors, revising and changing the provisions of said act, relating to the times places and manner of registering electors and their enrollment as members of political parties, change of party enrollment, cancellation of registrations, preparation and distribution of street lists, appeals to the commission and to courts and the procedure thereon; providing for appeals by the commission to appellate courts, changing certain provisions of said act, relating to removal notices providing for the manner of reckoning time, imposing additional duties on certain city officers, clarifying and coordinating certain provisions of said act and imposing additional penalties.

SENATE RECOMMITS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 561

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I move that the Report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 561, be recommitted to the Senate Committee of Conference.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE SENATE TO SENATE BILL No. 298

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House insists upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to Senate Bill No. 298, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation out of the Motor License Fund to the Department of Highways for allocation to and expenditure in cities, boroughs towns and townships of the Commonwealth for maintenance, construction, reconstruction resurfacing, or improvement of municipal roads, highways and bridges, during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-two and one thousand nine hundred forty-three, permitting the use of the funds for maintenance and repair of municipal roads, highways and bridges under certain conditions; and providing for the method of payment to such political subdivisions.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS NON-CONCURRENCE IN AMENDMENTS BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 298.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insists upon its non-concurrence in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 298.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I rise on a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from McKean will proceed.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, the Senate

this day is honored by the presence of an old member of the Senate and an old member of the House with whom many members of this Senate served with pleasure. I refer to the Honorable George B. Williams, of Wellsboro, who formerly represented my Senatorial district in the Senate, and for many years he represented his county in the House of Representatives. To his many colleagues, friends and admirers in the Senate I just want to say the Senate is honored by his presence and I desire to express my happiness that he has visited us, and I know I am joined by the rest of the members of the Senate in wishing him well and expressing the hope that he visits us often.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I ask permission to address the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Clearfield will proceed.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, we are looking forward to a long period of preparation for national defense. In this preparation we must insure an adequate supply of the materials that are necessary in the program of production and required for the building of an adequate defense. The Senate and the House have passed a bill appropriating fifty thousand dollars to the Bureau of Mineral Industries at the Pennsylvania State College for the purpose of conducting a program of research to determine the possibility of obtaining alumium from the vast deposits of clay that we have in Pennsylvania.

I have a report entitled "Problems Relating to Alumium Production in Pennsylvania," prepared by Doctor W. M. Meyers of the Bureau of Mineral Industries at the Pennsylvania State College, which I think contains information of interest and value. I want to make the subject matter available to the members of the Senate and I am therefore asking that it be printed in the Journal.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection the report will be spread on the Journal.

Problems Related to Aluminum Production in Pennsylvania

By

Dr. W. M. Myers

Assistant Professor of Mineral Economics and Technology, School of Mineral Industries, The Pennsylvania State College

July 8, 1941.

Aluminum was a rare and precious metal until 1886. The reduction of the oxide to metallic form was an expensive operation and could only be carried out commercially by the use of metallic sodium. Aluminum therefore sold for $12.00 per pound. In 1886 Hall developed the process which has become the standard for the production of aluminum. This consists of the electrolysis of aluminum oxide in a bath of fused cryolite. This process was possible due to the development of the dynamo around 1875 which supplied electrical energy, and the availability of cryolite, a rare mineral which is found in commercial quantities only in Greenland and was being shipped into the United States for use in the production of soda. Hall therefore was fortunate in having this rare mineral at his disposal. Improvements in technology have been followed by a constantly decreased price so that aluminum is now sold for 17 cents per pound.

The Raw Materials

The production of one ton of aluminum requires approximately the following:

Bauxite	4 to 5 tons
Coal	4 tons
Caustic soda	1 ton
Electricity	3 to 4 horsepower years
Cryolite
Carbon electrodes

Bauxite is produced in the United States and imported from foreign sources. In 1939 domestic production was:

	Long Tons
Arkansas	361,256
Alabama and Georgia	14,045
Imports	520,179

The United States is therefore far from self-sufficient. Most of the imports come from Dutch and British Guiana in South America. Bauxite is widely distributed in Europe. France, Hungary, Yugoslavia, and Italy all produce more than the United States. Their reserves are undoubtedly greater. Germany leads the world in the production of metallic aluminum, using imported ores. This position has been maintained from at least 1938. German production rose from 37,000 metric tons in 1934 to 165,000 in 1938. Areas now under German control have a producing capacity several times that of the United States.

Aluminum Resources

Aluminum is the most abundant metal. It forms 8.07% of the earth's crust as compared to 5.06% for iron, the next most abundant metal. The possibility of producing cheap and abundant aluminum has therefore always been of interest. The difficulty has been that the existing technology requires nearly pure aluminum oxide which can only be derived commercially from bauxite. Aluminum locked up in enormous quantities in such silicates as clay, feldspar, leucite, and alusite, and many other minerals has not been made available, except to a limited degree.

Aluminum from Silicates

The problem of the utilization of aluminum silicates for ore has been investigated for years. Technically, it is possible. Commercially, it has not been able to compete with processes based on bauxite. At the present time interest in this problem is acute due to the soaring demands for aluminum and the expansion in aluminum producing capacity which will result. Successful solution is admittedly remote and substantial expenditures have been made by private interests for research without satisfactory results.

Since 1934 the German government has stimulated the aluminum industry in every way possible. As part of this program three general processes have been developed for utilization of clays: (1) alkaline processes such as the Bayer wet process (chiefly restricted to bauxites). (2) Acid decomposition with the formation of aluminum salts and their subsequent consession to alumina. (3) Electric furnace reduction to form ferro-silicon and fused aluminum oxide. The alkaline processes are not satisfactory for clays on account of high consumption of alkali by silica, unless there is a large market for alkali silicates. The acid processes involve the use of a number of different acids. The Goldschmidt "ST" process consists essentially of treating clay with sulphur dioxide under pressure and forming aluminum sulfite which will decompose to alumina and sulphur dioxide on heating. A plant operating on this basis was in operation late in 1938 with a capacity of 8000 tons of alumina per year. Several smelting processes exist. In one method clay is reduced by coke in the electric blast furnace to form an aluminum-iron-silicon alloy which is then treated with a sulplur compound giving aluminum sulfide and ferro-silicon.

It is noteworthy that in Germany the bulk of the aluminum output comes from works supplied with electricity generated from steam power. In this connection the great coal resources of Pennsylvania may play a vital role in aluminum production here.

Russia is reported to be experimenting with kaolin, a very pure clay, to produce silumin, (an alloy containing 87% aluminum and 13% silicon). They are reported to be considering the use of Kyanite, another silicate of aluminum.

Argentine has been interested in the production of aluminum sulphate from clay.

Sweden has been experimenting with the use of andalusite, a silicate of aluminum, as a source of aluminum.

It is evident from the above notes that the problem has received wide-spread attention and with little success except in Germany where clays have been used with some success under the spur of the desire for self-sufficiency.

Aluminum Recovery a Mineral Industries Project

The winning of aluminum from the impure clays of Pennsylvania is a major project which requires the services of nearly all departments of the School of Mineral Industries. The geologist and mineralogist are needed to determine the extent and the characteristic minerals of each clay deposit which is to be studied. On the basis of this information a choice of beneficiation procedure can be made. The mining engineer and the ceramist are needed for colloid control in all wet processing and beneficiation methods and also for control of the heat treatment in acid or other decomposition processes. The fuel technologist can help because coke or other coal products may be needed for reduction of the oxides at high temperatures and also because steam power may be indicated (as in Germany) as the chief source of electricity. The metallurgist should study the production of aluminum-iron-silicon alloys as well as their subsequent treatment.

In many phases of this work, members of the staff of the School of Mineral Industries already have a background of several years' experience.

Raw Materials in Pennsylvania

Aluminum exists in Pennsylvania in very large tonnages in the various clays, shales, and rocks distributed over the Commonwealth. However, we do not know how much of the material would be suitable for use due to the presence of impurities and other characteristics.

Production of white kaolin in Pennsylvania runs about 50,000 tons per year as compared with 10 times this amount in Georgia. Moreover many of the Pennsylvania kaolins are high in silica and low in alumina.

In the production of fire clay, Pennsylvania leads the country with tonnage varying from one half to three quarters of a million tons annually. The aluminum oxide content of these clays lies commonly between 25 to 35 per cent. This material is now in great demand in the manufacture of refractories and it has the added disadvantage of high cost of production as much of it is obtained by underground mining.

Common clays, that is, those used in the manufacture of brick and comman tile are available in large tonnages. These clays are impure, of rather low alumina content and would require beneficiation before use.

Possible Methods of Aluminum Recovery

The first step in the winning of aluminum from Pennsylvania clays should be the "extracting and refining of aluminum silicate" itself in the impure deposits. For example, one "white clay" deposit carries a large amount of silica sand as an impurity. If this were removed the aluminum oxide content would be doubled. In other cases, iron sulfide or calcite may be impurities. The logical procedure in such cases is some method of beneficiation such as sedimentation or froth flotation, and this type of work has been in progress in the Department of Ceramics for several years. These studies would be continued and amplified.

In parallel with the beneficiation studies, work should be done to determine the efficiency of various known processes of converting clay to aluminum oxide, which then can be used as a substitute for bauxite in the Hall cryolite process of electrode position. Several processes have been used in Germany and elsewhere, and the best one or two can be selected for tests with Pennsylvania materials.

At the same time some smelting or direct reduction process for producing aluminum-silicon or other aluminum alloys should be studied. Here again the most promising methods for study can probably be determined on the basis of existing knowledge. The experience of mineralogists, fuel technologists and non ferrous metallurgists will be indispensable.

It is quite evident that it will require considerable time and money to obtain a practical and economic solution to the problem of winning aluminum from Pennsylvania clays. It is reasonable to assume, however, that the possibilities of so doing can be indicated fairly clearly under the provisions of the Letzler Senate Bill No. 1306.

Superior Position of Pennsylvania

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania possesses certain unusual qualifications for such an undertaking. There are adequate supplies of skilled and technical labor, coal and coke for the production of electrical energy or reduction of ores, and fabricating industries within the State.

An exceptionally good geographical location assures good transportation facilities, close association with the most highly industrialized areas in the United States as well as with the most densely populated consuming areas of the country.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask permission to address the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Blair will proceed.

Mr. MALLERY. Secretary of Revenue Wm. J. Hamilton, Jr. today made the following statement, on House Bill No. 1365.

"I am unalterably opposed to the change which House amendments would make to the suspension and revocation provisions of The Motor Vehicle Code. These have now passed the Senate, and if they ever become law, they will undo most of the work we have accomplished in Highway Safety.

"The particular section of the bill I consider so vicious, is 617.1. This would be added to the Code. Under it, the Secretary of Revenue could issue Limited Licenses to persons whose operating privileges have been revoked, and would be compelled to issue Limited Licenses to persons whose operating privileges have been suspended.

"This simply means that the Secretary of Revenue could put back on the roads to operate business vehicles, without any period of suspension or revocation, persons who have been convicted as drunken drivers; hit and run drivers; dope addicts and felons, including highwaymen, who use motor vehicles to commit their crimes; and even murderers. I don't want this authority, and I don't believe any succeeding Secretary of Revenue will want it.

"In cases of so-called minor infractions such as speeding or reckless driving, the Secretary would be required under the proposed law, to issue limited licenses for business vehicles.

"As an instance, a salesman or any other business or professional man who uses an automobile for business, could constantly fly over Pennsylvania roads at 80 or 90 miles an hour, and while he might be subject to arrest from time to time, the Secretary could not take away his operating privileges so long as his business required the use of a car. That man could continue to be a menace upon our highways and a flagrant violator of the Motor Vehicle Laws.

"We are proud of Pennsylvania's Highway Safety record which shows this State's highway fatality rate to be 13 per cent under that of the Nation. We struggle daily to better it. But we are appalled at what can happen if there is any relaxation of the suspension and revocation laws.

"I am amazed that these provisions should have been put in the Motor Vehicle Bill, and I want to make it clear I am one hundred per cent against such iniquitous legislation."

Mr. President, I wish further briefly to state that ever since I have been a member of this body, if there is any one thing that I have been especially interested in, it has been an endeavor to prevent accidents and deaths on our highways. At two sessions of the Legislature I introduced a highway prevention act and early this session I had a bill prepared which I regret I did not introduce, but I did not, after consulting with the Secretary of Highways, because he assured me that highway safety prevention was one of the things that was uppermost in his mind and that he felt that he was doing a splendid job and was doing everything humanly possible to prevent accidents and deaths on our highways.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE APPOINTED ON SENATE BILL No. 298

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. EALY and Mr. TAYLOR,

That the Senate insist upon its amendments to the foregoing bill, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, and appoint a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (if the House should appoint such a committee) to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Which was agreed to.

Ordered, That Messrs. Mallery, Snowden and Coleman be said committee on the part of the Senate, and that the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I intend to introduce a resolution at this time but first I should like to make a brief statement.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Monroe will proceed.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, during the last two weeks there has come to my attention, through the sportsmen of northwestern Pennsylvania, information that the Lehigh Navigation and Coal Company proposes to lease forty thousand acres of land, mainly in the Poconos of northwestern Pennsylvania, to a club, with the idea of leasing hunting and fishing privileges on these lands and commercialize hunting and fishing to an extent which will practically kill it in the Poconos. I want to protest against this procedure. These lands were originally purchased by the coal company on speculation years ago, with the thought they might contain coal underneath. When there was no coal found they lumbered off the land, and the land was used by the public for hunting and stocked by the Pennsylvania Game and Fish Commission and the citizens of northwestern Pennsylvania were allowed to hunt there.

If this happens it will mean that those lands that have been stocked with game and fish will be closed to the public. Citizens of Philadelphia who know very little about hunting and fishing, but who will be able to buy a membership in this club for twenty-five dollars, will come up from Philadelphia with all kinds of contraptions, perhaps even machine guns, and mow down the game and deplete the rivers and streams of fish.

On account of this, and in protest of this, and in view of the fact that the days of the Legislative session are coming to an end and there is no time for legislation, I present the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I join with my colleague from Monroe, Senator Crowe, in urging immediate adoption of the resolution.

RESOLUTION PROTESTING STOCKING OF STREAMS WITH GAME AND FISH WHICH CANNOT BE USED BY ALL LICENSED HUNTERS

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CROWE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 12, 1941.

The Lehigh Navigation and Coal Company has recently leased approximately forty thousand acres of land in the Pocono Mountains in Carbon, Luzerne and Monroe Counties to an organization known as the Split Rock Club with offices in Philadelphia.

In letters and circulars mailed to many persons in the Commonwealth and adjoining states, officers of the Club are describing the value of the tract as a hunting and fishing haven in order to acquire a large membership.

The Commonwealth has recently stocked lands adjacent to this tract with wild game and has planted fish in the waters of the Lehigh River which flows through the property leased by the Split Rock Club and it is the game and fish provided by the Commonwealth that will make the tract an inviting place to members of the Club.

It is fitting and proper that the Commonwealth should make hunting and fishing more enjoyable for its citizens when they can equally profit from its bounty but the stocking of lands and streams with game and fish which will make adjacent lands a profitable business venture for private interests is against public policy and fair dealing; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby protests against the continuance by the Commonwealth if the stocking of our public lands and streams with game and fish which will benefit only the few who can afford membership in Clubs owning or leasing large tracts of land and that moneys contributed by sportsmen throughout the Commonwealth shall be used only for the replenishing of game and fish for the enjoyment of all licensed hunters and fishermen; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution shall be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Governor, to the Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters, to the Executive Director of the Game Commission and to the Commissioner of Fisheries.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL No. 551

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I am directed by the Committee of Conference to report on House Bill No. 551, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (Appropriation Acts, page 60), entitled, "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the Public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine; and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine," providing for a deficiency in the appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one; providing for payment out of revenues of the fiscal biennial period beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one; and preventing lapsing.

The report will lie over for printing.

RE-REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL No. 561 ADOPTED BY THE SENATE

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I am directed by the Committee of Conference to make a re-report on Senate Bill No. 561, as amended, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 115) entitled "An act to provide for the permanent personal registration of electors in cities of the first class as a condition of their right to vote at elections and primaries and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries prescribing certain procedure for the conduct of elections and primaries and the challenge and proof of qualifications of electors and prescribing the powers and duties of citizens parties bodies of electors and registration commission commissioners registrars inspectors of registration and other appointees of registration commission election officers municipal officers departments and bureaus police officers courts judges prothonotaries sheriffs county commissioners peace officers county treasurers county controllers registrars of vital statistics real estate brokers rental agents certain public service companies persons firms and corporations operating vehicles for moving furniture and household goods and boards of school directors and imposing penalties" as amended by amplfying and changing the powers and duties of the commission its employes and commissioners further regulating and changing the provisions of said act relating to the appointment and removal of registrars and the powers privileges rights and duties of registrars watchers election officers and electors revising and changing the provisions of said act relating to the times places and manner of registering electors and their enrollment as members of political parties change of party enrollment cancellation of registrations preparation and distribution of street lists appeals to the commission and to courts and the procedure thereon providing for appeals by the commission to appellate courts changing certain provisions of said act relating to removal notices providing for the manner of reckoning time imposing additional duties on certain city officers clarifying and coordinating certain provisions of said act and imposing additional penalties.

The report will be printed for the use of the Senate.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT ON HOUSE BILL No. 803

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I am directed by the Committee of Conference to submit the following report on House Bill No. 803, entitled:

An Act to amend section six hundred and forty-three of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 872), entitled "The Penal Code," prohibiting selling, giving away or permitting or employing minors under eighteen to sing, dance, act or exhibit in dance houses, concert saloons, theatres, places of entertainment, tap rooms, clubs, cafes, restaurants or eating houses, where or connected with which, wines or spirituous or malt liquors are sold or given away.

The PRESIDENT. The report will be laid on the table.

CALENDAR

BILLS ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 921, (House Bill No. 892), entitled:

An Act authorizing a commission to study recreational facilities available in first class cities imposing powers and duties on said commission; and making an appropriation.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—44

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	Mallery,	Stiefel,

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 24 ADOPTED

Mr. CELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the Report of the Conference Committee on Senate Bill No. 24.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The report was read as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 24

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering Senate Bill No. 24, entitled:

"An Act defining and prohibiting unfair sales; providing remedies for violations thereof; and establishing penalties therefor."

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

JOHN M. WALKER
J. FRED THOMAS
JOHN H. DENT
(Committee on the Part of the Senate.)

REUBEN E. COHEN
GEORGE J. SARRAF
DAVID P. REESE, JR.
(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act defining and prohibiting unfair sales providing remedies for violations thereof and establishing penalties therefor

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Whereas The practice of selling certain items of merchandise at cost or less than cost in order to attract patronage is generally a form of deceptive advertising and an unfair method of competition in commerce and

Whereas Such practice causes commercial dislocations misleads the consumer works back against the farmer directly burdens and obstructs commerce and diverts business from dealers who maintain a fair price policy and

Whereas Bankruptcies among merchants who fail because of the competition of those who use such methods result in unemployment disruption of leases and nonpayment of taxes and loans and contribute to the inevitable train of undesirable consequences including economic depression now therefore

Section 1 This act shall be known and designated and may be cited as the "Unfair Sales Act"

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise on a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland will state his point of information.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as a matter of information concerning this conference report, is there anything the matter when we find in connection with a report of a committee on the part of the Senate that only two of the three members sign the report? I just want to know whether the minority member had some other ideas.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, he was absent. I did not know the report was presented without his signature, but I understand he concurred. My recollection is when the report was presented for our signatures he concurred.

Mr. DENT. That is all I want to know, Mr. President.

Section 1301 Qualified Electors in Actual Military Service Whenever any of the qualified electors of this Commonwealth shall be in any actual military service and as such absent from their place of residence on the days appointed by law for holding any election within this State or on the days for holding special elections to fill vacancies such electors shall be entitled at such times to exercise the right of suffrage as fully as if they were present at their usual places of election in the manner prescribed in this article and whether at the time of voting such electors shall be within the limits of this State or not

Section 1302 Ballots Ballots for use by electors in actual military service under the provisions of this article shall be prepared sufficiently in advance by the county boards of election and shall be by such boards distributed as hereinafter provided to the electors in actual military service entitled to vote at any election Such ballots shall be in substantially the form prescribed by article ten of this act for ballots to be used at the same elections within this Commonwealth but in cases where there is not time in the opinion of the county boards of elections to print on said ballots the names of the various candidates for district county and local offices the ballots shall contain blank spaces only under the titles of such offices in which the voters may insert the names of the candidates for whom they desire to vote and in such cases the county boards of elections shall furnish to the elector in actual military service a sufficient number of printed lists containing the names of all the candidates who have been regularly nominated under the provisions of this act for the use of the elector in preparing his ballot

Section 1303 Duties of County Boards In the case of any election at which votes are cast by electors in actual military service under the provisions of this article it shall be the duty of each county board of elections to withhold the completion of the computation of the returns of the county until the second Friday after such election within which period all votes cast by electors of the county in actual military service as provided in this article shall be added to and included in its computation of the returns of such election but not afterwards

Section 1304 Manner of Voting by Electors in Actual Military Service Electors mentioned in section one thousand three hundred and one shall have the right to apply not less than thirty (30) days and not more than fifty (50) days before any election for a "military ballot" The application shall be in writing signed by the applicant in his own hand and addresed to the county board of elections of the county wherein the applicant is registered to vote and shall state the county and the city borough or township and the precise ward or election district in or the street and number at which the applicant is registered to vote If the application is for a ballot for a primary election it shall also state the political party in which the applicant is enrolled

Section 1305 Ballots and Envelopes for Electors in Actual Military Service The County boards of elections shall prepare and upon request deliver to the said electors in actual military service a ballot by registered mail with return receipt required in an envelope addressed to each such elector at the address furnished by the elector in his application for a military ballot Such ballots shall be prepared and printed in the same form as the ballots provided for by section one thousand three hundred and two of this act but shall have in addition printed stamped or endorsed thereon the words "Military Ballot" The county boards of elections shall also provide and deliver as aforesaid three envelopes for each military ballot of such size and shape that will permit the placing of one within the other On the first shall be printed stamped or endorsed only the words "Military Ballot" On the second shall be printed the affidavit of the elector together with the jurat of the officer in whose presence the ballot is marked and before whom the affidavit is made such affidavit and jurat to be in form prescribed by the Secretary of the Commonwealth On the third shall be placed the name and address of the county board of elections of the proper county All military ballots and envelopes shall be mailed at least fifteen (15) days before the election involved to the electors requesting them

Each county board of elections shall print and post in a conspicuous public place at its office a list setting forth the name present location the local voting district or ward of every elector to whom a military ballot has been sent This list shall be posted at least ten (10) days before the primary or election involved and shall also set forth the total number of military ballots prepared by the county board of elections Copies of such list shall be furnished upon request to the county chairman of each political party and political body

Section 1306 Voting by Electors in Actual Military Service Any such elector may make application within the time prescribed by section one thousand three hundred and four to the county boards of elections for a "Military Ballot" At any time after receiving such military ballot but on or before the day of the election such elector in actual military service may appear before any commissioned officer of the military or naval forces either within or without the Commonwealth or before any officer of this or any other state or territory of the United States authorized to administer oaths and mark such ballot under the scrutiny of such officer in the following manner The voter shall first display the ballot to such officer as evidence that the same is unmarked and shall then proceed to mark the ballot in the presence of such officer but in such manner that such officer is unable to see how the same is marked and then fold the ballot enclose and securely seal the same in the envelope on which is printed stamped or endorsed "Military Ballot" This envelope shall then be placed in the one on which is printed the affidavit of the elector and the jurat of the officer before whom the elector appears and such envelope sealed in like manner by the elector The elector shall then make out subscribe and swear to the affidavit printed on the face of such envelope and the jurat shall be subscribed by the officer before whom the affidavit was taken Such ballot and envelope shall then be securely sealed in the third envelope which the elector shall send by mail to the county board of elections of the proper county with postage prepaid

Section 1307 Receipt and Counting of Military Ballots The county board of elections upon receipt of such third envelope shall safely keep the same in their office until they meet to canvass the vote of such election under the provisions of this act

At such time the members of the county board of elections may in person dispose of military ballots in the manner hereinafter set forth or they may designate a sufficient number of clerks to perform such duties When it is determined that clerks shall be appointed the total number shall in every case be in multiples of three each member of the county board of elections shall appoint an equal number thereof

Watchers appointed in the manner prescribed by and subject to the restrictions imposed by section four hundred and seventeen of this act insofar as applicable shall be permitted to be present whenever any of the envelopes containing military ballots are opened and whenever any such ballots are counted and recorded

In disposing of military ballots the county board of elections or the clerks designated as aforesaid shall first examine the third envelope and set aside unopened all such envelopes which bear a post mark later than the date of the particular election day involved The envelopes thus set aside shall be retained for a period of one year and then destroyed unopened

They shall then open the third envelopes not thus set aside and after examining the affidavit and jurat shall compare the signature of such absent voter with his signature upon any register or other record in their possession If the county board is satisfied that the signatures correspond that the affidavit and jurat are sufficient and that the voter has been duly registered as provided by law they shall announce the name of the elector and shall give any person present an opportunity to challenge the same in like manner and for the same causes as such elector could have been challenged had he presented himself in his own district to cast his vote If there are no challenges they shall open the second envelope in such manner as not to destroy the affidavit and jurat printed thereon which envelope shall be kept in their office for a period of one year thereafter All envelopes on which are printed stamped or endorsed the words "Military Ballat" and containing the ballots shall be put into one depository at one time and said depository well shaken and the envelopes containing the ballots mixed before any ballot is taken therefrom The county board shall then break the seals of such envelopes and record the said ballots in the same manner as district election officers are required to record votes under the provisions of this act In like manner all military ballots received prior to completion of the computation of the returns of the county shall be counted and recorded and upon completion of the computation of the returns of the county the votes cast upon the military ballots shall then be added to the votes cast within the county city borough incorporated town township ward or election district as designated on each ballot Military ballots shall be safely kept by the county board of elections for a period of one year

(f) The status of any person in military service with respect to residence shall remain the same as it was when such person entered military service Provided however That if at the time of entering military service any person shall not have resided in Pennsylvania or in a particular election district thereof for a sufficient time to have been entitled to be registered but by continued residence would have become so entitled he shall be entitled to be registered at such time as he would have been so entitled had he not entered military service and had continued to reside where he then resided

(g) Registration cards returned by persons in military service to any registration commission shall be examined by a member of the commission or any clerk or registrar at a time and place when personal registrations are being received and such member of the commission clerk or registrar shall announce in the hearing of all present the name of the person in military service who has thus offered to register and the address of his residence on the date of entering military service The right of such person in military service to be registered shall not be subject to challenge for any reason other than failure to have mailed the commission a properly completed registration card If the commission finds the registration card not properly completed it shall reject it in the manner hereinafter provided

Section 4 Section twenty-three of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 23 Incomplete or Rejected Applications to Be Recorded The registrar commissioner or clerk shall record on registration cards the surname Christian name or names and street and number of residence of each person who applies for registration whether or not the application is accepted Whenever the applicant is rejected after a portion of the record has been filled in the registration card or cards shall be marked "Applicant Rejected" and the registrar commissioner or clerk shall note thereon the rejection and shall sign his name thereto The registrar commissioner or clerk shall forthwith personally notify the applicant if his application for registration is rejected Provided however That if the registration card was received by mail from a person in military service notice of rejection shall be by mail All such cards shall be returned to the commission and shall be preserved for a period of two years

Section 5 Subsection (a) of section twenty-nine of the said act as amended by the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 279) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 29 Change of Enrollment of Political Party Cancellation of Party Enrollment Persons Suffering Disability After Registration to Have Fact Recorded Cancellation (a) At any time prior to the thirtieth day next preceding a primary or an election excepting the thirty days next following each election and the five days next following each primary any person who desires to change the enrollment of his political designation or who although registered has not hitherto enrolled as a member of a party may appear before a registrar commissioner or clerk and state in writing over his signature the political party in which he desires to be enrolled and the registrar commissioner or clerk shall cause the enrollment of the elector's political designation to be made or altered accordingly in the general and district registers in such cases the signature of the elector shall be verified by comparison with his signature on the general and district registers before the change of enrollment is made if any elector desiring to change his party enrollment is unable to sign his application he shall make his mark thereto in the presence of the registrar commissioner or clerk and shall produce such other evidence as may be necessary to establish his identity When an elector has applied for a change in the enrollment of his political designation as provided herein the registrar commissioner or clerk shall upon request stamp or mark the change so made on the elector's card attesting his registration Any person in military service who desires to change his party enrollment shall be permitted to do so by addressing to the commission a signed written application under oath taken and subscribed to before any commissioned officer of the military or naval forces either within or without the Commonwealth or before any officer of this or any other state or territory of the United States authorized to administer oaths The application shall be sent by the applicant by registered mail return receipt required and shall also contain a statement that such person is at the time of making the application absent from his residence in military service If upon examination the signature appears authentic and the application conform to the provisions of this section the enrollment shall be changed in accordance with the application

Section 6 Section thirty-one of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 31 Check-up of Registers

(a) At any time prior to the thirtieth day next preceding an election or primary the commission may send by mail to any elector whose name appears in any district register a notice setting forth the elector's name and address as it shall appear in the register and requesting him in case of any error to present the notice on or before the tenth day next ensuing at the office of the commission and secure the correction of the error and warning the elector that any discrepancy between his actual name and address and his name and address as recorded in the original register will constitute ground for challenging his vote Such notice shall contain on the outside a request to the postmaster to return it within five days if it cannot be delivered to the addressee at the address given thereon

(b) At any time prior to the thirtieth day next preceding an election or primary the commission may cause a check-up to be made by postmen of the United States Post Office of any elector whose name appears in any district register

(c) At least once in each four years the commission shall conduct a check-up of each registered elector in the city by either of the methods provided for in subsections (a) and (b) above

(d) Upon the return by the post office of any such notice which it has been unable to deliver at the given address because the addressee cannot be found there or upon report by the post office that any registered elector does not reside at the address given on his registration card the commission shall direct an authorized employe to visit in person the address of the elector and if he shall find that the elector does not reside at the address he shall leave at such address the notice prescribed by section [thirty-one] thirty-two of this act and the commission shall at the expiration of the time specified in such notice cancel the registration of such person unless he personally appears and proves his qualifications as an elector Provided however That the registration of any person in military service shall not be cancelled by reason of the failure of such person to reside at the address appearing upon the district register if such person did reside at such address on the date of entering military service

Section 7 Section thirty-seven of the said act is hereby amended by adding thereto subsection (h) to read as follows

(h) Persons in military service shall be entitled to vote if duly registered in a manner provided by this act Persons in military service and by reason thereof absent from their places of residence on the day of any election shall be entitled to vote in such manner as may now or hereafter be provided by law unaffected by the provisions of this section insofar as they relate to the manner of voting

Section 8 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

NOMINATIONS RETURNED TO EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS COMMITTEE

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I move that the foregoing nominations be returned to the Committee on Executive Nominations for further consideration.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE BILL No. 1303, (HOUSE BILL No. 1727), ON THIRD READING CALLED UP

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 1303, (House Bill No. 1727), on third reading, page 11 of the Calendar.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1303, (House Bill No. 1727), entitled:

An Act providing that proceedings, acts and bonds issued, by Authorities incorporated under the Municipality Authorities Act, as amended and supplemented, shall not be invalid by reason of certain circumstances.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, it is with deep regret I rise to present my last amendments. Last night I said I hoped. Today I leave the hope out. I think these will be the last ones.

Last night two sets of amendments were offered on this bill and both sets were adopted by the Senate. However, the two sets of amendments were conflicting and nothing was done about it by the printer.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO WITHDRAW AMENDMENTS

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to have withdrawn amendments introduced by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, July 11th, which amendments were adopted by the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

It was agreed to.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO WITHDRAW AMENDMENTS

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to have withdrawn amendments introduced by the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, July 11th, which amendments were adopted by the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

It was agreed to.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, what printer's number of the bill shows the amendments just stricken from the bill?

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, for the information of the gentleman from Montgomery, the amendments are not contained in any printer's number of the bill because the two sets of amendments which were adopted were inconsistent and therefore could not be printed.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to present the following amendments to this bill, Printer's Number 1150. After the amendments have been read and adopted I ask that the bill go over in order, without third reading, so that it may be printed and be available for the information of the Senators, after which it can be voted on finally, later on today.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to Amend Title, page 1, line 1 of the title, after the word "that" and before the word "bonds," by taking out the words "proceedings acts and," and inserting after the word "bonds," the following words: "notes and other evidences of indebtedness"; Amend Section 1, page 1, line 1, by taking out after the word "No," the following words: "proceedings heretofore taken and no acts"; and inserting in lieu thereof the following words: "bonds notes or other evidences of indebtedness"; Amend Section 1, page 1, line 2, after the word "heretofore" and before the word "by," by taking out the word "done" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "issued"; Amend Section 1, page 1, between lines 4 and 5, after the word "supplemented" in line 4 and before the word "shall" in line 5, by taking out the following words: "and no bonds heretofore issued by such Authorities"; Amend Section 1, page 1, line 8, after the word "of" and before the word "the," by taking out the following words: "such proceedings the taking of such action or"; Amend Section 1, page 1, line 9, after the word "bonds" and before the word "a," by inserting the following words: "notes or other evidences of indebtedness"; Amend Section 1, page 2, between lines 1 and 2, after the word "such" in line 1, and before the word "bonds" in line 2, by taking out the following words: "proceedings acts or"; and inserting after the word "bonds" in line 2, the following: "notes or other evidences of indebtedness."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1303, (House Bill No. 1727), on third reading, as amended, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, to read the bill as amended by him so that we may have the complete story as told there.

Mr. KEPHART. The bill will now read as follows:

"No bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness heretofore issued by Authorities incorporated under the Municipal Authorities Act approved June 28, 1935, (P. L. 463) as amended and supplemented, shall be invalid by reason of the fact that any member of the Board or any officer of said Authority was at the time of the issuance of such bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness a member or officer of the governing body of the incorporating municipality or municipalities or an officer thereof provided that such bonds notes or other evidences of indebtedness are otherwise valid."

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, have those heavy brackets been restored?

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, my amendment merely consolidates the amendments presented yesterday by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, and also by the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, which, in the form presented were conflicting.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 412, (House Bill No. 656), as follows:

An Act to amend the third paragraph of article seven of the act approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one (P. RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING APPOINTMENT OF SENATE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE RIOTING IN DONALDSON, SCHUYLKILL COUNTY

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I now call up from the table Senate Resolution No. 3, known as the Dent Resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, July 9, 1941.

Whereas, Newspaper dispatches appearing in late newspapers this afternoon and evening carry an account of a civil disturbance in the Town of Donaldson in Schuylkill County; and

Whereas, It is reported that shooting took place between guards of an operating coal company and a number of rioters estimated at between five hundred and fifteen hundred; and

Whereas, It is alleged that this disturbance is serious and far reaching, and one in which many issues are involved, and it appears that a thorough investigation should be made by this Senate; therefore be it

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate name an investigating committee of five members of this Senate to determine the actual and true facts connected with this disturbance, and make a report with appropriate recommendations based upon their findings to the Governor of the Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I believe this resolution was amended.

Mr. DENT. The amendments are agreeable to me as the sponsor.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

RESOLUTION RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 618, (PRINTER'S No. 577), FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. TALLMAN, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 12, 1941.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 618, (Printer's No. 577), entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of the act, approved the sixteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 252, 1933-34), entitled, as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the traffic in malt and brewed beverages, as herein defined; providing for the licensing of the manufacture, transportation, sale and distribution of such beverages; imposing license and permit fees, and providing for collection and distribution thereof; restricting ownership and interest in licensed places; permitting municipalities and townships, by vote of the electors, to prevent the licensing therein of places where such beverages may be sold for consumption on the premises, and regulating elections for this purpose; imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, quarter sessions courts, district attorneys, the Department of Justice, proper authorities of political subdivisions of the State, and election officers; providing penalties; and repealing existing acts," by permitting clubs to waive or reduce dues payable by members in military service.

Mr. THOMAS B. WILSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask permission to address the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Warren, may proceed.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask permission to have a short statement spread upon the Journal.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the request of the gentleman from Warren will be granted.

"Awaiting the signature of Governor Arthur H. James, the Chapman Bill for cancer research and treatment in a state operated sanitarium will undoubtedly soon become a law. Passage of the Bill by the House of Representatives on Saturday has given to the State of Pennsylvania an outstanding place in the field of humanitarianism. According to statistics about one out of nine suffer from cancer in some form and there are few families in which a loved one has not been a victim of the dread disease.

"The bill was introduced in the Pennsylvania Legislature by Dr. LeRoy E. Chapman, of the Warren-Venango Senatorial District. It carried an appropriation of $500,000 and in introducing the measure, Senator Chapman suggested that the Butler Tuberculosis Hospital be used for housing the new sanitarium. The structure was originally built as a tuberculosis hospital but its need has passed and it now stands empty and unused. Dr. Chapman, a life long practicing physician of Warren, realized the need of cancer research and treatment within reach of the poor who suffer from the disease. His idea is to equip the institution with X-Ray deep therapy and also with radium so that treatment by both means can be given to the residents of the State. At the present time such treatment is beyond the reach of the purse of the average citizen.

"It is interesting to note that all members of the Legislature realized the need of this phase of state endeavor to aid its citizens and the passage of the bill was unobstructed in the House and Senate. Democratic leaders gave vital support and Minority Floor Leader, Harry Shapiro, urged that the appropriation be increased from $100,000 to $500,000."

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 1313, (HOUSE BILL No. 1977)

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 1313, (House Bill No. 1977), entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (Appropriation Acts page sixty), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine; and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine," providing for deficiencies in certain appropriations made by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one.

Mr. EALY. This is the deficiency appropriation bill, sponsored by the gentleman from Warren.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 1215

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 1215.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 1215 is a bill which we were carrying on the Calendar for some considerable time as a vehicle by which there could be restored the many cuts which were made in the general appropriation bill. That was by agreement. All of the items, however, that were requested have not been restored in the bill.

Under the provisions of Senate Bill No. 9, it becomes necessary for the Department of Health, through its Bureau of Vital Statistics, to make a considerable addition to their ordinary staff of workers in order not to hold up the national defense program. Because of this program and the great increase in employment there has been a terriffic increase in requests for birth certificates. These birth certificates have not been available at all times and that was the purpose of passing Senate Bill No. 9, which sets forth other methods by which the record of births could be established. They will be handled, however, in the Bureau of Vital Statistics, and in order that the national defense program may not be held back any more than is necessary an increase in the staff will be necessary.

Notwithstanding this fact, Mr. President, the House has not seen fit to place in the supplemental general appropriation bill the amount required by that bureau and by the Department of Health to carry out this work in an efficient manner.

There was also another item which was made necessary because of the final agreement in order to endeavor to end this session, and that was in connection with an item of $33,000, in addition, to the Department of Welfare for the purpose of taking care of the increased work with an increased staff due to the taking over by the state of the twelve mental hospitals.

The House has not seen fit to properly take care of those items but we feel under the circumstances that we can not afford to delay any longer, and for that reason I second the motion of the gentleman from Somerset, Senator Ealy.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred.)

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I dislike to interrupt this roll call. I know that is out of order, but I was otherwise engaged for the moment and I should like to explain that the bill that was amended was amended in accordance with the agreement reached with the Governor.

The bill was amended in accordance with the agreement with the Governor. Every appropriation that had been reduced in the Governor's department by the House was restored and increases were made to those departments in which the Governor reduced the appropriations.

The Governor after that submitted an amendment including the $33,000 requested for the Department of Vital Statistics in connection with contemplated legislation, or legislation in the course of passage. The House refused to go along on the ground it had not been in the agreement, because, if other departments were allowed additional money, the House felt that the departments which had been reduced would also request additional funds.

It is for that reason I maintain our position and I am asking my colleagues to vote "no" on this motion.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, that, it seems to me, is a very poor explanation and no excuse. The fact of the matter is that this work is necessary and was so contended by practically all on both sides at the time of the passage of the bill, to provide for this work in the Bureau of Vital Statistics, in order that the national defense program would not be delayed any more than was necessary.

All of the additional appropriation which was asked for by the Department of Health is in connection with the increased work in the Bureau of Vital Statistics for the purpose of getting out birth certificates for the national defense program. Part of that money was to be used for micro-filming of birth certificate records in that bureau.

The other amount to be appropriated for the Department of Welfare is an amount which is reasonable and is of course necessary, since in the agreement with the Governor the state is taking over the twelve mental hospitals.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE HAS CONCURRED IN THE AMENDMENTS TO SENATE RESOLUTION No. 3

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House has concurred in the amendments to Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, July 9, 1941.

Whereas, Newspaper dispatches appearing in late newspapers this afternoon and evening carry an account of a civil disturbance in the Town of Donaldson in Schuylkill County; and

Whereas, It is reported that shooting took place between guards of an operating coal company and a number of rioters estimated at between five hundred and fifteen hundred; and

Whereas, It is alleged that this disturbance is serious and far reaching, and one in which many issues are involved, and it appears that a thorough investigation should be made by this Senate; therefore be it

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate name an investigating committee of five members of this Senate to determine the actual and true facts connected with this disturbance, and make a report with appropriate recommendations based upon their findings to the Governor of the Commonwealth.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 126

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House has concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, April 16, 1941.

Whereas, Muhlenberg College will hold celebrations during the year 1942 commemorating the two hundredth anniversary of the arrival in the American colonies of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg; and

Whereas, The said Henry Melchior Muhlenberg was the father of General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg, a friend of George Washington and a member of his staff; and

Whereas, The said General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg was born at Trappe, Pennsylvania, October 1, 1746; and

Whereas, In 1775 the said General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg threw off his clerical gown while delivering a sermon at Woodstock, Virginia, disclosing himself dressed in the uniform of an officer of the Continental Army and challenged his congregation with the remark: "There is a time for all things—a time to preach and a time to pray; but there is also a time to fight, and that time has now come," and took leave of his congregation and led his soldiers in the war for our Country's freedom; and

Whereas, The said General John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg was chosen the Vice-President of Pennsylvania in 1785 with Benjamin Franklin as President; and

Whereas, He was elected to the First Congress of the United States and reelected to the second and third, serving from March 4, 1789 to March 3, 1795; and

Whereas, In 1801 he was elected to the United States Senate but resigned before the Congress met to accept President Jefferson's appointment as Supervisor of Revenue for the District of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, There has been introduced in the Senate of the United States by The Honorable James J. Davis, for himself and The Honorable Joseph F. Guffey, a Joint Resolution resolving that the Government and the people of the United States unite with Muhlenberg College in a fitting and appropriate observance of the two hundredth anniversary of the arrival in the American Colonies of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg; and

Whereas, There has been introduced in the House of Representatives of the United States by the Honorable Charles L. Gerlach a Joint Resolution resolving that the Government and the people of the United States unite with Muhlenberg College in a fitting and appropriate observance of the two hundredth anniversary of the arrival in the American colonies of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg; Now therefore be it

Resolved (if the House concur), That the General Assembly memorialize the Congress of the United States to adopt with all possible dispatch S. J. Resolution 40 and H. J. Resolution 128 in the form introduced; and be it further

Resolved, That one copy of this Resolution be forwarded to each of the following:

The President of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Senator Alben W. Barkley, Chairman of the Joint Committee on the Library.

Senator James J. Davis.

Senator Joseph F. Guffey.

Honorable Charles L. Gerlach.

All members of the House delegation from Pennsylvania.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lackawanna will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, the City of Scranton, over a long period of years, has been an incubator of champions in every branch of sport, from the game and play of chess to the sport of kings on netted courts, on baseball fields, midst the swinging and clattering of hockey sticks, on the gridiron and astride the backs of lunging polo ponies, Scranton's sons have shown their technique and prowess all over the nation. Scranton was the birthplace of George Chip, former middle-weight champion and also the home and birthplace of Pete Latzo, who won the welter-weight championship of the world from Mickey Walker. When Latzo won the welter-weight championship of the world, the metropolitan papers carried a story with the headline, "Pete Latzo, Scranton Miner, Wins World's Welter-weight Championship," and perhaps there was an attitude of derision in the reference to the Scranton miner, but Latzo won the championship principally because he was a miner. Scranton is the metropolis of the anthracite region. Mother Nature is rather jealous of her coal, rather jealous of her treasure, and she hugs it close to her breast so that he who takes it away must rip and tear and blast the precious fuel from Mother Earth. This develops a great power of mind and muscle. These men must be mentally alert, they develop a great power of coordination, and this power is reflected in their sons who are now doing a great job in the various fields of athletic endeavor.

I was delighted and very proud, Mr. President, to have a member of the Senate call to my attention a few hours ago that in the City of Wildwood, New Jersey, yesterday afternoon a freckled faced fourteen year old Scranton youngster won the National Marbles Championship of the World, and I would be unpardonably disloyal to a great community, as the Senator from the City of Scranton, if I hesitated to voice in ringing tone my appreciation and the great pride that is in my heart and in the hearts of all Scrantonians, if I did not hesitate, in the midst of this busy session, with plenty of important work remaining unfinished, to express my personal congratulations to Gerald Robinson, the new World's Marbles Champion from the City of Scranton.

Whenever in the organization of the borough government of any newly established borough any person is elected by council to any office for which this act provides a definite term and fixes a definite time for the election of persons thereto the persons so elected shall serve only for such time as intervenes between his election and the next ensuing day fixed by this act for the election of such officer

Section 805 Elections Where Boroughs Created Whenever [in boroughs hereafter incorporated from a township or] in boroughs hereafter formed by the division of a borough or in boroughs hereafter created by the detachment of territory a special election is ordered by the court for the election of borough officers the officers so elected shall hold their office until the first Monday of January next succeeding the municipal election at which such officers are elected as provided in sections eight hundred and ten to eight hundred and fifty inclusive of this article and whenever a borough is incorporated from a township the borough officers shall be elected at the municipal election next succeeding the final decree incorporating such borough and shall enter upon their respective terms of service on the first Monday of January following such election In each of the aforesaid cases the officers elected at the first municipal election following the creation of such borough and thereafter [such officers] shall be so elected that the time of their election and in the case of councilmen and auditors the number to be elected at any municipal election shall coincide with the time and number elected at such municipal elections by boroughs incorporated prior to the passage of this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, on page 6 of the Calendar, appears Senate Bill No. 770, (House Bill No. 1198). This bill failed this afternoon. Unfortunately at the time the roll was called, I was called on the telephone, and I was very much disappointed when I came back to find that the bill had failed of passage.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny inform the Senate which Bill he is discussing.

Mr. COX. I am discussing Senate Bill No. 1122, but my explanation must include the action taken on Senate Bill No. 770, because of the fact that the bills are very similar.

To reiterate, Mr. President, I was very much disappointed when I came back and found that no one had said anything about the bill, and it failed, and I believe it failed because of a misunderstanding, and if the Senate will be patient, I would like to explain the importance of this bill.

Due to a defect in the laws relative to townships, it is impossible for a township to be incorporated into a borough. This bill was introduced to take care of that specific situation. In Allegheny County there is a particular township which has had built in it during the past several years, by the United States Steel Corporation, a plant having an assessed valuation of one million dollars. As a result of the increase in the assessed valuation, that township has been able to build new and better schools, it has been able to install sewers, increasing, of course, tremendously the bonded indebtedness. This particular plant lies just on the very border of the township, and one of the neighboring cities is very anxious to annex that particular section. If that were to happen it would mean a financial catastrophe to the township.

If, as I think out of fairness we ought to do, we were to permit the incorporation of first class townships into boroughs, then the annexation of any part of a borough could not take place until all the people living in the borough had an opportunity of voting whether they wanted any part of it taken from the borough. That is the thing back of this bill and I ask that you vote for it, and then if you do, I shall ask that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 770 failed be reconsidered.

I might say that Senate Bill No. 770 provided for the incorporation of a borough from a first class township, having a population of eight thousand or more, by referendum. This particular bill with which we are now concerned, Senate Bill No. 1122, does the same thing, but it provides for incorporation by filing a peition with the Court.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be so verified.

The Clerk called the names of those voting in the affirmative as follows:

Barr,	Crowe,	Jaspan,	Reed,
Becker,	Deitrick,	Lanius,	Shapiro,
Cavalcante,	DiSilvestro,	Letzler,	Stiefel,
Chapman,	Edmonds,	McCreesh,	Taylor,
Coleman,	Frey,	McGinnis,	Thomas,
Cox,	Haluska,	McQuiddy,	Tyler,
		Mundy,	Watkins,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk called the names of those voting in the negative as follows:

Bartlett,	Geltz,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Crider,	Heyburn,	Miller,	Wade,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Scarlett,	Wilson, H. I.,
Farrell,	Kephart,	Snowden,	Wilson, T. B.,
			Ziesenheim,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The negative roll will stand as verified.

Yeas—26; Nays—17

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26

Barr,	Deitrick,	Letzler,	Shapiro,
Becker,	DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Stiefel,
Cavalcante,	Edmonds,	McGinnis,	Taylor,

Crider,	Homsher,	Scarlett,	Wilson, H. I.,
Ealy,	Kephart,	Snowden,	Wilson, T. B.,
Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,	Ziesenheim,
Geltz,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I want to thank my friends for their action, and I hope some Senator on the other side will be considerate enough, not having voted negatively on the previous bill, to move reconsideration of that vote. I would like to have both these bills passed.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1136, (House Bill No. 353), on third reading, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs for the maintenance and education of children of soldiers sailors marines female field clerks yeomen (female) and nurses who were killed in action or died during the World War and conferring certain duties upon the State Veterans' Commission.

be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I feel in deference to the sponsor of this bill that I ought to make just a brief statement.

I have every reason to believe that the sponsor introduced this bill in good faith. It has been customary at each session to introduce a bill similar to this to cover the biennium. It sets up an appropriation of forty thousand dollars to cover an educational fund for veterans who have died of service connected disability, and the bill which I have asked to be dropped specified the date of between the sixth day of April, 1917, and the second day of July, 1921. In view of the fact that there have not been many dependent children of war veterans able to take advantage of this, due to that date, the four major veterans organizations of the state, namely, the Spanish American War Veterans, the American Legion, the Disabled American War Veterans, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, agreed that the change in the date should be eliminated; this was also the request of the Pennsylvania State Veterans Commission, and two bills were prepared, Senate Bill No. 48 and Senate Bill No. 158. The Pennsylvania Veterans Commission and the Department of Military Affairs felt that Senate Bill No. 158 covered the situation and on that bill, I believe yesterday, the Senate concurred in an amendment inserted by the House, and I have reason to believe that that particular bill is on the Governor's desk for signature.

Now, Mr. President, a forty thousand dollar appropriation has been provided in every biennium, but in the 1939-41 biennium, the sum of $22,942.21 was returned to the State Treasury, due to the fact, as mentioned before, that there were no children or dependent children of World War veterans who had died of service connected disability that were eligible to take advantage of this fund. Senate Bill No. 158 removes the date entirely in the hope that it will broaden the scope, and more dependent children of these veterans can receive the benefit of this educational fund.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1159, (House Bill No. 1570), as follows:

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1245, (House Bill No. 1770), as follows:

An Act to amend the title and to further amend section forty-three of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and one (P. L. 493), entitled "An act providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business or work of plumbing or house drainage and prescribing certain rules regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing house drainage and cesspools in cities of the second class and imposing fines penalties and forfeitures for violation thereof" by permitting the use of enclosed woodwork about sinks in all except tenement-houses and lodging-houses in cities of the second class second class A and third class

Section 1. The title of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and one (P. L. 493), entitled "An act providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business or work of plumbing or house drainage and prescribing certain rules regulations and requirements for the construction or plumbing house drainage and cesspools in cities of the second class and imposing fines penalties and forfeitures for violation thereof" is hereby amended to read as follows

An Act providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business or work of plumbing or house drainage and prescribing certain rules regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing house drainage and cesspools in cities of the second class second class A and third class and imposing fines penalties and forfeiture for violation thereof

Section 2. Section forty-three of said act as extended to cities of the third class by the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine (P. L. 840) and as extended to cities of the second class A by the act approved the fifteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 371) and as last amended by the act approved the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 168) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 43 The closet and all other fixtures except sinks must be set open and free from all enclosing woodwork In tenement-houses and lodging-houses sinks must be entirely open set on iron legs or brackets without any enclosing woodwork Iron enameled water-proof cabinets are permissible under [sinks and] all lavatories and under sinks in tenement-houses and lodging-houses

Any fixture removed from service either to be discarded or replaced with new by any owner must have the inspected approval of the inspection department of plumbing under whose jurisdiction it is/was at time of removal before it can be reinstalled If after inspection it is found to conform with proper standard so as not to create a potential hazard to public or private health it may be labeled numbered and certificate issued for its reinstallation with no other limitations reserved No used plumbing fixture intended for sanitary purposes or any that may be connected to the domestic water system of any dwelling or building can be installed without the inspection approval of the department of plumbing or board or bureau of health

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. President, I feel before I vote on this bill I should make an explanation. I am afraid I would seem inconsistent should I not do so.

This bill not only gives us an opportunity to have a licensed plumber look after our plumbing needs but makes it obligatory. In other words, this law makes it mandatory that when I hire a plumber I hire a licensed plumber. Whether I like it or not he must be a plumber, licensed by the State of Pennsylvania.

This bill in the House of Representatives was on June 3 last referred to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation; was reported out of Committee without amendment on June 11th, just 8 days after it was introduced. This bill passed third reading by the vote of 190-0 on June 17, 1941, just 2 weeks after it was introduced.

One day later it was referred to the Senate Committee on Municipal Government and now just 25 days after it was presented to our body, it is about to pass the Senate finally. Quite a record when compared to two other bills, in which the doctors, hospitals and nurses of this Commonwealth are directly concerned.

These bills were introduced at least two months before the Plumbers' Licensure Bill was introduced in the House. Passed finally in the House on June 17, after being reported out first from the Committee in State Government and second from the Committee on Professional Licensure. These two bills were, when presented to the Senate immediately referred to the Public Health Committee where they repose quietly, serenely, and indefinitely, at the present time.

I am the appointed chairman of this Committee. Dr. Chapman is the active head of this same Committee. Both Dr. Chapman and I soon felt that there were considerable objectionable features to this bill. We didn't see so many, but other people did, so we set about with the aid of the other two doctors of the Senate (Dr. Woodward and Dr. Mundy), and called in practically all the registered nurses of the state, who were giving this bill all the pre-natal care that it was possible to be given by skilled, trained and talented girls of the nursing profession.

We called in for consultation everyone whom we thought would help us to keep this bill alive. Active people in the medical, hospital, and nursing profession, all over the state were asked to help diagnose the cause of the lack of development of this bill. It appeared illy nurtured. It seemed to have marasmus. We thought we found the actual trouble, so we operated. We cut away everything that was visible that might retard the acceptability of this prospect for the new life. We also performed a laporatomy and make histological examinations, removed all pathological tissues and thought we performed a perfect operation. All of us doctors could not find any fault with the operation and unanimously agreed the operation was successful, but unfortunately powers greater than ours had the final say so even though the operation was successful, the Licensed Nurses Bill died. We four doctors of the Senate held a post-mortem and, although we agreed that the patient died of natural idiopathic causes we would like to pass on to the future generations that if we really want passed any good health legislation we keep the bills out of the Senate Committee on Public Health and refer them to a Committee on which the legal profession rather than the medical profession is the predominating influence.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1304, (House Bill No. 1728), as follows:

An Act relating to the compatibility of office of members of the Boards and officers of the Authorities incorporated under the Municipal Authorities Act as amended and supplemented

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Any member of the governing body or any officer of any municipality or municipalities empowered to create Authorities under the Municipality Authorities Act approved June 28, 1935 (P. L. 463) as amended and supplemented heretofore or hereafter appointed may be a member of the Board or governing body or an officer of any Authority so created the said offices shall not be deemed to be incompatible

Section 2 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, this is one of the bills which came from the House a little while ago; during the course of the last two or three days these bills have attracted considerable attention. This bill, House Bill No. 1728, is very short. If the printing I hold in my hand, No. 1151, is the final printing it provides: "Any member of the governing body or any officer of any municipality or municipalities empowered to create Authorities under the Municipality Authorities Act . . . as amended and supplemented heretofore or hereafter appointed may be a member of the Board or governing body or an officer of any Authority so created the said offices shall not be deemed to be incompatible."

I think the bill, Mr. President, embodies an incorrect principle and a dangerous principle, and consequently I am prepared to vote "no" on this subject. Yesterday, when we were discussing amendments to House Bill No. 1703, I referred to a very interesting decision in the case of Commonwealth Ex Rel Robert E. McCreary, District Attorney for the County of Beaver, versus Glenn W. Major, in which an opinion was handed down by Judge Braham, of the Fifty-third Judicial District, specially presiding, on May 12, 1941. I have read that opinion with great care and it has convinced me that there is a serious danger in holding that a member of a local government may vote for himself in some other position and that if that bar is once let down there is much danger that it might result, as time goes on, in a serious breakdown in local administration.

I read yesterday some extracts from this opinion. Today I want to go a little bit further: "The authorities in our jurisdiction bear out this general statement. In Commonwealth versus Douglass. 1 Binney, 77, 84, the right of a prison inspector to hold his office was challenged by a writ of quo warranto on the ground that he had joined with other aldermen and the mayor to appoint himself."

That same opinion is reaffirmed in Commonwealth versus Raudenbush, 249, Pa. 86, where the late Justice Mestrazat a most eminent justice, with a keen sense of equity made this statement:

"We think he was correct in assuming that he could not legally be elected or hold the office of water superintendent while he was a member of the council which elected him. A councilman cannot vote on any contract or measure in which he is pecuniarily interested. This was the rule of the common law and statutes have been enacted in most jurisdictions forbidding such voting. A councilman cannot act for the municipality and at the same time act for himself individually. He cannot serve two masters at the same time. He is a trustee for the municipality and he may not deal with himself in any matter which concerns it. His cestuique trust has the right to his best judgment in everything that appertains to his business or welfare unaffected and unprejudiced by anything which might enure to his own interest as an individual."

Now, Mr. President, we are told that there are 276 councilmen in Pennsylvania who have elected themselves members of these municipal authorities. If so, that is a most regrettable condition. We are also told that some of them took the advice of counsel and were told that the positions were not incompatible. My own feeling is there again that is a matter of great regret. I talked with one gentleman who seemed to me to be a most worthy man, a member of the authority in Bethlehem, in Senator Bartlett's district, and when I asked him where he got that advice, he told me he got it from the advice of the New York bankers who were selling the bonds. I think a member of council who goes to a New York banker direct for the purpose of getting advice as to legal rights in Pennsylvania is going very far away.

It seems that this kind of a measure, declaring those two offices to be compatible positions, will result in a breakdown of morale in public administration in our local government to a most dangerous degree. It seems to me that these men feel they are under no civil obligations by virtue of the fact that the holders of the bonds may sue them for their loss, and it would seem to me if we validate the bonds, we would take away the possibility of a serious civil situation as it affects these councilmen who think we should give all support to the theory that two positions may be held by the same man, when he has selected himself for the other position; that seems to me to be rather a sad proposition and personally I am compelled to vote against it.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I regret I cannot agree with the gentleman from Montgomery. These authorities are something which are rather new in our government. These authorities are merely children of the municipalities, created by the municipalities, and, as the gentleman from Montgomery said, 276 of our councilmen in this state are members of authorities. Over fifty of these authorities have been created, and as I said, they are merely branches of the local government; on the whole these councilmen serve without pay on the authorities.

I disagree with the lower courts. I think two courts have decided these offices are incompatible, and personally I disagree with those decisions and I feel the Supreme Court would disagree with them because this is different from the ordinary situation of incompatibility of office because, as I say, they are merely an extension of the powers of municipalities and merely a method of financing work on projects of municipalities. I feel we ought to now stand by those councilmen, who were advised by counsel in most cases that it is perfectly proper; they ought to be backed up by legislation showing that those offices are not incompatible.

Mr. BARTLETT. Mr. President, it is presumptuous on my part to oppose the wisdom of the learned Senator from Montgomery, but on this question I disagree entirely with him. An authority which is operating or which is about to operate a utility in its community has been established solely because that community had not sufficient individual credit to run the utility on its own. If it had sufficient credit to operate that utility, to buy and operate that utility, the councilmen would be eligible to help operate it, to be managers, and simply by going outside for the money and then saying they cannot act, that seems farfetched.

I also call attention to the fact that an authority bill already passed provided that two members of a council may be members of an authority. If two can be members I see no reason why five can not be members.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT ON HOUSE BILL No. 957

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I desire to offer a report of a Committee of Conference on which the conferees do not agree. I have prepared the report and in that connection I wish to state that the members of the committee appointed on the part of the House have refused to sign the report, but notwithstanding that I shall present the report which has been signed only by the members of the Senate.

In the Senate, July 12, 1941.

We, the undersigned Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives, for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 957, hereby submit our report to the effect that we have failed to agree and respectfully request the discharge of the Committee.

ROBERT M. MILLER,
G. HAROLD WATKINS,
JOHN J. COX,
Committee on the part of the Senate.

REPORT LAID ON TABLE

Mr. SHAPIRO. I move that the report be laid on the table.

Mr. MILLER. I second the motion.

It was agreed to.

SENATE BILL No. 1139, (HOUSE BILL No. 605), ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED CALLED UP

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 1139, (House Bill No. 605), on final passage postponed, page 17 of the Calendar.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1139, (House Bill No. 605), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania State College for expenditure by the School of Mineral Industries thereof under the supervision of the Department of Mines for the purpose of developing new uses and markets for anthracite and bituminous coal.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I desire to make just a brief statement.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Luzerne will proceed.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, this is a bill in which I am personally interested and the citizens of the anthracite and bituminous regions likewise. I have prepared a four and a half page statement concerning the bill, which I am not going to ask to be read, due to the fact that I appreciate we have important work to do.

Therefore, Mr. President, I respectfully ask that this prepared statement be incorporated in the record of this legislative day.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the request of the gentleman from Luzerne will be complied with and the report will be spread upon the Journal.

The report is as follows:

STATEMENT BY SENATOR ROBERT M. MILLER OF LUZERNE COUNTY UPON HOUSE BILL No. 605 AND IN THE SENATE BILL No. 1139 ON THIRD READING IN THE SENATE.

Mr. President, I rise to make several remarks pertaining to House Bill No. 605, and in the Senate Bill No. 1139, proposing to make an appropriation to the Pennsylvania State College for expenditure by the School of Mineral Industries under the supervision of the Department of Mines to carry on the work of the Bureau of Research in the effort to discover by-products of anthracite and bituminous coal, and new uses for such coal, and now called up upon my motion for third reading before this Senate.

This legislation is important not only to my constituency of the anthracite district, and to the constituency of the members of the Senate from the bituminous area, but in fact it is important to the entire welfare of Pennsylvania. Mr. President, on February 17, 1941, on the floor of this Senate, as will appear at page 299 of the Legislative Journal, I introduced Senate Bill No. 196 and at that time I stated inter alia (quote) "Mr. President, in the Session of 1939, I introduced Senate Bill No. 269, which was enacted as Act No. 392 of that Session, creating a Research Bureau at the Pennsylvania State College under the supervision of the Department of Mines, for the purpose of conducting researches to discover a by-product for the use of anthracite and bituminous coal and to develop new scientific, chemical and other uses, for new and extended markets for anthracite and bituminous coal and its products, and making an appropriation therefor. I am happy to report that this Research Bureau has been a success. It has made real progress. It is a pleasure to report that both the anthracite and bituminous coal industries of Pennsylvania have cooperated wholeheartedly in this program and that substantial progress has been made toward the development of new and improved uses for coal. Mr. President, the welfare, the employment, the comfort, and the prosperity of the anthracite area and the bituminous area in Pennsylvania spells the public welfare and prosperity of Pennsylvania. Everything possible should and must be done to assist the future of the anthracite and bituminous districts in Pennsylvania. The welfare of the anthracite and bituminous areas control the general welfare of the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania." (end quote).

Mr. President, I do not retract one inch nor one word which I then said in connection with the introduction of Senate Bill No. 196 of this Session. In fact, I reiterate and reiterate with all the force at my command what I then said. This is much needed legislation. My bill, Senate Bill No. 196, introduced on February 17, passed third reading and final passage of this Senate on April 29, without a dissenting vote—by a vote of 48 to 0. Since that date, Senate Bill No. 196 and in the House Bill No. 1473, has laid dormant in the Democratic controlled House of Representatives. An unusual situation has arisen in the course of passage of this particular legislation. On February 25, 1941, Messrs. Williams and Kenehan, two Democratic Members of the House of Representatives introduced this House Bill No. 605, which is identical in context with my bill, Senate Bill No. 196, with its phraseology only transposed and with only one variation and that is the amount of the appropriation. In fact, this House Bill No. 605 is the dead ringer of section 2 of my Act No. 392 of the 1939 Session originating the Bureau of Research. Although my Bill, Senate Bill No. 196, has been pending in the House of Representatives since May 1, the Democratic controlled House of Representatives has seen fit not to pass my Bill on third reading and final passage but has passed this House Bill No. 605. House Bill No. 605 was reported out by the Committee on Appropriations of the House on May 28, passed first reading in the House on May 29, passed second reading June 2, and passed third reading and final passage in the House of Representatives on June 5.

Mr. President, I am proud of the record of the Bureau of Research under the jurisdiction of State College and under the supervision of the Department of Mines as the result of the enactment of legislation which I originally sponsored in 1939. I have fostered, fathered and guided similar legislation through the present Session of this Legislature in the fervent hope that the fine work already accomplished by this Bureau of Research might be continued and the discovery of a by-product for anthracite and bituminous coal not retarded. I have been in many conferences with the leaders of the industry, with labor, with those in charge of the Bureau of Research at State College, and with the Secretary of Mines of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and his staff, from time to time, not only during the present Session of the Legislature but since the creation of the Bureau in 1939, in order to collaborate, consider and outline the best procedure and policies in the continuation of this excellent work. And Mr. President, I point to the elaborate and extensive Report of the Progress on the Cooperative Research Program on Anthracite and Bituminous Coal at Pennsylvania's School of Mineral Industries and Experiment Station of Pennsylvania State College, under my Act No. 392 of the General Assembly of 1939, spread upon the Legislative Journal of this Session of the Senate at page 405 of the Journal on February 24. Of course, I am proud of such success, and I know that my constituents are proud and interested in the welfare of Pennsylvania.

I resent the action of the Democratic House of Representatives in failing and refusing to report out my Bill No. 196 and in the House Bill No. 1473, and passing it, rather than passing House Bill No. 605 one month and five days after my Bill was referred to the Committee on Appropriations in the House of Representatives on May 1. Furthermore, this was done although I made repeated efforts to have my Bill passed in the House. My efforts and pleading fell upon deaf ears. I feel that I have just reason to resent this action. Be that as it may, I forego my personal feelings and bury my resentment in order that the good that will be accomplished in the enactment into legislation of this Bill might result, and I shall be happy in the thought that it will do the greatest good for the greatest number of the people of this Commonwealth. There should be no distinction as to political party, nor as to labor or capital, when the welfare of this great Commonwealth can be helped.

Mr. President, the discovery of a by-product for new and more efficient uses of coal will greatly rehabilitate our people and constituents. A discovery of such a by-product by the Bureau of Research will automatically become the property of the Commonwealth and will not require the payment of any royalties for the discovery of such by-product in the producing and the use of anthracite coal, bituminious coal and its products for these new uses. In other words, such discovery will belong to the people of this great Commonwealth, and I am against saddling the cost of the production of anthracite or bituminous coal with more royalties, which would be the case if the discovery of a by-product is left to individual efforts. I have been and now advocate a vigorous and forceful attack upon the discovery of a by-product for anthracite and bituminous coal, and that the marvelous work done by the Bureau of Research shall not be discontinued, limited nor retarded. I am in favor of the most vigorous attack possible and urge that this great Commonwealth take the pick and shovel and dig in to accomplish better and greater results in the interest of anthracite and bituminous coal.

Mr. President, I intend to vote in favor of House Bill No. 605 and in this Senate Bill No. 1139, and urge all of my colleagues in this Senate to likewise vote in favor of this Bill as you did unanimously upon my identical Bill, Senate Bill No. 196 on April 29, in order that we might carry on in the endeavor to have science give us a by-product and new uses for our vast natural resources in the form of anthracite and bituminous coal, and in which the welfare and prosperity of Pennsylvania are so completely interwoven.

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am sorry I was in the back of the room trying to work out some details in connection with Senate Bill No. 1139, which provides an appropriation for Pennsylvania State College. I want to be consistent in my position and therefore I ask to be recorded as voting "no".

The PRESIDENT. The vote of the gentleman from Westmoreland will be so recorded.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 11 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 12 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I do not wish to discuss a subject upon which a majority of this Senate is against me, but I call your attention to the fact that on page 10, line 25, this revision of the borough code, there is what seems to me again to be a most conflicting statement concerning incompatibility of offices that may be held by the same man.

"Section 1104. Appointments. Unless there be incompatibility in fact any elective or appointive officer of the borough shall be eligible to serve on any board, commission, bureau, authority or other agency created by or for the borough or any borough office created or authorized by statute and may accept appointments thereunder provided no burgess or councilman shall receive compensation therefor, except in the case of authorities where compensation is allowed or provided for by statute. Where there is no incompatibility in fact and subject to the foregoing provisions as to compensation, appointees of council or appointments made by the burgess with the approval of council or by the corporate authorities or by the corporate officers may hold two or more appointive borough offices but no burgess or member of council may serve as secretary or treasurer and the offices of secretary and treasurer shall not be held by the same person."

When I see a bill that contains this kind of a provision introduced in March and then there is a bill that contains a similar provision introduced much later in the session, it makes me wonder a little bit as to whether or not these provisions have the same origin, but whatever their origin may be, to my mind they are dangerous, and I certainly shall vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I disagree with our colleague from Montgomery. This amendment I do not believe does any harm and I do not like to have his argument or discussion confuse the issue here on the question before the Senate.

This amendment in my judgment was necessary to put this bill in line with the other legislation which has been passed. This simply puts an amendment into the borough code in line with the other legislation in connection with municipal authorites.

This amendment to the borough code is very important and there are necessary features in it, and for that reason I would like to ask my colleagues to vote "aye".

Mr. SHAPIRO. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, was not the gentleman from Montgomery sponsor of a bill which was on our Calendar recently which permitted a member of council to act in authorities, providing the number was limited to one.

Mr. EDMONDS. Limited to two, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That was where there was a joinder of two different authorities.

Mr. EDMONDS. No. Two of the councilmen creating an authority might serve on the authority by the terms of Senate Bill No. 783.

Mr. SHAPIRO. How could that be possible, Mr. President, in view of the provision to which the gentleman from Montgomery has referred? In other words, if we are going to permit councilmen to participate, whether it be one or two, to sit on municipal authorities which might be created by boroughs, how are we going to do that if we do not in our borough code permit that to be done?

Mr. EDMONDS. I think the question is very much broader than the mere question of authorities, although it includes authorities. It is broad enough to refer to any borough officers excepting the offices of secretary and treasurer, which may not be confined in the same person. I think the idea of representatiion on an authority may be used under statutory limitations, as was done in Senate Bill No. 783, but to throw the door wide open is in my opinion poor legislation.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1030, (House Bill No. 931), as follows:

An Act to further amend section six of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2603) entitled "An act relating to vocational education creating vocational school districts for the purpose of conducting systems of vocational schools departments or classes providing for their government prescribing their powers and duties conferring powers and imposing duties on school districts and on the State Board of Vocational Education and providing for referendum in certain cases" fixing the rate of the annual tax levy on real estate and authorizing the computation and entry for collection purposes in tax duplicates of the county of the taxes due to vocational school districts and the separate accounting and return thereof and making further provisions with reference to the bond of tax collectors

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Section six of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2603) entitled "An act relating to vocational education creating vocational school districts for the purpose of conducting systems of vocational schools departments or classes providing for their government prescribing their powers and duties conferring powers and imposing duties on school districts and on the State Board for Vocational Education and providing for referendum in certain cases" as amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 800) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 6 The board of directors of vocational schools of each vocational school district shall have power if and when necessary to levy an annual tax [on all property within the district taxable for such school purposes on the assessed valuation used for county tax purposes] not more than three mills on the dollar of the total assessment of all real property assessed and certified for taxation in the territory constituting the district. Said taxes shall be levied and assessed due and payable at the same time and in the same manner as [school] county taxes are levied and assessed and due and payable [in the respective school districts] and the same shall be included in the [school] county tax item on the tax notice as rendered The boards of directors shall prepare duplicates of such taxes and provide for the collection of such taxes by issuing warrants to the respective collectors of taxes in each city borough incorporated town and township within the districts. The compensation for the collection of such taxes shall be fixed by the board of directors. In the collection of such taxes the respective tax collectors shall have all the powers of collectors of county taxes. If any collector of taxes shall refuse or neglect to collect such district taxes or for fifteen days after notice so to do neglect or refuse to furnish a bond as herein provided the board of directors shall have power to appoint a tax collector for such district. Each tax collector shall give [a separate] bond annually to the Commonwealth for the use of said district in such amount as the board of directors may fix. Such bond may cover the collection of vocational school district taxes only or may cover the collection of such taxes and the taxes of other political subdivisions that are collected by the same tax collector. The same discounts for prompt payment and the same penalties for delinquency shall apply to such taxes as in the case of county taxes and exonerations of district taxes may be allowed by the directors thereof in the same manner as other taxes are now exonerated. Delinquent taxes of the district may be collected by return and county treasurer's sale thereon or by lien filed in the office of the prothonotary in the same manner as county taxes.

In order to enable the board of directors of vocational schools to assess and levy the annual tax hereby authorized the said board is hereby authorized to enter into suitable arrangements with the county commissioners whereby the taxes due to the vocational school district shall be computed and entered for collection purposes in separate columns in the county tax duplicates The various tax collectors shall make separate accounting and returns covering the taxes due the vocational school districts

The Commonwealth shall reimburse the vocational school districts herein established in the same manner and to the same extent as is provided by existing law for salaries of teachers transportation and tuition of pupils and any other reimbursement to which school districts are now or shall hereafter be entitled. Provided That any vocational school district [consisting of all the school districts that are under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent] shall be reimbursed to an amount which when added to all other items of reimbursement from the Commonwealth as provided by law shall total eighty per centum (80%) of the sum expended for approved salaries and travel of the teaching supervisory and administrative staffs for the transportation and tuition of pupils during the previous year and any other reimbursements to which school districts are now or shall hereafter be entitled.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

SENATE BILL No. 1165, (HOUSE BILL No. 1678), ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE CALLED UP

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 1165, (House Bill No. 1678), on third reading, page 8 of the Calendar.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 1165, (HOUSE BILL No. 1678)

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 1165, (House Bill No. 1678), entitled:

An Act to further amend section one thousand one hunhundred thirty-three of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by removing certain limitations of the appointment of district superintendents.

was defeated July 12, 1941.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I voted "nay".

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, I voted "nay", with the majority.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. COX. Mr. President, we have in Pennsylvania one of the finest educational systems in the world. I am proud to say Pennsylvania was one of the first of these United States to provide a free system of education, and I am glad to say that we have in Pennsylvania a fine Department of Education.

Early in the history of education in Pennsylvania, secondary education was an uncommon thing. Many of the teachers in our public schools in those days were people who had graduated from the eighth grade and then they started to teach. In those days there were few urban communities; most of Pennsylvania was rural and for that reason our educational setup was made to conform with geographic and population conditions.

We have in Pennsylvania a system of county superintendents of schools and county board of school directors. Prior to 1939 if a school district, having answered the other qualifications of the law, decided that it wanted to change its supervising principal to a superintendency, it could do so by merely the vote of the board of school directors. In 1939, due to some circumstances or some unexplainable reason, this age old bill was amended so that not only was it necessary for the school directors of a particular district to vote to change, but it became necessary to have the approval of the county board of school directors. There was a time, as I have stated, that the system of county superintendents was necessary all over the state, but in the more populous districts as they have increased their population, the office of county superintendent of schools has become less and less necessary. I understand from Senators in some rural districts, with whom I have talked, in their districts the office of county superintendent is still a very necessary one. This particular bill is a home rule bill. I can not find, and I have tried to be sincere, one single argument for this act having been amended in 1939. I can not see, when the people of a community elect a board of school directors and place the responsibility in that board for determining the future of that school system, why it was necessary, if they wanted to elect a district superintendent, to have the consent of the county board of education.

I have stated in the early history of education in Pennsylvania that people lacked an opportunity for secondary education, but that is not the case today, and if we were to examine the requirements for service as a teacher in the schools of Pennsylvania, in order to be a supervising principal or superintendent, you would find they are very high. Today, to be superintendent of schools, you must have had long experience and a proper educational background, and by electing a superintendent of schools it means that particular school district deals directly with the State Department of Education.

Mr. President, I sincerely hope that the Senators will vote to reconsider the vote by which this bill failed.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred.)

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be so verified.

The Clerk called the names of those voting in the affirmative as follows:

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	Mallery,	Shapiro,
Cavalcante,	Frey,	McCreesh,	Stevenson,
Coleman,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Cox,	Homsher,	McQuiddy,	Tyler,
Deitrick,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Wilson, H. I.,
Dent,	Lanius,	Reed,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk called the names of those voting in the negative as follows:

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Letzler,	Thomas,
Becker,	Farrell,	Miller,	Wade,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Scarlett,	Watkins,
Crider,	Heyburn,	Snowden,	Wilson, T. B.,
Crowe,	James,	Taylor,	Ziesenheim,
Ealy,	Kephart,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none.

The negative roll will stand as verified.

Yeas—23; Nays—22.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. COLEMAN and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Barr,	DiSilvestro,	Mallery,	Shapiro,
Cavalcante,	Frey,	McCreesh,	Stevenson,
Coleman,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
Cox,	Homsher,	McQuiddy,	Tyler,
Deitrick,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Wilson, H. I.,
Dent,	Lanius,	Reed,

NAYS—22

Bartlett,	Edmonds,	Letzler,	Thomas,
Becker,	Farrell,	Miller,	Wade,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Scarlett,	Watkins,
Crider,	Heyburn,	Snowden,	Wilson, T. B.,
Crowe,	James,	Taylor,	Ziesenheim,
Ealy,	Kephart,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1165, (House Bill No. 1678), on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Report.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in connection with Senate Bill No. 561, I feel it is my duty to state that this is a step forward in improving the situation which exists in Philadelphia in connection with registration.

This bill is the result of ample consideration on the part of Senator Farrell and Mr. Rosenfeld of the House of Representatives. It does not bring the millenium to Philadelphia, but it has been tested in the crucible of experience, and I believe it is an improvement which will inure to the benefit of the people of Philadelphia.

Mr. President, I feel before we vote on this bill I want to pay my homage and gratitude to Senator Farrell and Mr. Rosenfeld for the work they have done in connection with this bill.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the report?

SENATE BILL No. 1165, (HOUSE BILL No. 1678), ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE CALLED UP

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 1165, (House Bill No. 1678), on third reading and final passage, which went over in its order, on page 8 of the Calendar.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1165, (House Bill No. 1678), as follows:

An Act to further amend section one thousand one hundred thirty-three of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by removing certain limitations of the appointment of district superintendents

Section 1 Section one thousand one hundred thirty-three of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended by the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine (P. L. 491) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1133 The board of school directors in every school district of the first and second class shall and in every district of the third class may by a majority vote of all the members thereof elect a properly qualified person as district superintendent together with such properly qualified assistant district superintendents as it deems wise The directors of any school district required or electing to have a district superintendent of schools shall not participate in the election of a county superintendent and the public schools of any district which has a district superintendent shall not be subject to the superintendence or supervision of a county or an assistant county superintendent but shall all be under the supervision of the district superintendent

[After the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and forty the board of school directors of any school district not employing a district superintendent at the effective date of this act shall before creating the office of district superintendent obtain the approval of the county board of school directors]

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

SENATE BILL No. 1303, (HOUSE BILL No. 1727), ON FINAL PASSAGE CALLED UP

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 1303, (House Bill No. 1727), on final passage.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1303, (House Bill No. 1727), entitled:

An Act providing that bonds notes and other evidences of indebtedness issued by Authorities incorporated under the Municipality Authorities Act as amended and supplemented shall not be invalid by reason of certain circumstances.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, this is the bill which was amended last night by both the gentleman from Lackawanna and myself which amendments proved inconsistent; the bill also was amended by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, earlier today.

Mr. EDMONDS. I think before this bill is voted on I ought to advise my colleagues of the fact that Senate Bill No. 783, which was a bill regulating municipal authorities, was defeated in the House tonight by an overwhelming vote; I think it was 117 to 18 or something like that. That means that certainly there is no regulatory legislation coming out of this session. The only thing that has happened is a white-wash bill on the compatibility proposition, and now this validating act on the bonds.

Personally I am going to vote for this validating bill. As I stated in the Senate last night, and I am stating it again with a great deal of clearness, to my mind these bonds are held by innocent third parties who have invested their money in them and they should be satisfied as to the legality of the bonds, and for that reason I am voting for it.

I wish to express my great disappointment in the fact that legislation which the people of the state had a right to expect has not resulted from this session, and I want to go even further than that and express my very keen regret that my feeling earlier in the evening, that there was possibly a smell about some of these transactions which would return to haunt the members of the General Assembly, has been justified so soon.

With that, Mr. President, I say farewell to this subject for this session.

Mr. MALLERY. I want to state, Mr. President, that several days ago, I think it was Tuesday morning—at what might not have seemed an early hour to the party that called me, but in view of the fact that I had been in bed for only a few hours, it seemed an usually early hour to me—my classmate in law school, Attorney James Rankin, called me relative to this bill and the companion bill, House Bill No. 1728. After discussing it at some little length, I told him a number of Senators with whom I had discussed the matter in the Senate, on both sides, considered that we should at least not do anything to invalidate the securities purchased by innocent holders and that we thought the bill was in proper shape. I told him I intended to vote for the bill and when I explained the bill to him, he told me he thought it would be a proper bill.

In making this explanation, Mr. President, of my vote upon bills that we have voted upon heretofore, I think I had better explain my vote or my action on another bill which was of great interest and had a great deal of consideration in this Senate, and that was the bill to set up a new charter for the great City of Philadelphia. One of the reasons I opposed that bill in its original form was that anyone who had experience in the government of Philadelphia, was prohibited from being a member of the commission that would determine the City Commission.

I feel that what we want to do is to obtain people who have special knowledge and information about matters that are to be done. This Senate voted for and approved a bill that would permit two members of a council to sit upon an authority board, and as my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart well stated, if two are properly permitted to sit upon that board I see no reason why three four or five should not be permitted to sit upon a board.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I was not on the floor when House Bill No. 1728 was before the Senate, because we were engaged in conference with the House Conferees, but I have been advised as the co-sponsor of Senate Bill No. 783 that it has been defeated in the House.

Mr. President, I had every intention in the world of trying to clear up this municipal authority situation to the best of my ability, and while I was suspicious of what might be contained in House Bills Nos. 1727 and 1728, I was determined to go along with them in the hope that with these three bills we would be able to work out some common meeting ground on municipal authorities.

There have been various quotations in the newspapers about these three bills, about the stormy course the bills had in the House, but most of the reports were conjecture and surmise on the part of those who were interested and on the part of those reporting the matters for the newspapers, and many of the conclusions arrived at were predicated or crystalized by newspaper opinions.

Mr. President, I am firmly of the opinion that the dynamic action taken by the House on the municipal authority bill, which was sponsored by the gentleman from Montgomery and myself, certainly bears out the conclusions that were arrived at, through that crystalization of conclusions by the newspaper reports and that there must be something wrong when they would deliberately sabotage that bill as soon as they discovered that House Bill No. 1728 was passed by the Senate.

Mr. President, I am sorry I am not recorded as having voted on that bill, because that precludes me from making a motion to reconsider the vote by which that bill passed the Senate. I want to say, Mr. President, I was firmly determined to vote for House Bill No. 1727 as well as House Bill No. 1728. It may be that House Bill No. 1727 is a good bill, and it may be that it will do no harm to the people of Pennsylvania and it may be that it will do some good; it may be that validating those bonds will be a good thing, but I am going to vote against my better judgment, I am going to vote my suspicion, I am going to vote against this bill, because I am firmly convinced the attitude of those manipulators in the House conclusively bears out the repeated warnings we have heard here on the floor of this Senate.

In a recent legislative day—my inability to remember whether we are still on Friday or Saturday prevents me from specifically naming the day—I made a speech here on the floor of the Senate in which I pointed out to the members of this body what would happen to Senate No. 783. At that time I warned the Senate it had been hopelessly pickled in committee. By coincidence, shortly after that speech, the bill came out of committee and it came out, as I understand it, as committed, and then it was amended on the floor of the House and the amendments were terrific. The only things that were left in the bill that the gentleman from Montgomery and I could recognize were the names of the sponsors and the number of the bill; they had ripped out everything else, a deliberate sabotaging of the bill.

When that was objected to, and when newspaper reports called the attention of those in power in the House to the vulnerable position in which they had placed themselves, they immediately back tracked and proceeded to put Senate Bill No. 783 back in a condition where it could be recognized by those who had voted for it in the Senate, and the bill got up to third reading and stayed there until House Bill Nos. 1727 and 1728 were acted upon by the Senate.

I do not know whether somebody tipped them off that House Bill No. 1727 had been passed by the Senate, but somebody must have told them that House Bill No. 1728 was passed by the Senate.

Immediately, Mr. President, that bill was defeated by an overwhelming majority, common legislative sabotage, and I say on suspicion and in spite of all the arguments, I presented in our Caucus in favor of this bill, I want to say here and now to my colleagues I am going to play my hunch and vote against House Bill No. 1727, even though I was of the opinion it was good legislation. I am not going to be a contributor to the things going on with regard to these municipal authorities. If I only for a moment had the power of the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth I certanly would take care of House Bill No. 1728 when it came before me.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, earlier in the session I introduced a bill very similar to the bill which was defeated in the House of Representatives tonight. I will admit definitely that in all my work on that bill, with certain persons who were learned in public utility law, and certain attorney friends of mine, I did it in all sincereity, but I think I may have been carried off just a little bit by what happened in the Chester County Authority. In other words it probably was just slightly political.

This bill Senator Walker is weeping so much about that was defeated in the House tonight was just about the same bill that I introduced into this Senate I think in February of this year.

We cannot, after a lot of study, find there is anything wrong with those municipal authorities, that need so much correction by the Senate and the House of Representatives, as Mr. Walker thinks.

I remember Senator McGinnis' speech here earlier in the year about the pure-eyed reformers. In any authority and in any government now and then there will be something arise where someone may make a mistake and sometimes people call them political mistakes and sometimes they are called wrong. But what I am trying to do here is to say that I think we are making a great story out of something in which there really is nothing seriously wrong in the municipal authorities within the state.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I feel I should correct the statement made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, when he said a bill which he introduced was the same or similar to the bill introduced by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, and the gentleman from Montgomery, Senator Edmonds. I certainly think there was no similarity betwen the two bills when they were introduced and there was a great deal of difference between them when the bills finally passed. I personally felt that this was a matter which should have been given more consideration than the members of the Senate were able to give to this important matter, but we did give our time and attention to this important matter, and the bill that was finally voted upon in this Senate was in my consideration a very good bill.

As Senator Edmonds, one of the sponsors of the bill stated, it was not a perfect bill, there were some few minor matters which were considered in the belief that the House would take care of them. I believe that the defects which a great many members of the Senate stated that they hoped would be corrected at an early session of the Senate are provided for in the bill.

On the other hand, getting back to the bill that we have under consideration, first I want to state that I consider Senate Bill No. 783 the best approach to a solution of this problem that has been suggested or proposed by this Legislature. I want to state that in my opinion I think the courts which have ruled upon incompatibility have decided correctly under existing laws, but as I understand the problem it is within the province of this Legislature to change the laws at any time it sees fit.

Mr. President, I see no wrong in the passage of the bill now before the Senate, and I want to point out that if any member of a borough council commits a violation of any of the criminal laws or any of the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, he can be duly punished and will be subject naturally to the criminal laws of the State of Pennsylvania.

Furthermore, Mr. President, by reason of the fact that in Senate Bill No. 783 we permit two members of a council to serve upon the board of an authority, as my colleague from Northampton, Senator Bartlett, so well expressed it tonight, I can see no reason why it would be criminal for three or four members to sit upon that board. I think a great alarm has been caused in the Legislature because of something that has happened some place here in the state, and we are forgetting about what might be the right thing to do.

I think I will be perfectly right in voting for this bill.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have observed in this state that the utilities of this state have always had a way of getting along with the Public Utility Commission, whether that commission was Democratic or Republican, and in the past—in the distant past—there have been some scandalous things that have happened through the Public Utility Commission.

I know they have the best lawyers in this state, I know they have the slickest, the slyest lobbyists, and I was greatly suspicious when I found out that the Public Utility Commission was trying to lay its hands on the authorities of this state. We have kept them out of the municipalities in this state—the Public Utility Commission has been kept out of the municipalities of this state—and as I see it, the authorities are nothing but creditors of municipalities, projects which the municipalities would have built themselves if they had the money, and this is merely another way of raising the money.

Mr. President, I am not so worried about Chester. Many things bad have happened down there in Delaware County before the authority was ever heard of. I am sure whatever happened down there did not happen because somebody was a member of a council and a member of an authority. That alone is not a crime, but if a crime were committed down there the courts have these crimes in their hands now, and I think that is sufficient.

I feel that Senate Bill No. 783 was a scheme of the utilities, through the Public Utility Commission, to keep its stranglehold on the consumers of Pennsylvania. There was not a word in that act to protect the consumer, not a single word, but merely to protect some of the utilities that might want to sell their properties to an authority. If they were so much concerned about the people of Pennsylvania in that act, that act would have provided something about the Public Utility Commission protecting the consumers of the product of those authorities, and therefore I am mighty glad Bill No. 783 was killed. I can not conceive that 276 councilmen in the State of Pennsylvania committed a crime or did anything wrong when they became members of municipal authorities. I cannot conceive that fifty-three of these authorities we have throughout Pennsylvania have been guilty of criminal acts.

If something happened down in Chester it happened there before we had any authorities, and I am sure that simply because a man happens to be a councilman and a member of an authority that there is no crime about that, if he is an honest man, and if he is a crook, whether he is a member of an authority or not, something wrong will happen; therefore I do not think there should be so much excitement on account of something wrong happening down in Chester.

There are fifty-three other authorities that I have not heard anything wrong about as yet, and I think that is a pretty good average. I feel that is a fairly good average in the ordinary dealings of human beings—if one authority went wrong, why condemn them all.

Mr. COX. Mr. President, last evening the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, who is sincerely interested in this question of what to do with the municipal authorities, was very angry because of what happened in the House, and castigated the members on this side for their failure to support this bill. I know since then he has recalled the fact that there were members on this side who voted for this bill. I was one of those members. I personally am deeply interested in this question and I felt that in many aspects this bill was very excellent, and I also felt that this was a solution to the problem we hoped to solve.

In the first place, Mr. President, it seems to me that it is the wrong thing to set up a municipal authority which is not accountable to the people in the district which it serves. For that reason, I personally feel there should be representatives of the local municipality, which the particular authority serves, on that authority. I feel, that there should be some board which would have the right of determining whether the price to be paid for an existing utility was a fair price. For that reason I felt that the only existing board in Pennsylvania, that had the facilities to make an investigation, the Public Utility Commission, was the right place to put that power. I felt, just as we would do in private industry that, at the end of any business year there should be a very careful audit made of the business of the utility, and this bill did that, it provided for auditors and certified public accountants to make an examination of the books of the authority. I felt that when an authority was financed and its bonds were sold, that there should be an investigation as to whether or not the proper legalities required by the laws of this state had been complied with, and the bill does that, because it gives the Department of Internal Affairs the right to examine financial transactions, just as we do in a municipality when a municipality sells bonds.

I personally am very sorry the House has killed this bill because that is what it amounts to. It seems to me the question of authorities transcends politics; it has no business in or relationship whatever to politics. We set these authorities up, they are a huge creation, and it seems to me we would have done a better job in this General Assembly had we found some arrangement to put them within the ordinary municipal law.

Mr. President, as to House Bill No. 1727, the bill under consideration, my colleague from Allegheny, Senator Walker, voiced on this bill great suspicion, but he has not been able to point out in the bill anything which would arouse that suspicion.

I personally feel this way, the authorities being in existence, they have to be financed, and innocent people purchase the bonds, and anyone who knows anything about people who purchase bonds of municipalities realize they are in small estates, where the income is limited.

In this particular bill, House Bill No. 1727, we validate any financial transaction, that is, the issuance of any bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness, and those bonds have been sold; it only applies to things which have been done in the past, and I see no reason why innocent persons should be penalized.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—31

Barr,	Edmonds,	Letzler,	Stevenson,
Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stiefel,

Coleman,	Heyburn,	Shapiro,	Walker,
Ealy,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

SENATE BILL No. 1327, (HOUSE BILL No. 1952), ON FINAL PASSAGE CALLED UP

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I now call up Senate Bill No. 1327, (House Bill No. 1952), on third reading and final passage.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1327, (House Bill No. 1952), entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act, approved the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 717), entitled "An act fixing the number, compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the General Assembly, and providing for their election or appointment, term of office, and manner of filling vacancies," by providing for the appointment, compensation and duties of clerks and pages to the majority and minority floor leaders, respectively, of the Senate and of the House of Representatives, and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as folows, viz:

YEAS—48

Barr,	Ealy,	Letzler,	Stiefel,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 1044

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I am directed by the Committee of Conference to make a report on Senate Bill No. 1044, entitled:

An Act to further amend section eleven and section seventeen of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858), entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system, and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof; establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes; defining the uses and purposes thereof, and the manner of payments therefrom, and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds; imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve; excepting annuities, allowances, returns, benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process; and providing penalties" by permitting a member to borrow from his or her funds under certain provisions and regulating exemption from execution.

The PRESIDENT. The report will lie over for printing.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE APPOINTED ON SENATE BILL No. 559

The PRESIDENT. The President Pro Tempore appoints Messrs. Homsher, James and Cox, to be a committee on the part of the Senate, to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (if the House shall appoint such a committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RECESS

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, we are about to take a recess, but before doing so we are going to ask all members of conference committees who have not completed their work or filed their reports, to report back in the Senate Chamber at ten o'clock, eastern standard time, to resume their deliberations.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, did I understand the gentleman from Allegheny to say that the members of the conference committees are to report here at ten o'clock.

Mr. GELTZ. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. The gentleman from Allegheny did not state what day.

Mr. GELTZ. Today, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the record shows that the Senate did convene at one o'clock p. m., July 12th. Would it now be possible and constitutional to convene again at ten o'clock the same day?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, we are not convening again. We are taking a recess, and we are coming back after a recess on the same legislative day.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I understand we are coming back at ten o'clock on July 13th, whereby we convened on July 12th at one o'clock p. m., and now we are recessing until July 12th at ten o'clock a. m.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, that seems to be one of the strange things in the world. The legislative clock seems to work differently than some other clocks.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria will state his point of order.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny stated that the conference committees were to report at ten o'clock a. m., not giving any date.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, it may be that my colleague from Cambria misunderstood my motion. My motion was that we recess for fifteen minutes, and he certainly is welcome to be back here in fifteen minutes.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the other day our colleagues were quoting from the Bible in their discussions. Permit me to remind them of one small paragraph which states that on the Sabbath, the seventh day, God ended his work which He had made and He rested on the seventh day from all His work which He had made.

Mr. President, yesterday I offered a resolution, anticipating some trouble. Now the Majority Floor Leader thinks it is possible to do in one day what you have failed to do in six months. I think that my colleagues ought to bow their heads in shame that after six and one-half months in this chamber, we must come back on the Sabbath and work throughout the entire day. It is inhuman, it is sickening, and I am certain we will get no credit from anyone if we do that. What we should do is that we should adjourn until twelve o'clock Sunday night, adjourn this session, reconvene at 12:01 o'clock tomorrow night and come back like men, physically and mentally fit, and finish this session.

Therefore, Mr. President, I now move that we do now adjourn until 12:01 a. m.

The PRESIDENT. There is a motion before the Senate. Therefore the motion of the gentleman from Cambria is out of order.

The question is on the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, seconded by the gentleman from Luzerne. Mr. Miller, that the Senate recess for fifteen minutes.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. REED. Mr. President, this is the Sabbath Day. I belong to that old fashioned group of people in Pennsylvania that believe laws should not be made on this Holy Day. The greatest laws ever given to mankind the commandments, provide that we should remember the Sabbath Day and keep it holy; "six days thou shall labor and do all thy work."

Therefore, sincerely believing in those precepts, I ask leave of absence at this time.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, leave of absence is granted to the gentleman from Washington.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask permission to address the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, may proceed.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, on several occasions in the past, during this session, I have stressed the fact that the tax system of Pennsylvania is archaic and needs a complete revamping. For that reason, together with the Senator from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, we sponsored a resolution whereby the work of the Dent Industrial Tax Study Commissions will be continued. I understand that today this resolution, after passing the Senate, to use the expression of Senator Bartlett, is peacefully resting in the House.

Mr. President, I want to stress the fact that I shall be very fervent in my efforts in the future to call the attention of the people of Pennsylvania to this archaic tax system and the need of improved methods of taxation in Pennsylvania and I hope in the future it will be possible to do something towards solving this problem.

RECESS

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for thirty minutes.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

DESIGNATION JUNE TWENTY-FIRST AS "YOUTH'S DAY"

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the House of Representatives, July 12, 1941.

Be it Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Governor shall, at an appropriate time, issue his proclamation designating and calling upon the schools, the Boy Scouts of America, other organizations devoted to promoting the interests and welfare of youth and the citizens of the Commonwealth in general to observe the birthday of Daniel Carter Beard, the great benefactor of boyhood, which is the twenty-first day of June.

This day shall be known as "Youth's Day," and shall be observed on the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and forty-two, the twenty-first falling on a Sunday.

In pursuance of said proclamation of the Governor, appropriate exercises observing the anniversary of Daniel Beard's birth, reaffirming the principles so long advocated by him and furthering the interests and welfare of youth in general shall be held.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate concur in the Resolution.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE REPORT ADOPTED ON SENATE BILL No. 46

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the Report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 46, (Printer's No. 622).

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The report was read as follows:

L. 252, 1933-34), entitled, as amended "An act to regulate and restrain the traffic in malt and brewed beverages, as herein defined; providing for the licensing of the manufacture, transportation, sale and distribution of such beverages; imposing license and permit fees, and providing for collection and distribution thereof; restricting ownership and interest in licensed places; permitting municipalities and townships, by vote of the electors, to prevent the licensing therein of places where such beverages may be sold for consumption on the premises, and regulating elections for this purpose; imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, quarter sessions courts, district attorneys, the Department of Justice, proper authorities of political subdivisions of the State, and election officers; providing penalties; and repealing existing acts," by permitting clubs to waive or reduce dues payable by members in military service.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?
